RALEIGH, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1893.

NO. 117

NOTICE TO COTTON FARMERS.

Bring in Your Cotton, Get Your Money and Go Home Happy.

The Raleigh Cotton Exchange has adopted the following:

Whereas, The general stringency existing in the country has created the impression that there will be difficulty throughout the cotton belt in paying currency for cotton; and

Whereas, Raleigh is able and willing to take care of any cotton that may find a market here; therefore, be it

Resolved, That public notice be made through the press of the city that our cotton dealers are ready to buy all the cotton offering and the banks will see that currency for the payment of same will be provided.

E. B. BARBER, Pres't.

GEO. W. THOMPSON, Jr. Sec'y.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Maggie Brown, wife of Mr. Ed S. Brown, is quite sick.

Col. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, is in the city.

S. W. Huff, Esq., Superintendent of the Raleigh Street Railway, returned to the city today.

Mr. Walter Woolcott returned to day from the northern markets where he has purchased a good solid line of goods for the fall trade.

We learn that Mr. John W. Evans is some better today.

Messrs. R. S. Tucker and R. H. Battle returned to the city today from a trip to the western part of the state.

Miss Carrie Alexander, of Scotland Neck, is visiting Mrs. A. J. Jones, on west Jones street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crocker returned yesterday afternoon from a trip to the northern cities.

We are pleased to note that Mr. J. C. Bevers who has been sick with typhoid fever, is fast recovering.

Alabama.

"In Alabama," which will be presented at Metropolitan Hall next Wednesday evening, Sept. 13th, Mr. Augustus Thomas has told a simple story of the south. He has left the beaten path. The clash of arms, the pageant of war have no place in his work; they are here only as an echo; seen but by reflection. He presents a study of southern life and character which is altogether charming. He has given the stage a genuine novelty and a gem, free from even a trace of the sensational the north a vivid picture of that south which the north has rarely known, and the south an unvarnished picture of itself, which will do for it what history is powerless to do. The company that will interpret "Alabama" has been selected with great care and is said to be perfect.

The Centennial.

We very briefly alluded in our issue of yesterday to a neatly gotten up volume compiled by Capt. O. B. Denison, at the request of the board of managers of the Raleigh centennial celebration.

The book contains a splendid sketch of the early history of Raleigh coming down to 1893. It also contains the centennial address delivered by K. P. Battle, professor of history in the university of North Carolina, and a full account of the centennial celebration in November, 1893. It is full of interesting information concerning our early history and will be found most valuable as a reference in the future.

Bicycle Race Meet.

We are going to have some great sport here on the 23d in the shape of bicycle races. These races as everybody knows are the most exciting of all and it will be a day long to be remembered by the lovers of the sport. Entries are coming in from every part of the State and we are to have the fastest races ever held in the state.
