VOL. XXX.

RALEIGH, FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1894.

NO. 109

CITY IN BRIEF.

Locals Picked Up Here and There and Boiled Down.

Regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen tonight.

Mrs Wm Turner of Johnston county died suddenly this morning.

Four convicts from Richmond county were brought to the penitentiary yesterday morning.

March came in all right, but according to prophecy, we will have a rough time before it goes out.

The trustees of the Oxford orphan asylum will meet in a few days to select a successor to Rev Dr W S Bask, who has resigned the superintendency.

A Raleigh milliner has an order to send some spring hats to a lady in Yokohama, Japan. The lady writes that the hats sent her last spring were highly appreciated by the ladies.

The selection of the granite for the Confederate monument is to be made in a few days. It appears that the choice lies between two quarries. The monument funds in hand, in cash, are a trifle over $15,000.

Mr Terrell, general manager of the Norfolk & Carolina Railroad, was before the railroad commission today in the matter of the application for a freight and passenger depot at Palmyra. He stated that the business there does not justify it. The matter was held over.

The old Hutchings' house, on the corner of Bloodworth street and New Bern avenue, one of Raleigh's old landmarks and eye sores, is being torn down. This house is over 100 years old, and in the early days was a favorite resort for the state officers and members of the legislature. New residences will be built upon the old site.

Mr H O Hudgins, general manager of the Norfolk & Southern Railroad, also appeared in regard to a complaint filed by citizens of Aurora that there is discrimination in freight rates in favor of Washington and against Aurora in shipments to Norfolk. The discrimination is admitted by Mr Hudgins, but is due to water competition.

Deputy Collector Vanderford notified Collector Simmons that he has seized a 75 gallon illicit distillery in Randolph county, owned by Parker and Moffitt. Deputy Collector D. O. Moffitt reports the capture of two illicit distilleries in Chatham county; one belonging to a man named Johnson and the other to William Yates and John Ivey.

Judgment has been entered in the Superior court in the libel suit of W S Barnes, State Alliance secretary and treasurer, against John P Kerr of Asheville. Barnes sued Kerr for a publication made by the latter charging him with certifying to a false hood regarding W T Crawford's signing the Alliance "demands." Mr Kerr acknowledges that all the charges he made against Barnes were untrue, but that they were made by him (Kerr) honestly but under a mistake as to facts, and that the denunciations and criticisms were unjust. Mr Kerr has apologized through the press, and has made full reparation, paying the costs of the case, counsel fees, &c. The prosecution is withdrawn by Mr Barnes, and, in the language of the diplomats, "the incident is closed." Congressman Crawford did sign the demand card, and Mr Barnes has the original.

Personal Mention.

Solicitor E W Pon is in the city.

Reward.

Yesterday afternoon Governor Carr offered a reward of $300 for the capture of Joseph P Moore and Wm Littleton, who are needed in Fayetteville for burglary.

A Raleigh Boy Abroad.

We are always glad to note the success of any of our Raleigh boys. The Daily Record, of Bevin, Ont., of Feb. 23d states that Fraser's Dramatic Company is playing in that city and that among some of the best actors in the company is Mr Charles Newsom. Mr Newsom is a son of Mr James D Newsom of this city, and we are glad to note his success.

A Pitiful Case.

The Charlotte Observer tells this pitiful story: It is truly said that one half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives. There came to police headquarters yesterday afternoon a man, woman and three little children. They asked for shelter and food & they had come 12 miles and were worn and weary. The man gave his name as John Farmer. He, with his family, left Virginia, their home, for South Carolina, where he was to get work. There he was rendered unfit for work by getting his arm mangled. He decided to try and get back to Virginia, so struck out on foot. His wife carries the baby, and the two children, aged respectively 6 and 4 walk some days they go 10 or 2 miles, and these little things drag themselves along, walking every step of the way. They were taken in at the police office, a fire built in the Tomb, and given comfortable quarters for the night. The officers contributed four or five dollars towards buying railroad fare and got the children something to eat. They hope to get money enough to send them by rail the rest of the way.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity.

On Saturday: Fair. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a m today.

Maximum temperature, 59; minimum temperature 41; rainfall 0.00.

Synopsis: The storm which was central off the Florida coast yesterday morning has disappeared in the Atlantic.

This morning the pressure is low over the North Atlantic coast and over the Northwestern States, while an extensive wedge covers the central part of the country, the highest pressure being over New Orleans.

The weather is fair and pleasant throughout the country. The temperature is generally above the normal.

As the high pressure moves eastward and the low pressure advances from the west it is probable that southerly winds and warm weather will set in here on Saturday.

Corbett, the prize fighter, has been found not guilty in the Florida court.
