RALEIGH, MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1893.

NO. 106

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

The wind blew hard today, and don't you forget it.

There will be many novelties at our state fair. The Indians will be on hand again.

Local news was hard to get hold of today. Impossible to get out on account of the wind and rain. Umbrellas were at a discount.

The box sheet for "The Phoenix" was issued at MacRae's drugstore this morning at 9 o'clock. Call "after breakfast" and get your ticket.

Supt McMaekin still looks after the roads with a watchful eye. The thoroughfares in this township were never in a better condition than now.

Owing to the inclement weather the entertainment at Brookside park tonight will be postponed until Thursday night and an enjoyable time may be expected at that time.

The effects of the hurricane were felt here last night and this morning only to a small extent. Yesterday signals were sent out by the government to be on the lookout all along the coast.

Remember the ladies mission. There are many suffering poor in our city who need help. Send provisions clothing &c. to the mission, corner of Morgan and Wilmington streets. They will be very acceptable and properly distributed.

There is a reason why a business that has been built up by advertising cannot afford to stop or change its tactics. The class of trade that has been secured is the kind that is influenced by advertising, and he who would hold it must continue using the same means.

A white man named Rooke was killed on the "Y," near East Durham, Saturday, by the Clarksville passenger train. We learn that yesterday morning, near the same place, another man was killed. We could not find out the particulars, or whether he was white or black.

Henry M Stanley contributes to McClure's for September one of the remarkable stories he collected in Africa. In an interesting introduction Mr Stanley tells how this and other folk tales were related by the natives about the camp fire at night during his journeys in Africa.

The storm today has been one of the severest we have had in Raleigh for several years. Trees and fences were blown down and other damage was done. We fear that much destruction on the seacoast to the shipping has been done. We learn that telegraph lines are all down on the southern coast.

Mrs Justice's school for girls and boys will begin Monday, Sept 4, 1893, at her residence, 228 N McDowell st.

Important to You.

Mattocks, the leading photographer, guarantees satisfaction. He is not ashamed to put his name on all work done by him. Beware of agents who sell tickets for work of this kind. People are often deceived and defrauded. If you want a first class picture, go direct to Mattocks' gallery, Fayetteville street. Cabinets $3 per dozen. Don't take up your time with agents who know nothing at all about photography. a26 6t
