

The Daily Evening Visitor.

VOL. XXX.

RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1894.

NO. 89

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

Commencement of Lent.

Farmers busy preparing lands.

Now is the time to prepare for gardening.

The new Pearl Cotton Mills at Durham will open April 1st.

The County Commissioners found everything all right at the poor and work houses.

Beaufort county has recently sent $129 37 to the Confederate monument Association.

Mr Frank Pierce continues very sick at his residence 127 North Hargett street.

Sheriffs are coming in about as freely as usual notwithstanding the cry of hard times.

The return of the Burgesses Corps will be the event of tomorrow. They are on their way home.

It was a mistake that announced Col J S Carr as going to New Orleans. The Colonel is in Durham.

The Board of Commissioners of Wake county will be re-elected by the magistrates next June.

Society will welcome Natali, the distinguished prima donna who is a local favorite in New York and Boston.

Miss Fannie Heartt, daughter of our chief of police, has returned home after a very pleasant visit to friends in Richmond, Va.

It is doubtful if so great a singer as Louise Natali has ever sung in Raleigh. She will be heard tonight by an overwhelming audience.

Dr W H Bobbitt has fitted up a neat office over Bobbitt's drug store. He also retains an office at his residence 222, West Hargett street.

The theme of conversation in musical circles is the approaching visit of Madame Louise Natali, who is generally regarded as Patti's successor as "the Queen of Song."

If Superintendent Leazar can succeed in putting the penitentiary on a paying footing he will have achieved a triumph for which he will deserve and receive the plaudits of all the people.

The Weather.
For North Carolina: Cloudy, with showers; warmer tonight and Thursday.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity.
Continued cloudy and threatening with rain on Thursday; warmer.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a m today.
Maximum temperature, 52; minimum temperature, 33; rainfall 0.00

Synopsis: The pressure has fallen at all points, and a rain area has developed in the central part of the country.

Cloudy weather prevails nearly everywhere.

The temperature has risen considerably in the central part of the country.

The indications are that the low pressure area (which is producing rain in Ohio and Tennessee this morning) will advance eastward, causing warmer weather and rain here on Thursday.

Mr. Southgate is Coming.
Our readers will be very glad to learn that on Friday night of this week they will have an opportunity of hearing an address from Mr James H Southgate of Durham, who is said to be one of the most graceful and gifted speakers in the State. He comes under the auspices of the Epworth League of Edenton St Methodist Church of this city—and though the address will be delivered in the Sun-day School rooms of that church, the public is cordially invited to attend. Seats free.

Don't mention oysters. Dughl has them ALL THE TIME.

"Strike While the Iron is Hot."

Our ladies are the greatest people on earth for bargains and they know one when they see it, too. Bona fide cash sales are as rare as hen's teeth. Often heard of but seldom seen. When our winter dress goods, under wear, cloaks, &c. are shown, price mentioned, the quality satisfies and the sale is made. This extraordinary offer lasts three days longer. If you want any, STRIKE NOW.

C A Sherwood & Co.

He Killed I will e

A merchant in town will e mustache and whiskers, rear 3rd yesterday that buying the Durham Supply Co's stock and putting it in my store at Raleigh would. Certainly kill my business. Now, Mr Goslow, don't you think a killing of this kind would do you good? I would like a killing like this every 30 days. Raleigh would bloom and blossom like a rose under these kind of killings.
