

The Daily Evening Visitor

VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1893.

NO.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

Equinox.
Sun crossing the line.
Equal day and night.
Thieves are plying their vocation frequently in Durham.

State Auditor Furman, who has been quite sick, is much better.

There are now about 3,000 licensed distilleries of fruit in North Carolina. The usual chrysanthemum show will be held in this city next month. Several more good dramatic companies are looming up in the future.

A considerable crowd from a distance are here to attend the bicycle races.

New goods just rolling in and the fall trade has set in with much earnestness.

The rain this morning came in good time to cool the atmosphere and lay the dust.

Cotton receipts today were about 250 bales. Prices advanced about one eighth.

Work has commenced again on the African Methodist church on Harrington street.

The many friends of Bishop Lyman will be pleased to know that his health is improving.

Cases from the first judicial district will be taken up in the Supreme court next Tuesday.

Pamlico, the trotting stallion has taken Chicago by storm, winning a purse of $2,000 in 2:13 1/2.

There are thirteen pay students at the agricultural and mechanical college from Wake county.

The trains were generally behind today. The train from the west being over two hours late.

Plasterers are at work putting the finishing touches on the annex to the state agricultural building.

The rain this morning put the track at the grounds just in good condition for the bicycle races.

Judge Walter Clark has discovered in Washington City the list of North Carolina privates in the revolutionary war.

The confederate camp recently organized at Burlington will be known as 'Camp Ruffin,' in honor of the late Judge Ruffin.

There will be a meeting of the pension board in this city in a few days for the purpose of passing upon a few late applications.

Bennett's income from the New York Herald is put down as $750,000 per annum. A southern editor would run wild over that money.

Supreme court will meet on Monday next. Today and tomorrow will be devoted to the examination of applicants for license to practice law.

A few more students came in this morning to the agricultural and mechanical college. New arrivals are also reported for the female institutions.

A well known business man "on change," told us today he was certain cotton would reach ten cents by December 1. He based it on the short crop.

Col Julian Carr has obligated himself to have Walnut Grove M E church of Campbell circuit, painted. Jule Carr is also doing some such kind of act.

A department of military instruction would be a most valuable adjunct to the Agricultural and Mechanical college. We hope to hear of its establishment at no late day.

The old saying that "politics" sometimes makes strange bedfellows seems to come in just now. It is asserted that Senator Vance and Representative Settle are working together for the defeat of the coalition of Kope Elias.

Railroad Commission.
The efficient secretary of the railroad commission, Mr. Brown, is now busily engaged in the preparation of the report for the past year. It will occupy several weeks and will be an interesting document as much business has been transacted. It will show a very large addition to the taxable property of the state.

Personal Mention.
Judge A C Avery has returned to the city.

Private Secretary Telfair has gone to the world's fair.

Mrs W H Pace has returned to the city from Asheville.

Justice James E Shepherd, of the Supreme Court, is in the city.

Gov and Mrs Holt are in the city the guests of Mrs A W Haywood.

Mr Merritt, of the North Carolinians, has gone to the world's fair.

Mrs Alice Howard, of Tarboro, is visiting Mrs E R Stamps, on Oakwood avenue.

The following law students from Trinity college are here to obtain license to practice. They are I E Avery, Fred A Green, J O Linney, Ad Morgan, Chas E Turner, Tom Daniels, J F Musselwhite.

An Affecting Scene.
The celebration of the Jewish festival, the day of atonement, was marked by quite an affecting scene in Richmond, Va. It seems that a prominent member of one of the synagogues of that city had lately sued for a divorce from his wife. On the day of atonement, however, both appeared in the synagogue perfectly reconciled through the intercession of friends and are now a happy couple. In accordance with ancient Hebrew custom during the ten days penitence intervening between Rosh Hoshannah and Yom Kippur, they are required to forget and forgive all grievances that they may have against their fellow men during the past year. This is most commendable in all respects.

Weather Synopsis.
The following is the synopsis as furnished by the weather report today: The centre of an area of low pressure which was over Minnesota yesterday morning, is found over the eastern lake region this morning, while the area of high pressure which was central over the District of Columbia, is now central over the South Atlantic states. These conditions produce rain in the lake region, and in the southern states fair weather with warm southerly winds. There is another low area over Kansas and a second high in the northwest is accomplished by much cooler weather.

W B Mann will receive nice tenderloin sausage today.

Receiving.
We are busy today receiving new goods. Dozens of cases of new goods. All bargains will be opened up and put in stock in the next day or two. Swindell.

No. They Can't.
