RALEIGH, MARCH 5, 1894.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Not a single death occurred in Salem during February. There were 15 in Winston. 4 white, 11 colored.

Charlotte Observer: There was a run on plows and hoes Saturday. The farmers are making ready to start down the furrows this week if the sunshine continues.

Mr A F Page, of Aberdeen and Raleigh, who was last week seriously sick at Aberdeen, has recovered and returned to Raleigh.

The Carthage Free Press is the name of a new populist paper, the first issue of which appeared today. Mr H F Seawell, a lawyer, is the editor.

Dr H B Battle delivered an address a few days ago, on the state experiment station, before the Elisha Mitchell society at the university.

A private letter from a person in Tampa, Fla, does not give very satisfactory news of Senator Vance's health.

The president and first vice president having retired from the newspaper business, Editor Burbank, of the Sentinel, formerly second vice president, becomes president of the North Carolina Press Association.

It is quite freely talked on the streets of Statesville that Hon W D Turner visited the Hon A Leazer at Mooresville Saturday and spent the day with him in conference, the inference being that one or both of these gentlemen will run for congress in that district. It could not be learned what agreement was reached, but it is now the general opinion that Mr Turner will be a candidate.

The United States Court of Texas, has decided that a negro cannot ride in a Pullman car, if the company objects. The suit of N W Cuney, collector of customs and republican politician, against the Pullman Palace Car Company for $5,000 damages for refusing to sell him a berth in one of the Pullman sleepers hauled by the International and Great Northern Railway was decided in the United States Court at Galveston last Friday against the plaintiff. Notice of appeal was given. The case of Samuel McCoy, identical with that of Cuney, and the same amount of damages, was dismissed. The ground of contention was that the Pullman Palace Car Company had no right to discriminate on account of color. The jury held to the contrary.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at John Y MacRae's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.

A SOUTHERN NEGRO'S "JACK."

One of the first questions asked by County Physician Wilder, when the body of Dallas Stowe, the negro, was found hanging by a grapevine in the woods near town, was: "Where's his Jack?" At this question the negro audience fell back as if getting away from a bomb that was about to explode. "What do you mean by his Jack?" asked one of the white men present, "and why this commotion?" "Wait, and I will show you," said the doctor. He then felt in the pockets of the dead negro and brought out a tin box. He opened it, and it was found to contain a snake's head, a scorpion, a piece of iron, a rusty key, a bunch of "witch's yarn" and an ounce of salt. "This," said the doctor, "is the Jack. Eight out of ten negroes carry them. With it they 'conjure' their enemies, throw a spell over them, and the average negro holds the Jack in mortal dread. To show you their fear of it, just offer any negro here a dollar to put this box in his pocket." The offer was made, but no one would touch it. Dr Wilder brought the box to the city and tried the darkies on it, but not one of them could be induced to touch it. The doctor has hung this Jack in his back yard, and says that his turkeys, chickens and woodpile are safe for the winter.—[Charlotte (N C) News

Dr. Talmage and the Tabernacle—Their Relations Mot Likely to be Severed.

New York Sun.

A few weeks ago, when the fate of the big Brooklyn Tabernacle seemed to be sealed, and there was no prospect apparently of relieving it from its crushing financial obligations, the Rev Dr Talmage announced to the congregation his intention to resign. He subsequently stated that he would formally sever his pastoral relations on the first Sunday in March, the 25th anniversary of his connection with the Tabernacle. It is probable, however, that the 40,000 or 50,000 people who will be drawn to the Tabernacle next Sunday morning in expectation of hearing Dr Talmage's farewell address will be disappointed. It is altogether likely that Dr Talmage will announce that, in view of a more cheerful financial outlook for the church he has consented to continue his pastorate and withdraw his resignation.

Round the World on a Dollar.

Miss May Sessions, a young woman who claims to live at No 478 Washington street, Boston, is following in the footsteps of Paul Jones. She says that she made a bet of $5,000 with Frank P White, a real estate dealer in the "Hub," to set out from this city with only one dollar in her pocket and to beat Jones around the world.

THE DEVIL HAD HIM.

During one of the roll calls yesterday Mr Reed was standing in the rear of the hall of the House with his hand upon the head of Mr Kilgore.

"That reminds me of a story," said Mr Talbert, of South Carolina, who occupies the seat next to Mr Kilgore.

"Let's have it," said the Texas man and the Maine man, in a sort of duet.

"Well," said Mr Talbert, "a sailor landing in a seaport town one Sunday thought he would go to church. The edifice was crowded, but he finally found a place on the pulpit platform, directly underneath the preacher. The minister warmed up in his appeal to the unconverted. Noticing that the sailor was a stranger, he bent over him, gasped him by the hair of his head, and impressively shouted: "My dear sir, do you know that you are going straight to hell?"

"I shouldn't wonder," said the sailor, looking up. "I see the devil has got me by the back of my head."

"Now," said Mr Talbert to Mr Reed, "I don't mean to compare you to the devil—"

"Don't say a word," interrupted Mr Reed. "The story is too good to be spoiled by an explanation."—Washington Post.
