

The Daily Evening Visitor

VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1893.

NO. 104

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

A genuine August day.
The city is unusually quiet in all respects.
Our parks are daily growing in popularity.
The Richmond excursionists are expected to return tonight.
The festive drummer is about the only man who is not taken back by the stringency of the times.
Scuppernong grapes in market, and watermelons getting rather slim.
Lots of people in attendance on the races this afternoon and the sport is fine.

We hear it rumored that some important movements in journalism are in contemplation in this city.
The railroad officials declare that business has never been better with them at this season than now.
The Commissioner of Agriculture says that the crops in the Raleigh section are the most promising in the State.

Don't forget the lawn party on postoffice lawn this evening. The brass band will be on hand to enliven the occasion with music.

We have received the September number of Fetter's Southern Magazine one of the most popular monthlies in the south, published at Louisville, Ky. It is elegantly illustrated and full of choice literature. The price is only $2.50 per annum, 25 cts. a single copy.

The Atlanta through train is fast gaining in popularity. It is a great convenience to the public. The idea that a person could go to Richmond Va., from Raleigh in the morning, remain to transact several hours business and get back to supper never entered the heads of our people ten years ago.

Now that Secretary Ayer has returned from Chicago we hope he has gotten all the plans and specifications for a genuine "Midway Plaisance" at our State Fair. We know that if he puts his head down to it in earnest, it will be a success. We might substitute some Cherokee Indians for Arabs if there is any lack of material in that line.

There are no very important criminal cases docketed for the next Superior court, Judge Brown paid Wake county a very handsome compliment for the decrease of crime in our midst. He said he did not exactly know whether to attribute it to the efficiency of our officials, or the improved morals of our people. He was inclined to think however, that both had something to do with it.

A writer for the press calls attention to the fact that James O'Neil, Louis Jones, Roland Reed, Milton Nobles, Thomas Keene, Fred Ward, Robert Mantil, John Drew, Clara Morris, Fanny Davenport, Frank Mays, W H Crane and Stuart Robson are all graduated from the old time stock companies and asks pointedly whether any theatrical astronomer has yet discovered their successors on the dramatic. Milton Nobles will appear at the new Academy of Music Wednesday 30th inst. Our people will have an opportunity of showing their appreciation for a star of the first magnitude.

"Black Bess" astonished the juveniles and the grown folks too at the races yesterday by her astonishing feats. She certainly possesses good, hard horse sense.

Just Received.
