

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1893.

NO. 107

New Paper.

Mr F S Starrette, who left Durham for Hillsboro a few months since, has now removed to Chapel Hill where he will soon commence the publication of a weekly paper. This will be a valuable contribution to Chapel Hill.

The President's Message

Correspondence of the Visitor.

We need not be surprised that yesterday was such a blustery day as Mr Jack Adams was nominated President on the Fifth party ticket, and I am to be secretary, is why it is fair today.

W H LYON JR.,
Lyon Racket Store.

Saved Her.

The Greensboro Record says that policeman Jordan and conductor Blair, of that city saved an old lady's life a few days since. It seems an old gentleman and his wife came up from Raleigh intending to go to Winston. When the north bound train came in, instead of asking for information, they boarded it. Just as the train was about to move off they discovered their mistake and jumped off. The old gentleman fell but was caught by a man on the platform, but his wife fell by the side of the track. Jordan and Blair caught her and pulled her away from the wheels, escaping with only a few bruises.

The names of the parties are not given.

A social gathering will be given by Raleigh Council No 1 Junior Order United Mechanics at Brookside park next Thursday night. There will be good music and other amusements.

TUCKERS.
