RALEIGH, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1893.

NO. 26

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

No developments yet in the street railway.

The agricultural department will soon be in the midst of its busy season.

Mr W F Kornegay, president of the North Carolina railroad, is in the city.

Democratic clubs are already being formed in some parts of the state for next year's campaign.

Will the predictions that cotton will bring ten cents by December 1st be realized? We hope so.

Mrs Fred Taylor, of Alexander, Va., spent last Sunday in the city, with her mother Mrs John Eudey.

The great financial problem of the day is whether the state penitentiary can be made self sustaining.

Bring in your Christmas locals. It is getting time to let the public know where you are and what you have to sell.

Applications for the back taxes allowed by congress are now very rare. A snug sum will undoubtedly be left over.

The railroad people say that the Atlanta fast train is proving an immense success. It is no doubt permanent.

Don't forget in your rounds the well known produce house of Len H Adams & Co. The best heart shingles always on hand.

We hope that Managers Heartt and Jerman will look after something good in the amusement line to enliven us on Thanksgiving night.

Mrs Barbara Hubbard, venerable mother of ex-Attorney General Garland is dead. She is a native of Franklin county, North Carolina.

The raw, damp weather, today was a little draw back to the cotton trade, but the receipts were considerable. No material change in prices.

Let Managers Heartt and Jerman put their heads together and get us up some big sensations for Christmas. There is lots of fun in it and fair remuneration.

The political slates for the coming year are being marked out. There are plans and counter plans, but the "best laid plans of mice and men oft gang agley."

Office seekers may as well hold themselves in patience until the president finishes his message. That, at least, is the supposition sent out from Washington city.

Huntmen should not overlook the fact that Messrs Thomas H Briggs & Sons have on hand at all times a first class stock of shells and gun goods. Call and see them.

It is given out that Judge Dick, of the western district, although now over 70 years old and entitled to retire on full pay, prefers to remain on the bench and work for what he gets.

There will be a young men's meeting at the Baptist Tabernacle tonight at 7:30. The subject will be "what has my faith in God done for me." A large attendance is expected.

Fix up for the Christmas holidays by providing a plentiful supply of fuel. This can be had at the well known house of Messrs Jones & Powell who keep all grades coal at popular prices.

The pictures of the four little girls who carried flags on the funeral car on the occasion of the Jefferson Davis obsequies, are to be sent to the Veterans' Association of New Orleans according to request.

Young men's meeting at the Baptist Tabernacle every Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. Come early or you may not get a seat. Subject: "Faith, and How it has Helped Me." Short talks by many, which makes it interesting to all.

"Niobe"

The performance of this play last night was attended by a fair audience who showed the highest appreciation. The role of "Niobe" was sustained in a most admirable manner by Miss Marguerite Fesley and the support throughout was excellent.

Death of Maj E W York.

Intelligence was received here this afternoon of the death of this gentleman which took place today at his residence in Chatham county near the Durham line. Maj York was an enthusiastic veteran of the late war having served with distinction in the 6th regiment. He had many friends in Raleigh who will deeply regret his decease.

Our Museum

We must congratulate our friend Mr Harris the curator of the state museum upon the prospect of a large and valuable accession when the Columbian Exposition articles from North Carolina are deposited with him. He has certainly done his utmost in the matter of promoting the interest of the museum, and when his field of duties are enlarged we know he will be equal to the emergency. We will undoubtedly in a few years have one of the best state museums in the country.

The Insane Asylum.

Most of the improvements authorized by the late general assembly for the asylum have either been finished or nearly so and, it may be expected at no distant day that there will be accommodations for a considerable number of extra patients. This will be a happy result in many a household in North Carolina where there are doubtless numerous of these unfortunate with no protecting care other than the afforded by private and inexperienced means. There are also in the different poor houses a number who must necessarily be ill attended to. There is no class of the community better entitled to the protecting care of the state, and a system of false economy in their case would seem to be a crime.

As Christmas approaches, there are all sorts of propositions for entertainments. What about the "D Q I'S"? It has been a long time since we have had a genuine old time turn out of these invincibles.

The officials of the revenue office are fixing up matters preparatory to turning over.

Call at J. T. Morris & Co's and examine those lovely pictures for Christmas presents, steel engraving, chromos and oil painting which they will sell for less than they ever sold before on this market. No fancy price, but hard time prices.
