

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXIX.

RALEIGH, MONDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1893.

NO. 147

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

The tax list is now ready.
The great st fair of the season is at hand.

The rain has given the town a complete washout.

Judge Whitaker has left to attend Yaddin court.

Academy of Music in Chick next Thursday night.

The great trotting race will take place at the fairground on Thursday.

Don't forget to call on Messrs Thomas & Maxwell for everything in the furniture line.

See advertisement of Mr J O S Lumsden who has a very interesting announcement in this issue.

The road from the city to the fair grounds through the old Deverux plantation is now complete.

Senator Vance is expected on the fast mail this afternoon. He will speak at the fair grounds tomorrow.

Read the advertisement of Messrs Snelling & Hicks in this issue. There is no better establishment of the kind in North Carolina.

"Cyclone John" wants any person who has a wild untrained horse, or mule or steer to bring him to town. He agrees to tame them in the shortest kind of order.

The entertainment that was to be held at Brooklyn by the Steadfast Circle of King's Daughters last Friday night was postponed until next Tuesday night, Oct 17th. Everybody come and help in this noble work. Admission 10, 15 and 20c.

Strangers visiting the city should not forget to call on the Rosenthal Clothing Company opposite the post office. Here everything in their line can be found in abundance at the most reasonable rates. Mr "Dave" Rosenthal will preside. He will take pleasure in showing all around who call.

Prof. Davie postpones the big dog show until 12:30 instead of 10:30 as advertised. Let every boy who has a dog present himself at the west gate of the fair grounds promptly at 12:30, join the procession and then see the Wild West show. All boys with dogs pass in free.

The big road roller in rear of the court house attracts much attention. The owners must have conceived the idea that placed where it has been for a day or two past, our county commissioners would be bound to see it and be aware of the necessity of purchasing just such a machine for Mr McMackin to make good roads in Wake county.

Our people are somewhat slow in coming up and paying their taxes. There are several of the heaviest tax payers who reside in Raleigh to whom it makes no particular difference just when they pay, and if such would come up right now and make payment it would, in a great manner help the county authorities in meeting incidental expenses without the necessity of borrowing money. It would at least save to the county the outlay of interest which must always be paid.

We cheerfully give space to a communication in this issue, commenting upon our course in relation to the aldermen's conduct of our city affairs. This of course, any citizen has a right to do. We cannot all see through the same spectacles. We think, however, that our correspondent missed his aim when he estimates that THE VISITOR has attempted to abuse or drive any member of the board of aldermen. We have only indulged in a fair criticism of their course in certain matters, which as journalists, we are expected to do, and while we are glad to believe meets with the endorsement of most of our people.
