HALEIGH, FEB. 14, 1894.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

The Wilmington, New Berne and Norfolk railway has sued Onslow county for half the county's $50,000 subscription to the road.

A young man named James Burgen, was drowned at Stone Wall Sunday last.

New Berne is proud of its new barrel factory, which, the Journal says, will in a few days be turning out 600 barrels per day for the use of truckers.

A postal card passed through the Charlotte office last Saturday on which was written: "Neither shall thy name any more be called Zebulon, but Simmons Regulator, and I have given unto the all the land of Carolina for an everlasting possession."

If this proves to be a good crop year our farmers will be in a more prosperous condition next fall than for some time past, for the reason that they will not be much in debt and what they have will be clear.

The finest exhibit of fish and game ever made in the south will be one of the many attractions at the New Berne fair next week.

The salary of Marion Butler, the new president of the National Farmers' Alliance, is $3,000 annually.

SUIT AGAINST SATAN.

Beelzebub on Trial Before a Salvation Army Court.

The trial of Satan, alias the devil, charged with one thousand crimes, from petty larceny to murder began last night, says the Chicago Record of February 9, at Princess Rink, in west Madison street.

There were only 1,000 persons present in the big hall when the court was called to order. The deepest interest was manifested in the trial and the judge, lawyers and jury entered into the proceedings with as much earnestness as was ever displayed in any regularly organized court.

Robert G. Ingersoll had been subpoenaed, but he did not put in an appearance.

The witness named Gorman testified that he had seen the devil while he was in the Washingtonian Home. Asked to describe his visitor, he said Satan had a tail, horns and that fire came out of his mouth.

He made up his mind that the devil should not get him that time, and so crawled under the bed. The devil however, was active and followed him to that hiding place. On the cross examination Lawyer Johnson asked Gorman if he was in his right mind.

Many other witnesses were examined. Mrs. May Winchell blushed when, in answer to a question from Lawyer Winchell, she said she was 24 years old.

"Do you know the devil?" asked Mr. Winchell.

"Yes Sir."

"How long have you known him?"

"Ever since I was eight years old."

"How did you get acquainted with him?"

"He persuaded me to take some raisins from my mother's pantry."

"Spell Devil."

"D-e-v-i-l, Devil."

"Dissect it."

"Evil, vile, lie, ill, 'l—his residence when he is not visiting."

HELD THE THROTTLE.

A Toledo special says: While temporarily insane from the grip, Miss Emma Moulton, of Findlay, jumped out of bed and leaped out of a window to the ground.

Before she could be stopped she had clambered over a fence, run almost a half mile into the yards of the Ohio Central railroad, and dashed into the cab of a yard engine, which was temporarily deserted by its crew.

The insane woman pulled the throttle, and the engine started out of the yards toward Toledo, but was overtaken before it was far out of the yards.

Miss Moulton is a school teacher. When taken home she quieted down, and it is thought that she will in time recover her reason.

GIRLS RUN AWAY FROM HOME.

Gainesville, Ga., Feb. 13.—Misses Mary Dromgoole and Flora Turner have run away from home.

The little misses bought through tickets to Tifton, Ga., and had left via the Florida Central and Peninsular railway.

The parents of the young runaways wired ahead to have them stopped and their mothers left on the next train.

The girls are about 18 years of age and belong to the first families of the city. Their homes were happy and no cause is assigned for their action.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use.

A GREAT REVIVAL.

Lynchburg News, 11th.

The revival conducted by Mr. Schoolfield was the greatest in apparent results that has been held at Court Street Methodist church since the memorable meeting held by Rev. Dr. Rouser about 25 years ago.

During the series of meetings just closed there were 250 professions of conversion, not including the backsliders who renewed their covenant.

It is expected that there will be, at the least, 100 additions to the membership of Court Street Church alone, and 112 others of the converts have expressed their determination to join different churches—Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal, Christian and Presbyterian.

Among the converts are people of all classes, men advanced in years; young men of prominence; young ladies in numbers, and many children.

The majority of the converts were adults. The revival and its results are the talk of the town.

HOW A COAT OF TAR FEELS.

St. Louis Democrat.

People who read of tarring and feathering know that the punishment is a very unpleasant one, but few imagine how terribly painful and dangerous it is.

In Wyoming I once saw a man who had been tarred and feathered, and although he fully deserved his discipline I could not help pitying him.

Hardened tar is very hard to remove from the skin, and when feathers are added it forms a kind of cement that sticks closer than a brother.

As soon as the tar sets the victim's suffering begins. It contracts as it cools, and every one of the little veins on the body is pulled, causing the most intense agony.

The perspiration is entirely stopped and unless the tar is removed death is certain to ensue.

But the removal is no easy task and requires several days. The tar cannot be softened by the application of heat, and must be peeled off bit by bit.

Sweet oil being used to make the process less painful. The irritation to the skin is very great, as the hairs cannot be disengaged, but must be pulled out or cut off.

No man can be cleaned of tar in a single day, as the pain of the operation would be too excruciating for endurance, and until this is done he has to suffer from a pain like that of 10,000 pin pricks.

Numbers of men have died under the torture, and none who have gone through it regard tar and feathering as anything but a most fearful infliction.

A Nevada man has made a proposition to a committee to let them bury him alive for a stated period for $500, and the citizens are so glad of the chance that they are chipping in the quarters right lively.
