VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, TUESDAY, OCTOMBER 10. 1893.

NO. 143

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

Fair one week off from today. "Our Zeb," "Our Mat"—which is it? Indian summer in all its grandeur. Our county jail is now about cleared out.

Saw dust is smelt in the distance. The circus is coming.

Over 850 students have been enrolled at the Greensboro Industrial school.

Thus far $1,500 in cash has been collected for the State Confederate monument.

The news from all directions is that the people are coming to the fair in large numbers.

The large clothing firm of Messrs W A Slater & Co, of Durham, has made an assignment.

Volume 112, of the N C Supreme court reports is now ready for delivery at A Williams & Co.

Tomorrow the great fight commences in the senate. We must hold our breath in expectation.

Let every member of the chamber of commerce be on hand tonight. It will be a most important meeting.

Persons having claims against the Bank of New Hanover must prove them within 3 months from October.

A light rain between now and the opening of the fair would be quite beneficial. The dust is getting disagreeable.

When will the necessary work be done on Hillsboro street and road to the fair grounds? It should be done this week.

Work is progressing well at the power house of the electric street railway. Everything will be in good trim for next week.

State Geologist Holmes proposes to devote the winter to the investigation of the pine forests in the eastern section of the state.

We insist that the next show folks who come here shall sing "After the Ball." The tune does not seem to have reached here, so far.

The great horse and dog show will open on the vacant lot in rear of the agricultural department next Monday. Let the boys look out for fun.

The street car company are in want of reliable men for next week. Persons wishing employment would do well to apply at the power house.

Judge George A Shuford will open Wayne county court on next Monday and return to Raleigh to hold our civil term of Wake Superior Court on Oct 23d.

A meeting of the bar will be held tomorrow afternoon at the office of the clerk of the superior court for the purpose of setting a calendar for the October term of the court.

The many improvements made in the Yarbboro house are evidences of the fitness of Mr Louis T Brown as its proprietor. Nothing has been left undone to make it a first class hotel.

The schedule of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad has been changed so that passengers leaving Raleigh at 4:30 p.m., arrive in Fayetteville at 7:20 and Wilmington at 11 p.m.

Prof Gentry and his wonderful dogs will be here next Monday and give several performances. The exhibition will be given in a tent on Halifax street in rear of agricultural building. The admission will be 20 cents for adults, 10 cents for children.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Lyon Racket Store. This establishment is offering some of the best bargains of the season. The fall and winter stock is now well in hand consisting of everything in their line. A glance at the goods in store will be sufficient to induce purchasers. Call at once.

She Wears the Pants.

As the people of Oberlin and Brooklyn were returning home last night they witnessed a most unusual scene. A man, bleeding from many cuts about the shoulder, lay on the side of the road and his wife stood over him applying the lash. The groans and pleadings of the poor fellow, who was drunk, were heartrending and brought down the condemnation of the people; but the woman seemed to be totally oblivious of any one's presence save her and "Simon." All she would say was "Sime! Sime! take that, and that, you triflin' wretch," as she laid on the whip. When at last the bystanders interfered and made the lady explain her conduct.

"Well," said she, "he ought to be killed. I give him seven dollars this morning—my week's wages—and told him to go to D T Swindell's store and buy me some of them carpet remnants, one and a quarter yards long, all wool, at 39 cents each, and some of those one yard long, all wool, at 34 cents each, and he did not go but spent my money and got drunk."

And the old lady flew on to Simon again and the crowd cheered her and left Simon to get sober under the lash. Next time Simon will go to Swindell's when told to.

"Morrel"—Keep in the middle of the road, go to Swindell's, and you will always stay on top.
