The Happenings of a Day Throughout the World.

Employees on all railroads entering Chicago are to be armed.

Col G E Webb has been elected mayor of Winston.

The locomotive firemen on the Big Four (Indiana) railroad will not strike as was expected.

Charles Becker is on trial at Petersburg, Va, charged with bigamy. Four women call him husband.

A negro has been arrested at Anderson, S C, for wrecking trains on the Air Line road. He has confessed and implicated three other negroes.

A passenger train on the Mobile and New Orleans railroad ran into an open switch at Gulf Port, Miss, early yesterday morning killing three negro tramps. Seven persons were seriously wounded.

There are 150,000 children attending the schools in New York city, and there are 400 more of school age who cannot attend, because there is not room enough in the schools.

A lady dropped dead on the Ferris wheel at the World's Fair a few days ago. She didn't want to ride on it but was persuaded by her husband. When about half way up she became so excited that she dropped dead. She was a sufferer from heart disease.

Miss Ah Fong, the Chinese girl from Honolulu, who is to marry Commander Whiting, of the U S navy, has arrived with her mother at San Francisco, where the wedding will take place. Some people may think a Chinese wife no great shakes, but here's a Chinese mother in law, too, for Whiting. He must be a brave tar.

The State of Pennsylvania has an excellent law upon its statute books to protect newspaper men from being imposed upon by fraudulent characters of those disposed to play practical jokes. Recently the reporter of the Scranton Times was made the victim of misinformation, and induced to publish an account of an elopement involving innocent parties. The reporter turned the tables, however, upon the disseminator of false news by prosecuting him for misdemeanor. The law under which the prosecution was conducted is as follows:

That any person who willfully states, delivers or transmits by any means whatever, to the manager, editor, or reporter of any newspaper, magazine publication, periodical or serial, for publication therein, any libelous statement concerning any person or corporation and thereby secure the actual publication of the same, is hereby declared guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed $500, to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years or either or both at the discretion of the court.

Every reporter and newspaper publisher throughout the country, we are of opinion, will pronounce the law a good one.

William Perran, of Cincinnati, got in the soup in Boston by attempting to surreptitiously take a kiss from the lady with whom he boarded while she was preparing dinner. He surprised her and she reciprocated the surprise by planting a dipper of boiling soup square in his face. He does not see any fun in it now as he has lost the sight of one eye and may lose the other.

Texas siftings: A few evenings ago a little boy was busily engaged at his lessons. His father, one of the leading citizens of Harlem, had gone to the lodge, and his mother was busy sewing. The little boy looked up and asked: "Mamma, what does the word 'pretext' mean?" "When your father says he has to go to the lodge two or three times a week, that is a 'pretext' to get away from his family." The boy did not say anything, but the next day, when he read it out to the whole school, his definition of 'pretext' created a sensation.

Yueh Lee, a boss laundryman in New York, is in trouble, the victim of a double misplaced confidence. He married a white woman and had a friend, Chu Foon, who was running a laundry in Jersey City. Chu came to New York about once a week, and Yueh invited him to his house to make the acquaintance of his wife. They became so well acquainted that Yueh went home one day and found his wife had skipped with Chu over into Jersey. And then he soliloquized thus: "Me bigee foolee mally Mellican gal. Him go Jelly citee, mally dam Chu Foon. Me no likee no mo." He now wants a Mellican divorce.

PEANUTS AND COTTON.

It is learned from a gentleman from Sussex, says the Petersburg (Va) Index. Appled that not more than half a crop of peanuts will be made in that county, and that in some sections of the county the farmers are digging up their peas and turning the hogs in the fields to feed upon them. It also learned that in the same county the cotton crop is shorter than it has been for five years, no blooms having matured after the 15th of August.

WANTS $5,000 FOR NOT SLEEPING.

Suit was filed in the United States Circuit Court at Galveston, Texas, by ex-Collector of Customs N W Cuney, against the Pullman Palace Car Company, of Illinois, for damages in the sum of $5,000. Cuney is a negro. September 25 of last year, Cuney applied to agent Nichols for a section in the sleeper. The agent refused to sell him a section, and he was compelled to stand up during the trip to Houston.

YOUNG GIRLS IN TIGHTS.

An indignant mother who saw her 16 year old daughter clad in gorgeous tights, practicing a somersault, has notified the police of Reading of a peculiar state of things. She says not only her daughter but a number of other girls of that age have been engaged to form a theatrical combination. These damsels, it appears meet for rehearsals in barns and are under the instruction of a couple of men. They intend to make a tour of the small towns of the state. All wear tights, it seems, and this one girl's mamma was shocked at her appearance. The police are looking for the men who are training the tender maidens to feel at home in the skirtless costume.

KILLD BY A SHOCK.

Nelson Kuney, aged 93 years, went out driving with his sweetheart, Miss Mead Brainard, in Adrain, Mich. Without warning Kuney drew a revolver and pointed it at her. He pulled the trigger, but the cartridge did not explode. She threw the lap robe over his hand, and, although the horse was on a run, jumped out of the buggy. Kuney also jumped out and dragged the girl back into the buggy, and again attempted to use the revolver. A passer by interfered and the girl again broke away. Then Kuney placed the revolver to his own head and fired. He died almost instantly. After the shooting Miss Brainard passed a restless night. Early the next morning she was seized with a sinking spell, and before help could reach her she died. There is no doubt her death was the result of fright.

HOW IS THIS?

Something unique even in these days of mammoth premium offers, is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price; and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months; one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel, by mail, post paid, every week for forty-two weeks, and in addition you get the magazine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors in the coming series are, Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackeray and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine, one year. Your first copy of the magazine, and your first number of the fifty two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P O Order, registered letter or express. Address
