NORTH CAROLINA STATE NEWS

The Charlotte News says "Mumps" are now the fad about town. In some localities, whole families are mutually consoling each other.

The National Bank of Baltimore and the Southern National of New York are reserve agents, respectively, of the Georgia and Mt Airy First National Banks.

G A Bingham becomes vice president of the First National Bank of Salisbury.

The Charlotte Observer says the Western Union messenger boys, as heretofore stated, are to be uniformed. Their suits arrived last night and they expect to be on dress parade soon.

Cards are out, announcing the marriage on February 7th, of Miss Emma Arrington, of Rocky Mount, N C, to Mr Robert W Williams, of Richmond.

Postmasters appointed: At Bellock, Granville, C G Royster; Hulon, Forsyth, Theo Kimmel; Page, Pender, Annie C Bloodworth; Riggwood, Halifax, W T Williams

The Bank of Fayetteville is not affected by the assignment of John D Williams, president, and E J Lilly, assistant cashier, who were stockholders in the North State Improvement Company. The bank is solid

The King of Saxony has $750,000 a year, but is very rich in his own right.

Mantua makers, with skill and experience, can make $3 per week in Bavaria.

Glasgow shipbuilders receive 16 shillings a week for 54 hours.

TO SEND NEGROES TO AFRICA.

The International Emigration Society has been incorporated in Birmingham under the laws of Alabama with a capital stock of $100,000 by J L Daniels and associates. The company proposes to send negroes from the southern states to Africa. It will operate a line of steamers between America and Monrovia via Liberia. A uniform fare of $20 will be charged which includes board en route. The society claims to be prepared to furnish homes and employment for the negroes in Liberia.

The promoters expect contributions from all over the south and from Africa. They will call upon congress for an appropriation. Negroes all over the south it is said, are already engaging passage.

PASTORS OPPOSE IT.

A Greensburg telegraph says: Skirt and other fancy dances have aroused a tempest among the churches and church people here.

Christ Episcopal church, the wealthiest church in the city, had projected a kirtness festival, to be held next week. The object was to raise money, it has been insinuated to pay the salary of the rector, Rev Fidler.

The kirtness includes skirt and other fancy dances, with nymphs fairies and dancing girls in costume. Elaborate preparations had been made for the affair. All the available local talent, not only in the Episcopal church but also in several of the other Protestant churches, had been pressed into service.

Last Sunday the ministers of the other churches preached sermons either denouncing the affair, or cautioning their flocks not to be beguiled by the kicking damsels. It is yet a question whether the show will occur.

IN A NEW LIGHT.

An Argument for Posterity Which Settled an Obdurate Father.

The young woman was trying to persuade her father to give his consent to her accepting a very worthy young man he did not want her to marry, and he was stubborn, says the Detroit Free Press.

"But, papa, she insisted, "he is the man of my choice."

"Well, he isn't the man of my choice, and you shall not marry him," he persisted.

The girl grew firm at once:

"Now, look here, papa," she said.

"Some day my daughter will probably come to her father as I'm coming to you, and she will ask him what I am asking you, and he will refuse as you are doing. Then my daughter will say coaxingly to her father,

'But, papa, you were mamma's choice,' and then, in reply to that, would you like for that man say to your grand daughter, 'No, I wasn't, I was your grandfather's choice! Answer me that. Do you think it would be a pleasant thing for that man to say to your grand daughter?'"

The father blinked two or three times and rubbed his head thoughtfully.

"Um—er—um—" he hesitated. "It hadn't quite struck me that way before. I guess you can have your way about it," and up to date nobody has heard anyone to regret the girl's successful argument.

A pious woman passing the mosque on the Plaisance, saw the New York Times, accosted a young Oriental and chatted with him, finishing with a nod toward his prayer house and the remark, "I hope you go to church every Sunday, like a Christian."

"No," was the quick reply, "I go every day, like a Turk." The Turk had her there. The Turk prays every morning. The business man Christian prays only one day in the week and then prays six times longer than he ought to pray to make up time for neglecting his God when our business was on hand.

THEY SEE A HOST.

Prisoners in Guilford Jail Declare They are "Haunted."

Some of the prisoners in jail here are getting a bit nervous.

They claim to possess an average amount of courage and are not inclined to be superstitious, yet they are now getting just a little shaky.

Somewhere about the year 1870 one "Bill" Parke, a white man, was hung in jail here, not, however, in the present building. Some of the men now incarcerated say that "Bill" has been to see them in the dead of night, when everything was still, save the snoring of "Long Tom," the horse in the engine house near by.

It is declared that when "Bill" appears it is always with a rope dangling about his neck, his arms pinned behind him, but with his feet untrammelled, and that deadly frown on his eye brows so well remembered by all who knew him.

They even go farther and say that just after he passes among them and departs there can be heard the fall of the death trap in the jail corridor as if he had just been executed.

For a few days "Bill" has not been around but they are dreading him.

THE MORNING HERALD FOR 1894.

The publishers take pleasure in announcing that "The Morning Herald" has recently been enlarged from four to eight pages, and that while the price remains at one cent per copy, or $3 per year to multiple subscribers, each edition contains as much news and more general reading matter than is printed by the Baltimore two-cent dailies.

The telegraphic service of "The Morning Herald" is unexcelled by any other Baltimore paper.

Its News Service in the counties is thorough and reliable.

Its Market Reports are full, complete and accurate.

Its illustrated woman's page is a feature that will not be found in any other Baltimore daily.

A verbatim report of the Sermon by Rev Dr Talmage—the celebrated Brooklyn preacher—appears in Monday morning's edition.

"The Morning Herald" will continue to be an Independent Newspaper—fair and impartial in its statements and fearless in the expression of its opinions.

"THE SUNDAY HERALD," of 24 pages, is the best Sunday paper in Baltimore, and is sold at 30 cents per copy, or $1.50 for a year.

"THE WEEKLY HERALD" is the cheapest and best eight-page weekly newspaper published in the United States, the annual subscription being 50c.

"The Morning Herald" will be sent on trial for one week to any person sending his or her address, enclosing 5 cents, to the HERALD PUBLISHING CO., Baltimore and Charles Streets, Baltimore, Md.
