SHORT, SHARP AND SNAPPY.

This is the season of the year that the statistical flend is in his glorythere are no female flends of this class. The annual reports of govern ment officials give him some new figures to juggle with.

Inasmuch as Gov Fishback, of Arkansas, has nominated Vice President Stevenson for President in 1:96, we suggest that the governor's name should be Fishforward.

If, as asserted by preschers, business depressions alway bring large accessions to the churches, some humming revivals may be confidently expected this winter.

It is strange, but the man who is always talking about having an angel for a wife generally impresses people with the idea that his home isn't heavenly.

The fireproof building that will not burn has apparently yet to be built.

The country should be thankful that it at last knows what sort of a tariff bill the 58d Congress will pass. Uncertainty is always disturbing to business.

A HUNDRED TON MAGAZINE OR-

An event in periordical literature, not without its significance to the general public as showing the growth of the reading classes, was the receipt on the 9th of November by The wreched man, and thinking no one Cosmopolitan Magazine of the order given below. A single order from a news company for one hundred tons of magazines! That is almost an event in the history of the world. A like order has never before been made, and if past ratios be maintained it means considerably more than half a million circulation for the December Cosmopolitan. Yet, when the list of authors and artists in the December number is examined, one is not much surprised. It contains the only known unpublished manuscript of De Maupassant, illustrated by Vierhe, perhaps the most famous of European illustrators; After the World's Fair, by Paul Bourget, John J Ingalls, William Pean Howells, Lyman J G ge, Arthur Sherburne Hardy, Mark Twain, Robert Grant and others, nearly as famous, and nearly two hundred illustrations, to which the following artists contribute: Hopkinson Smith, Kemble, Harry Fenn, F Q Small, Attwood. Henckel, Dan Beard, Reinhart and Remington. Think of having the World's Fair done by such expen sive men as Howells, Mark Twein and Paul Bourget, and sending such artists as Charles S Reinhart to Chicago for a single number of a magna z'ne to be sold for only 15 cents, or by subscription 121 cents. A book publisher, preparing such a book would not dare incur these expenses short of $5 COa copy. It is not a revolution of vast importance to the reading public? The order to which referrice is made reads as follows:

Publisher Co mopolitan. Dear 8: -Of the 200,000 copies of December ber number to be sent us, please send as follows: 172,650 copies regular cated in highest style of art. If Lot satisfied edition, 27,360 copies R edition. Tith it, after you get it, we will refund the Yours respectfully. The American stamps and let you keep the book. Address News Company."

FOR HIS SAKE.

A Beautiful Story of True Charity,

There are a few noteworthy facts in life that are not heralded in the morning papers, and there are a good many people who do not telephone for the reporters when they do noble deeds. We give an instance:

It was a cold, dark evening, and the city lights only intensified, by their sharp contrast the gloom of the storm. It was the time when wealthy shoppers were eating their hot dinners when the stores are closing, and many too poor to ride, tired with the long day's standing and work, are walking home.

One of the shop girls we have alluded to was harrying home through the slush, after a hard day's work. She was a delicate girl, poor'y dressed and unwholly unable to keep off the winter's cold with a thin fall cloak One person noticed her as she hurried along. She was evidently very tired and self absorbed

A blind man was in the alley by the payement, s lently offering pencils for sale to the heedless crowd I'he wind and sleet beat upon bim. He had no overcoat His thin hands clasped with purple fingers the wet, sleet covered peuclis He looked as though the cold had congealed him the girl passed the man, as did the rest of the hurrying crowd.

When she had wasked half a block away she fumbled in her pocket and turned and walked back.

For a moment she looked intently at the vendor of pencils, and when she saw that he gave no sign she quietly dropped a ten ceut piece into his hand and walked on.

But she was evidently troubled, for her steps grew -lower.

Then she stopped, turned, and walked rapidly back to the dark slley and the men hiding in it. Bending over him, she said softly:

"Are you really blind?" Ther with an indescribable gesture he pointed to his breast. There hung the dull badge of the Grand Army of the Re-

'I beg your pardon, sir," she said, humbly, "Please give me back my ten cents."

"Yes ma'am," he answered, and held out the coin.

She took out her purse. It was a ve y thin one It contained but three silver dollars-one third of her week's bard earn ngs-all she had. She put one dollar of it into his hands, with the words:

"Take this instead, for the dear Lord's sake, and go home now. You ought not to sit here in the bitter wind and sleet." Then she turned her steps homeward, pittying the

HOW IS THIS?

Something unique even in these days of mammoth premium offers, is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading
The proposition is to send the Magazine one year for one dollar. the reg ular subscription price; and in addition to send each subscriber fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months: one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel, by mail, post paid, every week for forty-two weeks, and in addition you get the magezine once a month for twelve months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the souff lent expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors in the coming series are, Wilkie Collins, Walter Bevant, Mrs Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay. Florence darryat, Antho ny, Trollope, A Conan Doyle, Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackery and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this unus nal opportunity, send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine, one year. Your first copy of the magazine, and your first number of the fifty-two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sont you by return mail.
