The Two Orphans.

To night at Metropolitan Hall will be presented that touching, emotional drama "The Two Orphans" by the John Reddin Company which will hold the boards for four nights, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th, with a change of programme each night. This company is composed of ladies and gentlemen, each an artist in his or her character, and while it is expected that an unusually large crowd will be in the city, Mr. Reddin tells us he will not put up his prices but will give our people and our visitors the advantage of the usual prices, 25, 50 and 75 cents. Reserved seats may be had at MacRae's drug store and avoid the rush at the box office at the hall.

America's Youngest Representative Comedian.

Wilfred Clarke comes from an illustrious parentage, being a son of John S'eeper Clarke, the eminent American comedian, and Asia Booth Clarke, the sister of the late lamented Edwin Booth. Mr. Clarke commenced his career as a sailor in the English Mercantile Marine. He has traveled extensively, having visited Australia, Egypt, New Zealand, India and Europe. In 1885 he was fourth officer of the good ship "Iberia" that carried the first Australian contingent to the Sudan war, numbering 500 men, during the course of which fell Kharoun and with it perished that heroic man, "Chinese Gordon," who so nobly defended that city against the forces of El Mahdi. His early life was spent at the college of "Notre Dame de Salve Croix," in Paris, where he was present during the finale of the great siege 1870. Subsequently he became the student at "Dulwich College," England, which, by the way, was founded by Edward Ailme, the original "Duke" in "Othello," Shakespeare himself playing the part of "Brabantio." His first appearance on the stage was made in September, 1835, at the Strand Theatre, London. In '89 he came to the States, appearing as the "First Gravedigger" at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia. In the course of eight years, Mr. Clarke has played nearly 500 parts, 200 of which were original with him. He has a right to expect laurels on the American stage by the right of hereditary grace, as he greatly resembles his distinguished father, and possesses in a marked degree the magnetic force of the Booth blood. He is untiring in his industry, full of ambition and alert on wiring, as his father did, the highest honors of real comedy in early life. The wit and humor of his characters he embodies, flow from him naturally and spontaneously his face talks as comically as his tongue, and its raucy language is irresistibly funny. As "Tony Lumpkins," "Adonis Sapling," "Paul Roach" and "Dr. Dr Pangloss," he is unsurpassed on the American stage. Each character is different and Mr. Clark im-bues them with a freshness and naturalness that is most effective. He swings from smiles to tears with all the ease of an historic pendulum. Truly can it be said of him: "Our jovial star reigned at his birth."

The Sunday News Charleston, S. C., of Nov 8, 1891, says:

"There can be no doubt that Charleston is now seeing, for the first time, a great comedian. * * * Mr. Clarke's place in the dramatic firmament is very high. He is small in stature, brown hair, large, expressive brown eyes. The perfect control over the features of his face is marvelous. * * * Charleston has now seen his comedy in five characters, and his marvelous versatility has excited wonder and admiration."

THE PRINCIPAL CAUSE.

Horse-Sense Reasons Why the Country is in no Better Condition.

The Rome, Georgia, Tribune says that:

A plain old farmer of Sumter county to the American Times Recorder gives his views on the condition of the country as follows:

"There is so much being said in the country about hard times and the scarcity of money, and as everybody has a cause and knows a remedy, I thought I would write to tell your readers what I think is the cause. The trouble is we buy more than we produced. There is too much flour and bacon shipped here every year. The things we ought to make at home we are buying.

We let our timber rot and buy our plow stocks, singletrees axe handles, hoe handles and fencing.

We throw away our ashes and buy our soap and axle grease.

We give away our beef hides and buy ham strings and shoe strings.

We let our manure go to waste and buy guano.

We buy garden seed in the spring and cabbage in the winter.

We let our land grow up in weeds and buy our brooms.

We let the wax of our pine and gum trees go to waste and buy chewing gum for the children.

We build school houses and hire teachers and send our children off to be educated.

We land a 5 cent fish with a $4 fishing rod.

We sent a 15-cent boy with a $20 gun and a $4 dog to kill birds.

We raise dogs and buy our wool.

And about the only thing in this country that there is a overproduction of its politics and dog ticks."

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Thosbe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in cough and colds. Free trial bottle at John Y. MacRae's drugstore. Regular size 50c and $1.

TILMAN'S TROUBLE'S.

Judge Hudson has thrown another bomb through the plate glass front of the Tilman saloon. He has just rendered another decision quashing the indictments against certain persons in Columbia, S. C., for selling liquor. The defense demurred to the indictments on the ground that the act was in violation of the constitution of the United States and South Carolina and was, therefore, null and void, and that in and by said act no punishment for the offense is set forth in the indictments. In rendering his decree Judge Hudson said that the act creating the dispensary system is unconstitutional, null and void on the ground that the Legislature of the State has no right to transfer from a citizen of the State to the government thereof the exclusive right to traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage, that it is not a legitimate exercise of police power nor does it rest upon the plea that usually supports the construction of absolutely prohibitory laws. It is not a legitimate exercise of police power nor is it, in the proper sense of the word, a prohibition law, but is a mere assumption by the government of the exclusive right to traffic in intoxicating liquors. This being the main provision of the act, all limitations, restrictions and prohibitions therein contained being merely auxiliary to the main purpose must fall with the whole act and the act in its entirety is pronounced unconstitutional, null and void.

The Egyptian cotton crop is reported to be good this season, and the best authorities estimate that $10,000,000 of English gold will be required to pay for the portion that Great Britain will want.
