Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 25.—The President and his party arrived at Argenta, a northern suburb, promptly on schedule time. At 9 o'clock the train was pulled to Big Rock, where the President alighted. He was escorted to Fort Logan H. Roots, where he reviewed the troops. The President reached Little Rock proper at noon. He was tendered a luncheon and made a visit to the city park, where he delivered an address. The city is filled with visitors and the reception to the President was most cordial. The weather is threatening. The President's mounted escort from Fort Roots to the city was known as the "Blue and Gray," consisting of 14 veterans—12 Union, 12 Confederates—and particularly pleased the President. This escort of honor acted as a body guard the entire day.

The President was welcomed to the State and city by General Powell Clayton and Judge Treiber.

GEORGE W. WATTS MODERATOR.

The Synod of North Carolina Convened at Red Springs Yesterday.

The ninety-second annual session of the Synod of North Carolina convened at Red Springs yesterday. About two hundred Presbyterian ministers are in attendance.

Mr. George W. Watts, of Durham, was elected moderator.

The organization of the Synod was effected at 11 o'clock, and Rev. Alfred H. Moment, of Raleigh, led the devotional exercises, after which the annual sermon was delivered by the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. J. M. Grier, of Mecklenburg Presbytery. Dr. Grier's text was, Proverbs xvii, 3: "The refining pot for silver, the furnace for gold, but the Lord trieth the heart."

The preacher viewed his text from the standpoint of the saved, not the lost, and with the conviction that in the fullest and most direct sense all goodness in the human heart is the creation of God's holy spirit. The sermon was beautiful, poetic in conception and inspiring. Dr. Grier said that his text was taken from a great mass of truth, for God tries the heart which is the real man, and out of it are the real issues of life. He said, in part:

"The average Christian's notion of the general providence of God is that the Lord is searching human hearts for sin to gratify His vengeance like a Judge. (This is a mistake. God searches the hearts of men for good, and when it is found he places it in the fire of trial, of temptation till it be purified. It is separated thus from the evil like the refining pot saves the silver that is mixed with earth. Goodness is never found unmixed with evil. When God finds the spiritual silver of faith and the gold of love, He takes them away from temptation and trial, and they are placed in the presence of Jesus Christ, the Hand Omnipotent having taken away every evidence of grief, sorrow and sin.

"The question with us is not how much evil there is in us, but is there any good at all to be gathered into the treasury of God? Our lives are purified by the providence of God, sometimes gently, sometimes severely, but always thoroughly.

"The times and words of men often have more goodness in them. The question with us is solved when there is within us goodness, not only in men, but also to God.

"God, in His general providence, is purifying the soul and in His individual providence is purifying the heart. He is searching for the good, the goodness, in us, and if there is any on the earth He will find it, and so long as man lives there is hope.

"If there is faith as the mustard seed, it is full of promise. Sometimes this providence, when a man is passing through the fires of God, appears to be imperfect, but God is economical of goodness. He destroys no gold, only the dross is cast away and the base resemblance of gold goes up in flames. God sits as a refiner of silver watching the soul from His throne, tempering the fire and He will not suffer the soul to be tempted beyond its endurance. He burns off the dross, purifying the goodness in the soul till it flashes back the glorious image of its Creator."

The strength displayed by the Social Democrats has amazed the authorities.

WAS THIS SMITH COMMISSIONER— THE PEDLER? EARS ANSWER

A Theory That the Murdered Man, Smith, Was the Same Who Was Here to Jail in April on a Charge of Swindling.

The action in the case against the two factors who are charged with the murder of the man Smith at the union dance here, yesterday, remains the same. The father of the man of the accused, is here and has called upon his son several times.

It is now known that Smith, the murdered man, was the same man who was arrested here on April 16th on a warrant sworn out by a negro named Jerry Smith, living in East Raleigh, charging him with swindling. The warrant was sworn out before Judge Reid and the arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Walters and Stiel. This man first gave his name as W. M. Smith and afterwards said that his name was Charles Henry Smith, a lawyer. His wife at that time was selling the negroes and poor ignorant white people certain articles upon the promise to send them free a buggy, or a suit of furniture, or a carpet, etc. Smith was bound over to court and under a bond, and was placed in jail. Several days after this his brother, Ed Smith, the same name as the brother of the dead man, saying that he was from Danville, Va., came here and after seeing his brother the money for the bond was furnished and the accused man was never seen again.

The names of this man and his brother are the same as the murdered man and his brother, who was here at the time, and several who saw Smith, the peddler, and who viewed the body of the dead man, say that there was some resemblance. If this is so, then the theory that the murdered man was the same who picked the pocket of the old Confederate soldier in the dispensary is exploded.

Body Will Be Brought Back.

Dr. Jordan, the coroner, has decided to have the body of Smith, the murdered man, brought back to Raleigh, and the body will arrive tonight and an autopsy will be held tomorrow. Dr. Jordan has not yet summoned a jury, but will do so early in the morning or possibly tonight.

A brother of Smith's (not the one who was here Saturday) is here and is very much exercised that his brother's name should be in any way connected with the crime of picking pockets or swindling, and says that he wants the stigma on his memory wiped away. He says he is very anxious to have the body examined. The body has never been buried.

It seems that the two prisoners—Clark, or Morris, and Lelliston—will make no defence in common, but each will claim that the other is the guilty one.

The attorneys for both the men, however, are confident of their cases.

Price, while the defence is represented by Burwell & Canlier, of Charlotte; Moore & Rollins, of Thomasville; and Winston-Salem, and ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., of Greensboro.
