VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1893.

NO. 123

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

The compass will soon be heard again.

Mr Ed Engelhard is still confined at home with sickness.

The market is much slimmer today than usual on Saturday.

Currency is getting more plentiful in all the banks of the state.

Lookout for "Uncle Hiram" next week at the Academy of Music.

The dairy maid's drill was such a success last night that there is talk of repeating it.

Sheriff Vannoy, of Wilkes county, brought three prisoners to the penitentiary yesterday afternoon.

Boys' races next week. These with "Uncle Hiram" and "Cupid's Capers" will give us a lively time.

The work of preparation continues to go on at the fair grounds. Everything will be in splendid order by the fair.

Beautiful bills are posted for "Cupid's Capers" and "Uncle Hiram." There will be fun and a plenty of it next week.

A special from Washington City to the Richmond Dispatch says there will be no doubt of the confirmation of Messrs Simmons and Elias.

A farmer told us today, that the hot sunshine was doing wonders for the cotton. Everything all comes right in the end. Let us stop grumbling.

The attendance at the graded schools this session will be largely increased. The necessity for another building will soon be so apparent that it cannot be overlooked.

At least $10,000 should be raised for the confederate monument by the time the next legislature meets. This would be an incentive to increase the state appropriation.

The appointment of Mr Josephus Daniels as chief clerk in the interior department is very gratifying to his friends in this city and elsewhere throughout North Carolina.

All the doctors agree that the health of the city is firstrate for the season of the year. No epidemic disease of any kind. The case of scarlet fever on the western suburbs is in a fair way of recovery.

When the contemplated improvements at the insane asylum are finished there will doubtless be room for a largely increased number of patients. This will be cheering news to hundreds of unfortunates now unprovided for in the different counties of the state.

It is very rare now that any application is made for the payment of the back taxes allowed by congress. There will evidently be a large amount of the appropriation left over. The next steps should be the refunding of the cotton tax levied during the war. It would only be a simple act of justice.

Indications are that the fight for postmastership of Raleigh is on. We notice that Mr W C Stronach is on the ground and is being pressed by Mr Bunn. Senator Vance is expected to return to Washington tomorrow. We suppose of course the claims of our friends Messrs A M Powell and O M Busbee will be pushed. No telling how the cat will hop.

Fresh lot mocking bird food received today; 35c a box. Woolcott & Sons.

Gentlemen's Furnishings.
New lines of gentlemen's furnishings for fall season '93. Choice assortments of neckwear dress shirts of every description, intermediate weight underwear, collars, handkerchiefs, half hose, gloves and shoes. Fall shapes of Dunlap's now ready. W H & R S Tucker & Co.

Be Prompt.

It is necessary, both for the benefit of the children and the convenience of the schools that pupils should be prompt to enter the graded schools at the commencement of the session. Unless they do this, it will be out of the question for teachers to do thorough work. Parents and guardians should look after this matter.

The Weather.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity.

On Sunday and Monday: Fair weather considerably cooler, N to N W winds.

Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 a m today:

Maximum temperature, 86; minimum temperature 71; rainfall 0.0.

Not a Rifle.

We took the rounds this morning in search of something to while away the dull times in the way of news, but it was as great a failure as perhaps usually falls to the lot of a news gatherer. At the capitol a death like stillness prevails among heads of departments and their subordinates, and when asked to contribute something to the general fund of information for the public, the reply comes, "nothing but the usual routine." At the mayor's office there is nothing to depart from the general run. The city is almost absolutely quiet, with scarcely a "drunk and down" to vary the monotony. At the court house, the same stillness prevails. All the officials seem, like "Wilkins Micawber" to be waiting for something to turn up. The librarian is as usual in a deep study wondering where he can store and safely keep the thousands of relics which he is anxiously waiting to be sent into the Antiquity society. It really seems, under the circumstances, that the city reporter must resort to his imagination to cater to the public taste for gossip. There is nothing serious to talk about. We have called lustily for a report from the station house committee, but they have failed to hear us so far. We have made all sorts of enquiries about the extension of Morgan street, but deafness in that direction still prevails. We have hinted that perhaps the exigencies of the times demand another graded school building, but nobody seconds the motion. We have scattered in all directions, but an awful lethargy seems to pervade the public mind. Perhaps the repeal of the Sherman act will lift the veil. May it soon take place, so that general confidence may spur us up and lead to action.

Several more students arrived today for the agricultural and mechanical college. The institution will be crowded to its utmost capacity.

Northwest winds tomorrow and much cooler. That is what the weather folks say. It will make a great relief.

The grass in Moore square needs cutting. There is enough to go far towards feeding the city horses.
