

Weeding Onions.—An Irishman employed on a farm near this city, was some days since set about weeding an onion bed, and with the weeds pulled up a number of the largest onions. Upon being asked why he did so, he replied that it was to 'lave room for the little ones to grow, sure!'—[Ibid.]

Mr. James Wade of New York, has married Miss Lucy Fur. O. Lucy Fur, what a match.

QUEER ASSOCIATION.—A contemporary intending to make a heading for some small articles, wrote 'Shreds and Patches.' The compositor made it 'Shad and Peaches!'

POETRY.—A bottle of ink thrown at a sheet of paper.

A dry joke.—To get thirsty in your sleep and dream of drinking.

Sharp Shooting.—Shooting at the edge of a razor, and splitting the bullet in two.

Called for Kindness.—Killing a mosquito on another persons nose.

The curious editor of the Boston Post has been 'out' lately. He seems to have made a discovery.

'Ladies who take the air of these fine evenings on the piazzas of hotels not a hundred miles from town, should remember that if the moon is so sweet, her light is also powerful enough to make visible some things which ought not to be seen.'

'The devil's in the moon for mischief'—sure and sartin!

'Knock again if you wish to come in,' as the hollow tree remarked to the woodman's axe.

'Oh, heavings!' cried a nice old lady the other day, 'if the world does come to an end next year, what shall I do for snuff?'

'That man is a fool,' says Dow, Jr., 'who wastes his time in trying to lay salt on the tail of to-morrow.'

The Moon Uninhabited.—An old lady who had been reading the famous moon story very attentively, remarked with emphasis, that the idea of the moon's being inhabited was incredible to believe; 'for,' said she, 'what becomes of the people in the new moon, when there is nothing left of it but a little streak?'

It is said, however well young ladies may be versed in grammar, but very few of them are able to decline matrimony.

Before which of us has not childhood been a thousand times called by music, and to which of us has she not spoken, and asked, 'are the rosebuds which I gave thee not yet blown? Alas! blown indeed they are,—but they were pale, white roses.'

RALEIGH PAPER MILL.

THE Subscriber, having rebuilt his PAPER MILL, which was destroyed by fire in February, 1841, and put it into full and complete operation, with all the modern improvements in Machinery, which experience has shown to be so valuable, is now prepared to supply the Printers of North-Carolina, and others, with as good and cheap Paper as can be purchased in the Southern Market. He is prepared to make all qualities, sizes and quantities, and his prices will be as low, as can be afforded.

All orders for Paper, must be accompanied with a satisfactory reference, (where the person is unknown) or they will not be attended to. On all purchases, amounting to $100, a credit of 4 months will be given, the purchaser giving an Acceptance payable at Bank, or Note, with Security. If the amount purchased exceed $150, the payment will be arranged at 4 and 6 months, in equal instalments.

Persons ordering Paper will specify the size, that is so many inches long, and so many wide. The usual size for Newspaper is 22x33, but if a different size be wanted, it must be mentioned in the order.

All kinds of Paper for printing Pamphlets, and Colored paper for covering the same, constantly kept on hand.

IMPORTANT WORK, NOW IN THE COURSE OF PUBLICATION. A DICTIONARY OF Arts, Manufactures, and Mines, containing a clear exposition of their principles and practices.

By Andrew Ure, M. D. F. R. S. M. G. S. M. A. S. Lond. Mem. Acad. N. S. Philadel. S. Ph. Soc. N. Germ. Hanov. Mulii. &c. &c. Illustrated with one thousand two hundred and forty-one engravings.

THIS is unquestionably the most popular work of the kind ever published, and a book most admirably adapted to the wants of all classes of the community. The following are the important objects which the learned author endeavors to accomplish:

1st. To instruct the Manufacturer, Metallurgist and Tradesman in the principle of their respective processes, so as to render them, in reality, the masters of their business; and, to emancipate them from a state of bondage to such as are too common governed by blind prejudice and a vicious routine.

2ndly. To afford Merchants, Brokers, Dry-salters, Druggists, and officers of the Revenue characteristic description of the commodities which pass through their hands.

3rdly. By exhibiting some of the finest developments of Chemistry and Physics, to lay open an excellent practical school to Students of these kindred societies.

4thly. To teach capitalists, who may be desirous of placing their funds in some productive branch of industry, to select, judiciously, among plausible claimants.

