

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXX.

RALEIGH, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1893.

NO. 11

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

The splendid weather still prevails. Col A B Andrews has gone to New York.

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen will take place tonight. The County Commissioners will meet in regular session next Monday.

All eyes are now centered on next Tuesday. A number of States will cast their ballot.

It is now thought that the new hotel at Southern Pines will be completed by the coming spring.

The cotton receipts were very heavy today. Prices were very stiff but no regular advance reported.

We are pleased to see Mr George King in the city. He is now on the road as a commercial traveller and is looking well.

The grape growers association will meet in Charlotte Nov 8th, and 9th. It is expected that there will be a very large attendance.

We may look out for a complete change in the weather in the next thirty six hours. So say the weather folks and they are presumed to know.

We notice daily great piles of country produce fruits and vegetables at D T Johnson's. He is justly considered headquarters for this class of goods.

Mr A Dughl's delivery wagon will be on hand this evening until a late hour for the delivery of hot meals for the ladies, at the rooms of the Y M C A.

Another match game of football will come off at Trinity Park Durham tomorrow afternoon. It will be between Trinity College and the University of Tennessee.

The address of ex-Gov Jarvis at the colored fair yesterday was a masterly effort and abounded in the best advice to the colored people. It was well and happily received.

It now looks like the confirmation of Collector Simmons will not come off until the regular session of congress. In the meantime Collector White is pursuing the even tenor of his way.

At last a Union Depot is in sight in Durham. Our neighbor is certainly deserving in this respect as no other town in the State contributes more patronage to the roads in proportion to its population.

The new literary enterprise on the part of the Guilford Battle Ground will soon be issued. It will consist of 400 copies instead of 250 as heretofore announced. It will be embellished with most beautiful engravings. The binding will be done by Messrs Edwards & Broughton of this city.

We invite special notice to the advertisement of Mr J W Evans, corner of Morgan and Blount streets. Mr Evans is prepared at all times to give special attention to repairing of all kinds in connection with carriages, buggies, delivery wagons, &c. Estimates on all kinds of work made on application. He will guarantee his work as the best, and his terms will be as cheap as can be had in the state. Give him a call at his place of business, corner of Morgan and Blount streets.

The Wayside Inn a handsome new hotel just completed at Hendersonville, N C, and occupied only a few months, was burned to the ground Monday morning last, the fire occurring about 5 o'clock. It was evidently the work of an incendiary. Two men were injured, one of them seriously. The insurance on the building was $14,500, in the following companies: Lancashire, $2,500; Phoenix, $3,000; Aetna, $2,000; Home of New York, $2,000; Springfield F and M, $2,000; Commercial Union, $2,500; N C Home, $2,000. Total, $14,000.

Mistrial.

The case of Z W Haynes, administrator vs the Raleigh Gas Company, resulted in a mistrial on account of the sickness of a juror. The case comes up again next Thursday.

Elected.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the North Carolina Industrial Association held last night, the following officers were selected for 1894:

Curious Experience and No Reality.

On Blount street, in this city, lives a lady whose experience is varied and wonderful. On last Friday night she had a new experience as follows: In a certain yard in town there is a very large elm tree, hollow, in which there are rooms or apartments. A bed room, a parlor, a sitting room and an elegant dining room. On the night in question the lady visited this tree and found it ablaze with electric lights of every imaginable color and shape, each room furnished and occupied by small people, and all these little people were beautiful blondes and dressed in sparkling robes, and the whole place looked like a crystal cave. Rubies and diamonds sparkled in all directions. Suddenly all the electric lights disappeared and in their place came a most exquisite and beautifully designed swinging lamp, with baubles, red, ruby, pink, amber white, and on each of these lamps sat a fairy with a silver plate in her hand with these words engraved on the plate. This lamp came from "D T Swindell's." On entering the dining room she saw a table set and loaded with the most artistic china that eye ever saw, and above that table hung myriads of the lamps, and on the floor was a fine mosaic carpet in which the feet would sink, and in this same room there was a big sideboard. On opening this there appeared thousands of fiery serpents, and the lady screamed and the serpents rushed out and spread themselves on the tables, on the carpets, on the lamps and wound themselves into fiery letters and the letters spelled these words: "All this nice china, all these lamps, these fine carpets are from D T Swindell's." Then she awakened and remembered she had been looking over Swindell's crockery that evening.
