STORIES OF NEW YORK

Heinbolds' Marriage

The woman said their marriage was a happy one until the birth of the second child, five months ago. She then learned she was pregnant with a third child...

The parents were hopeful of success until early in May they were disturbed by the published opinion of Director Smith of the Central Park managerie...

Early in August the second child was born. When the family doctor told the father that it was a girl the news was received without rejoicing...

Two mischievous boys put the lives of several hundred passengers in peril last night by removing the danger signals from the rear of a crowded Third Avenue elevated train...

A handsome silver-mounted Bible was exhibited to the members of the congregation of the German Lutheran Church at Morris Avenue and 139th Street, the Bronx, yesterday at the morning and evening services...

Because several have been flitted by summer girls, ten young bachelors of Roxboro and Rockland, Sullivan county, N. Y., have formed an anti-matrimony club and decided to live only for themselves...

The youths were returning from Coney Island and boarded the car at City Hall station. Robert Horn, a guard, saw them sneak to the rear platform of the last car...

A signalman was sent back along the track to prevent another northbound train running into the one without lights. Employees of the road succeeded after a long search in finding one of the lights. Another was procured, and the train started after twenty minutes' delay...
