The shrubbery in the capitol square is being neatly trimmed.

Who will be the first to start a canning factory in this vicinity.

It now looks as if the Superior Court will consume all of next week.

Mrs Cleveland will lecture to ladies at Metropolitan Hall tomorrow night.

The "English Blondes" are booked to appear at Metropolitan Hall March 6th.

Two convicts were brought to the penitentiary from Catawba county today.

The condition of Hon E G Reade still shows signs of gradual improvement.

It is predicted that the grip will soon leave us to be absent for a generation.

Look out for the "English Blondes" at Metropolitan Hall next Tuesday evening.

There was a slight increase in the receipts of Cotton today. No change in prices.

Messrs Alfred Williams & Co, announce a specialty in the matter of new writing paper.

Both of our prominent hotels seem to be doing a thriving business, judging from the arrivals.

Mr N O Lyon, a well known farmer of Granville county, died last Monday of asthma, aged 65.

The health of Raleigh during February has been unusually good. The report will be ready in a day or so.

The shops and round house of the Carolina Central railroad are to be removed from Laurinburg to Hamlet.

R W King, sheriff of Pitt county, settled with the state treasurer yesterday afternoon, paying in $9,257.77.

The University Magazine for February has just been issued. It has a fine portrait of Judge Wm B Rodman.

Prof W F Massey of the A & M College is delivering some very interesting lectures at different points in the State.

A delegation from Winston has gone to Washington to look after an appropriation for a government building.

The agricultural department are frequently in receipt of letters from northern parties desiring to locate plants in this state.

The Lyon Racket Store announce in this issue a list of special bargains which are truly astounding. Read what they have to say.

Ex-sheriff A Fogle, of Salem, has made a beautiful walnut coffin for himself. It was made from a tree planted by his mother in 1814.

The Durham folks are getting their backs up about the public building for that town. They certainly deserve one and the members of Congress ought to look into it.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Messrs T H Briggs & Sons who announce mammoth banner lamps which are pronounced the best lights now before the public. Send for circulars and call and give them a trial.

Messrs Dodd, Nichols & Co., are most comfortably fixed up in their quarters on West Hargett street, in one of the new offices just completed by J S Wynne Esq. We dropped in this morning and found all the members busily engaged. Their business we are informed, is fast looming up, with prospects of a steady increase.

I. O. O. F.

Regular meeting of Seaton Gales Lodge No 64 I O O F., tonight at 7 o'clock sharp. Work in the degrees. Organist and deacon staff requested to be on hand in due time. Members of the lodge earnestly requested to attend. Visiting brethren heartily welcomed.

Commendable.

In order to further the raising of a fine breed of horses, Capt B P Williamson has reduced the service fees of his stallions from one half to one third of his previous charges. This is a correct move and will result in much good.

The Weather.

Synopsis: The storm over Texas has moved eastward to the South Atlantic coast, and has caused rain in the south. This morning it is raining at Norfolk, Hatteras, Wilmington, Savannah, Charleston and Kuczville.

A light high area lingers on the Atlantic coast, and another extends from Alabama southwest to Texas.

The storm in the northwest is moving eastward north of the lakes causing warmer, cloudy weather in the central valley.

Fine Workmanship.

We called today at the new residence now in course of erection on South Salisbury street, next to the Fifth Ward drugstore. It is being built for Mr J B Pierce and is now nearing completion. The contract is in the hands of the Briggs Building Company and the work is under the control of Mr J B Masemore, who politely showed us through the building. Mr Masemore has been with the Briggs Company for about three years and is a most competent and skilled gentleman in his line. The house, we believe is of the Elizabethan style of architecture, and two stories high and contains seven large rooms with balcony &c. The roofing is of slate. The interior work which is now being finished up by painting, is most excellent and reflects the greatest credit upon the contractors. The stairways are elegantly carved and all the surroundings are fine. The workmanship, in all respects, cannot be excelled and the building will be a fine ornament to the locality.

Six barrels of whiskey was seized near Burlington last week at the distillery of Geo R Keck.
