THE SEABOARD AIR LINE YARD SYSTEM.

The Manner in Which it is Managed and the People Who Do It

There are but few of our people who understand the vast amount of care attention and labor it requires to successfully manage the freight and passenger yards of an extensive railway system, and while we have such an one with us we haven't never thought we could get an item by spending a few moments upon the yard; but Friday we did get down on the Seaboard Air Line yard, and we were astonished.

These yards are in charge of Capt. John W. Horton, who, while he was up to his ears in work, found time to show us around and explain the working of his force. Capt. Horton is the general yard master of the yards here, which now comprises almost every foot of track of the Seaboard Air Line within the city limits, and his duties are the receiving and distributing of all freight cars arriving in the city, as well as the making up ready for departure of all trains, freight or passenger, which leave here. His force consists of twenty-five men, consisting of conductors, engineers, firemen and switchmen.

Mr. A. C. Yates is yard conductor and assistant to Captain Horton, who makes up outgoing trains and distributes all loaded freight cars arriving at this point. He has been in the service of the company for a number of years as a freight conductor and is a steady, competent and trusted employee of the system, and under him are day conductor J R Stephen, Esq., and Mr Robert Steadman, night conductor.

Mr. Earnest Martin, and Mr. Tom Ennis are the day engineers of switch engines, while Mr. Tom Stone performs the night duty of engineer.

The watchmen on the yards are Mr. William Jordan in the day and Mr. Henry Glenn and Mr. Ed Barefoot at night.

In addition to the above there are some fifteen switchmen and car couplers, mostly colored men, who have been in the employ of Captain Horton, together with three colored firemen.

It will astonish our readers when we tell them that this system handles at Raleigh during the month some 6,000 freight cars. But when we tell it that there are four daily freight trains north and four south every day each carrying at least twenty-five cars, it will not seem impossible—this, too, in addition to the incoming and outgoing passenger coaches.

It is a fact that under the management of Captain Horton there is seldom a complaint from the Raleigh yards, while accidents are never heard of to the rolling stock of the company. Some two years ago there were a couple of accidents to car couplers, both of which were from carelessness on the part of those injured.

The Seaboard Air Line system is constantly increasing both their business and the limits of their yards, but they will never outreach the ability of Captain John to manage the whole of it.

J. O. U. A. M. COLUMN.

CONDUCTED BY RALEIGH COUNCIL, NO. 1.

Every American born citizen of the United States, over eighteen years of age, is eligible to membership in the Junior Order United American Mechanics

Initiation Fee, $2.50 Weekly Benefits, $4.00 Death Benefit, $50.00

Let us examine the above figures. Mr A joins the Juniors. He pays the $2.50 fee and $6 yearly dues for 7 years and 11 months, at the end of which period he dies and having paid into the order $50 During the above period he has had the guarantee of weekly benefits in case of sickness, and every attention from the members of the order; also the advantages of the social features of the order. Yet at his death his family receive from the order $50, the amount he has paid in.

Now, suppose during the seven years and eleven months membership he had had four week's sickness which is a fair estimate, then his family would receive sixteen dollars more than he had paid into the order So, it can be readily seen, that from a financial standpoint membership in the order is a good investment

As a further illustration, on this line, the following from the Suffolk (Va) Herald is in point:

"The Junior Order United American Mechanics—an order that is purely American admitting none but American born persons to membership—is one of the most beneficent orders that we have in our community, as has been evidenced recently in the sickness and death of Mr Jesse L Sweet, one of its members who joined the order less than four years ago, and who has been nursed and cared for by that order for more than two and a half years, during which time he was unable to help himself, on account of being paralyzed. The order paid three dollars a week while he was thus afflicted, besides keeping him for a long time in the Retreat of the sick, at Norfolk, under the care of skilled physicians and nurses at a heavy cost to the lodge for sick benefits, nursing, etc., amounted to $812.75, besides $20 from Smith Council, and $250 from the Funeral Benefit Association of the order, which amount is paid to the families of all deceased members; making in all $1,082.85; for which it cost only the deceased about $32, which was paid in dues of fifteen cents per week

"Such a showing is a good one and only goes to prove the great benefit such orders afford. Yet we have people in our community who talk against beneficial orders, when they know nothing of what they do and little appreciate the good that is accomplished by them."

MEMBERSHIP NOTES. We would urge upon the membership the necessity of attending each and every meeting of the Council

Our "silver tongued orator" has consented to deliver an address at our next meeting, and we know that every member will make it a point to be present

The new paraphernalia will be used for the first time in the initiation next Wednesday night, and the degree team is specially urged to be present

The matter of changing night of meeting will be discussed at our next meeting and also the renting of another hall.

The committee anniversary exercise will make a full report. Let every member be present.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds.