5thly. To enable gentlemen of Law to become well acquainted with the nature of those patent schemes, which are so apt to give rise to litigation.

6thly. To present to legislators such a clear exposition of the staple manufactures, as may dissuade them from enacting laws which obstruct industry, or cherish one branch of it to the injury of many others.

And lastly, to give the general reader, interested chiefly in Intellectual Cultivation, views of many of the noblest achievements of Science, in effecting those grand transformations of matter to which Great Britain and the United States owe their permanent wealth, rank and power among the nations of the earth.

The latest statistics of every important object of Manufacture are given from the best and usually from official authority at the end of each article.

The work will be printed from the 2d London Edition, which sells for $12 a copy. I will be put on good paper, in new breviter type, and will make about 1400 two pages. It will be issued in twenty-one semi-monthly numbers in covers, at 25 cents, each, payable on delivery.

To any person sending us five Dollars at one time in advance, we will forward the numbers by mail, post paid, as soon as they come from the press.

To suitable agents this affords a rare opportunity, as we can put the work to them on terms extremely favorable. In every manufacturing town, and every village throughout the United States and Canada subscribers may be obtained with the greatest facility. Address, post paid, D. Appleton & Co. 125, Fulton street, New York.

To every editor who gives this advertisement entire 12 insertions, we will forward, to order, one copy of the whole work, provided the paper containing this notice be sent to the New York Watchman, New York. April 16, 1842. 20

I WOULD rent the House and Lot in which I formerly lived, near the Gum Spring, or barter it for young negroes.

J. H. KIRKHAM.

Raleigh, July 23, 1842. 26

NO. 1, LOCUST SHADE.

THIS establishment, situated near the late 'Cottage,' on the West side of the State Square has been re-opened, and re-fitted, and re-furnished with the best liquors, that have ever reached the City of Raleigh. To be short, the Bar of No. 1, is now the most complete Bar in the City.

The Proprietor, has also made preparations, to furnish, at any time, and at all times, suppers, snacks, and relishes—something more than a cracker and a piece of cold ham. All that I ask, is to give No. 1, a fair trial, and it will prove to be ahead of the Fashion! May 20, 1842. WM. FOWLER.

TO PRINTERS.—A COMPOSITOR who has served his time in the Office of 'The North Carolina Standard,' and can come recommended for sobriety, capability and industry, wants a situation in some Office in North Carolina or the adjoining States. Address the Editor of the 'Standard.' Raleigh, July 9, 1842. 24—f.

HATS! HATS!

NEIL BROWN respectfully informs the citizens of Raleigh and of the county, that he still continues to carry on the hatters business at his shop, just below the Governor's house, where he would be happy to accommodate all who may favor him with their calls. He will also work up Raccoon for any person who may wish it. Farmers would find it greatly to their advantage, in buying wool hats for their negroes, to give him a call first.

THE SOUTHERN PLANTER, An Agricultural Periodical, EDITED WITH AN EYE TO THE CLIMATE SOIL AND INSTITUTIONS OF THE SOUTH

THE PLANTER is elegantly done up in Pamphlet Form, and issued monthly, at One Dollar per annum, in advance. The second Volume commenced in January, 1842. Well aware of the importance of illustrations, the Editor designs to enrich the Work with a great variety of Elegant ENGRAVINGS. Its readers will be kept constantly apprized of the New Improvements in Agricultural Implements, which will always be accompanied, where it is practicable, with an Engraving.—For this purpose, Extensive Arrangements have been made, both at the North and the South. The value of this department alone, will be more than ten times the price of Subscription.

The Work has progressed with uncommon success to the completion of the First Volume. The Patronage bestowed upon it, not only in Virginia, but throughout the Southern country, has converted that, which was an Experiment, into an established and permanent undertaking. The whole time and energies of the Editor will be devoted to its prosecution.

The plan of condensation, which has caused the first volume to be received with so much favor, will be continued in the second.

TERMS—One Dollar and Fifty Cents per annum, to be discharged by the transmission of One Dollar, free of expense, at any time within 60 days from the date of Subscription.

Six Copies for Five Dollars. The First Volume can be had in Sheets for $1 00, or neatly Bound for $1 37 1/2.

All Subscriptions to commence with a Volume.

Any Postmaster will frank a letter inclosing money to pay the Subscription to a paper.

The Planter will be published regularly on the first of every month, at Richmond, Va.

All communications should be addressed, postpaid, to the Editors.
