OUR UNEMPLOYED.

Some Suggestions for Employing Them.

Correspondence of the VISITOR.

I have had a number of citizens to speak to me in commendation of the idea for utilizing our charity and giving employment to a great many idle people.

I have been asked to suggest how the money should be raised and something about the wages to be paid.

The money should be raised by some systematic effort of weekly payments so as to enable mechanics and others, who are employed, to help their fellows. Of course it will be expected that our merchants, professional and business men will respond liberally but the effort should enlist all as far as possible. Small sums of ten to twenty five cents from a great many persons weekly would afford quite a fund to be added to the large subscriptions.

Our police force might aid very materially in the collection of the subscriptions.

As to the wages to be paid, let it be remembered that this is an emergency work, and those employed are to be kept so only until they can do better, and the wages paid are not to be judged as if they were paid by employers in the usual avocations.

For single men I would suggest 50c a day; for married men 60c; for girls 25c and for women 40c per day.

Not more than one person should be employed in same family, and no girl or boy should be employed if the father is living and is able to work. Nor should any woman be employed with a living husband who is able bodied.

These rules would prevent imposition from several directions. It would be expected that wood, coal and provisions would be purchased in large quantities on most reasonable terms possible and sold by this Raleigh agency to those employed under it. But to none others.

But what we need is a meeting of our citizens to consider this whole matter. When shall it take place? Is this not a very proper subject for the Chamber of Commerce to take hold off

N B BROUGHTON.

A Heavy Deal.

Our enterprising merchant and citizen, Mr D T Swindell, has received a telegram from Messrs J M Link and T J Lamb, receivers of the Durham Supply Company, in which they announce that they have accepted Mr Swindell's offer to purchase the entire business of the company, which was recently placed in the hands of a receiver. The actual inventory of the stock places its value at $48,000. Mr Swindell purchased it for cash and the trade is one of the largest of the kind ever taken place in the state. The sale has been confirmed and Mr Swindell left this afternoon to take charge. The stock will be placed on the Raleigh market, thus giving our people a rare benefit. It is a "big thing" and shows Mr Swindell to be wide awake on all matters pertaining to his line of business.

Fine Reception.

The reception given last Wednesday night in Wilmington by Mr and Mrs D G Worth was a brilliant affair indeed. The commodious parlors were handsomely decorated in pink and white flowers and all the appointments were superb. It was a grand occasion in which 800 guests participated. At a seasonable hour a most elaborate and elegant supper was served under the personal supervision of our fellow citizen, Mr A Dughi, who gained additional fame by the splendid nature of the menu. All were delighted and he was awarded the utmost praise.

In the little town of Benson, Johnston county, 16,000 pounds of home raised pork have been killed this winter.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

Commissioner John Robinson has gone to Wilmington to look after fertilizers.

See notice of sale of land by Messrs F H Busbee and T M Argo, commissioners.

A business course will be established in connection with the Baptist Female College.

Mokey Encampment meets tonight at 7 1/2 o'clock.

GEO L TONKOFFSKI,
Rec Sec'ry.

It is thought the North State Improvement Company, the officers of which have been the cause of several failures, will come out all right. Dr Benbow was one of the largest stockholders.

The 9th anniversary of the literary societies of Wake Forest will take place February 16th. The subject is: "Should the President and United States Senators be elected by a direct vote of the people."

A. and M. Colle e.

The entertainment of the Leazer Society of the A and M College will take place tonight. It will consist of an oratorical contest. A large crowd should be in attendance.

Entertainment.

The entertainment by the Leazer literary society at the A and M college, which was postponed on account of the death of Dr E Burke Hayward, will take place tomorrow night. It will be an occasion of much interest and a considerable crowd may be expected.

A Wolf.

Rev W G Clements, of the Christian Sun, has recently been engaged in showing up a man named McDonald who claims to be a preacher. Mr Clements has recently received a letter from the secretary of the Christian Conference, of Kentucky, stating that McDonald had been expelled. It is charged that McDonald while in the west was charged, with an attempted assault upon a young girl. He is evidently a "wolf in sheep's clothing."

Personal Mention.

Rev W S Black, of Oxford, is in the city.

Mr A B Stronach, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Dr Wm R Wood has returned from the eastern part of the State.

Mrs Annie Staut, of Norfolk, Va, is visiting her parents in this city.

There is no material change today in the condition of Mr W Dallas Hayward.

Miss Alice Procter, of Greenville, N C, is in the city, visiting Mrs L W Lancaster on North Dawson street.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Generally fair, preceded by showers on the coast.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity:

Till 8 p m. Saturday; generally cloudy, with occasional rain or snow; slightly warmer.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a m today.

Maximum temperature, 37; minimum temperature, 25; rainfall 0.00.

Synopsis: Low pressure off the Florida coast and a "high" central over New England cause cloudy weather, with some precipitation in the Atlantic States.

This storm in the Atlantic prevents the cold wave which came from the west yesterday from being so severe today as was previously indicated.

The weather is generally cold and cloudy, with northerly winds everywhere east of the Mississippi.

Very cold, clear weather prevails in the west.

The grand opening of the Raleigh skating rink, advertised for tonight, owing to the inclemency of the weather, is postponed until Monday night, 29th inst. The rink is growing in popularity with increasing interest nightly. Ladies will be allowed to skate free until further notice.
