

Married.
In this city this evening at 8 o'clock, by Rev. J. B. Hurley, Mr. R. M. Brown, of Haywood, Chatham county, to Miss Lucy Green of this city. The happy couple left on the S. A. L. railroad for their home, carrying the well wishes of their host of friends.

Mabel Paige.
Mabel Paige, the child actress, is indeed a ragoon in her profession. She sustains her difficult role in a most charming and exceedingly fascinating manner and is well supported, and from the time the curtain rose till the conclusion of the performance the appreciation of the audience was manifested by frequent and prolonged applause.—Palatka (E) Daily Advertiser.

Wilfred Clarke.
This distinguished actor was greeted last night at the Academy of Music by a large and discriminating audience and never has there been a performance in this city that gained more genuine applause. "Little Butterfly," a bright and most amusing comedy, was presented and all the entire cast was well sustained. Mr. Clarke as Adonis was simply elegant while his support throughout was admirable. Upon the whole it was a rich dramatic treat.

Western E Gales in Washington N. C.
He probably closes his meeting tonight and will be in Raleigh in a few days. We are requested through the Visitor to invite all christian workers to a most earnest co operation with Mr Gales and the pastor of the Christian church in this city in the meeting which will begin next Sunday at the Christian church. All who are interested in singing are kindly invited to attend the prayer and song service Thursday and Friday night this week at Christian church at 7:30.

The Fair.
The second day of the Fair has been but a continued success. The weather continues beautiful and there has been considerable augmentation of the crowd. The procession formed at 10 o'clock as usual in front of the Yarboro House and headed by the fine 9d regiment band proceeded to the grounds. At 11:30 Cyclone John's Wild West Show gave a performance. After which the racing took place. The contests were lively and elicited much excitement. Floral hall presents the usual look of beauty and taste.

Personal Mention.
Ex-Gov Holt is in the city.
Mr Charles L Stevens, editor of the Southport Leader is here, the guest of Col F A Olds.
Mr John C George, of Baltimore, president of the Raleigh Street Railway Company, is in the city.
Bishop and Mrs Lyman left this morning for Chicago to attend the mission-ry council of the Protestant Episcopal church which meets next Sunday.
Mr. N. B. Broughton, wife, daughter, Miss Rosa, son Edgar, Miss Olivia Barkley and J. M. Broughton, Esq., have all returned from the world's fair greatly delighted with their trip. Mr. Broughton intends giving an evening talk at the Tabernacle church during next week on some of the things he saw and heard, while taking in the greatest of all expositions.

The Weather.
For North Carolina: Fair, followed Thursday by increasing cloudiness.
Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity:
On Thursday: Fair weather.
Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today:
Maximum temperature, 63; minimum temperature 47; rainfall 0.00
The following is the synopsis of the weather for today.
The weather continues fair and cool throughout the central part of the country, under the influence of high pressure.
In the lower Southern States the weather is cloudy and the prevailing winds are from the northwest. The pressure decreases to the south, and there seems to be a storm center south of Florida.

At Metropolitan Hall.
The John Reddin Company gave a splendid rendition of the Two Orphans last night at Metropolitan hall to an appreciative and well satisfied audience. Tonight this popular company will present Mr Reddin's own version of The Convict's Daughter a play full of interest from beginning to end. The ease and grace with which the Purcell Sisters bring out the characters assigned to them has won for them an universal popularity all over the country. Mr Jess Pickens who will tonight take the character of the original tramp is an artist of highest standard and wherever he has appeared has been the recipient of well merited applause and frequent call before the curtain. The box sheet for tonight is open at MacRae's drugstore where reserved seats may be secured at 75 cents

The American express company has just $50,000 in money in transit from New York to New Orleans. Detectives are investigating the matter.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.
The Happenings of a Day Throughout the World.

Marshal MacMahon died in Paris yesterday.
The insurgents have again bombarded Rio.
Frost has ruined the cotton in portions of Alabama.
Capt Adams, commander in chief of A R, is dangerously ill in Chicago.
Three men were killed in railroad accident at Wellsville, Ohio, yesterday.
Thirty one new cases of yellow fever at Brunswick yesterday. One death.

A prolonged debate took place yesterday in the senate on rules governing that body.

Senator Vorhees says the repeal bill will be passed if it takes until next winter to do it.

The skeleton of a woman was found under a floor of a kitchen in Philadelphia yesterday.

The Marietta and North Georgia Railroad, 210 miles long, is to be sold at public auction November 20th.

The executive committee of the negro national league has issued an address urging the negroes to support the democratic tickets in New York, Massachusetts, Virginia, Iowa and Ohio.

Judge Copenhagen, of Baltimore, was killed in a singular way yesterday at Grand Lake on the Penobscot. He was using his rifle as a cane when it was discharged, the bullet passing through his head.

A Quarter Century Test.
For a quarter of a century Dr King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be most reliable for coughs and colds. Trial bottles free at John Y MacRae's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

A GOLDEN DOME.
Washington Post.

Hitherto the great white dome of the United States capitol, rising into the blue sky like a snowy mountain has been one of the most conspicuous and beautiful sights of the city of Washington. It is to have a golden rival. The roof of the new National Library is to be capped with a dome of generous proportions, covered with pure gold. Part of the work is already completed, and a gorgeous picture it is. The new library building is but a stone's throw from the capitol, and its golden dome glitters and shines like a young and brilliant sister by the side of the white hemisphere that crowns the capitol. A dazzling picture these twin domes present, and one that lingers long in the memory of the visitor or the dweller within the gates who is fortunate enough to witness it.

"As 'Tony Lumpkin' in 'She Stoops to Conquer,' Mr Clarke approaches Goldsmith's idea of the character nearer than any comedian on the American stage"—Baltimore Sun September 11, 1892.
"As the mischievous 'Tony' young Clarke excels himself. His humor, his byplay, his appearance are all that could be wished for."—Philadelphia Inquirer, Sept 18, 1892.
"Although Mr Clarke is a son of the famous John S. Clarke, and a nephew of the late Edwin Booth, he is not dependent on his ancestry for fame. His acting belongs to a new school, one which he has introduced himself."—New York World, Nov 4, 1892.
