Supt. Morgan of Virginia Penitentiary in Raleigh

THE CONVICT SYSTEM

Gathering Data As To Best Methods Of Working And Housing Convicts In Improvement Of Roads— Will Visit Several Of The Leading Counties.

Superintendent Morgan of the Virginia penitentiary arrived here yesterday with a letter from Governor Swanson of Virginia to Governor Glenn, asking that he be aided in every way possible in a special mission which brought him into this state, this being the investigation of the various systems of the use of convict labor in the improvement of the public roads.

Superintendent Morgan proposes to inspect the work in Wake, Mecklenburg, Guilford, New Hanover, Robeson and some of the other counties which are most largely interested in the improvement of the roads by the use of convict labor. He will spend three or four weeks in North Carolina. Virginia is just about to inaugurate a system of road improvement with convict labor under a special statute enacted by the last legislature. He left here this morning for Mecklenburg county.

Governor Glenn gave Superintendent Morgan letters of introduction to the road officials in each of the several counties he desires to visit. Mr. Morgan expressed considerable regret that when he called on Chairman Adams of this county with his letter from Governor Glenn that Mr. Adams told him he was too busy to discuss the Wake county methods to show him the convict camps just at this time.

Superintendent Morgan met Capt. W. C. MacMackin, who was for many years supervisor of the road improvement in Wake and worked convicts very largely. From Mr. Mackin Mr. Morgan gathered a deal of information regarding the work in Wake. Mr. MacMackin also offered to drive Mr. Morgan over sections of the improved roads in Wake, but the latter seemed to hesitate about visiting the camps without Chairman Adams or some official representing him.

Why the Highest Temperatures of the Year Do Not Come At This Time, When the Sun Is At Its Summer Solstice.—Lag in Nature Always Between Cause and Effect.

Today is the longest day of the year. The sun rose at 57 minutes after 4 o'clock this morning, and not until 34 minutes past 7 o'clock will it disappear from our view this evening and give the heated earth's crust a chance to get its breath and cool off, and in a little over nine hours another hot day will begin.

But this does not mean of course that at this time comes the hottest temperature of the year, for it is a fact throughout science that there is always a lag between a cause and its effect. For instance, in the case of the temperature each day, the extremes do not occur at the moments of the sun's arrival at the turning points. If they did we should have the highest temperature always at noon and the lowest at midnight. As a matter of fact of course the hottest part of the day is always between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and the coldest at sunrise. The reason for this is that the temperature is regulated by the contact of the atmosphere with the earth's surface rather than by the rays of the sun which pass through the air without much effect upon it. Several hours are required to heat the crust of the earth to its utmost after the extreme rays have started to act upon it, and in like manner several hours are consumed in the cooling off process after the sun has been removed to its farthest point the other side of the earth.

So at this season the heat that we receive from the sun is greatest, but the earth's crust is not yet sufficiently heated to give the maximum temperatures, which will not occur until July. At that time the cooling of the earth at night will do no more than strike a balance with the baking it receives during the day, and consequently the temperatures will be highest then.

The shortest day in the year is December 21, and the equinoxes are March 21 and September 21.

DEMONSTRATION BY SPEAKER CANNON.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, June 22.—Speaker Cannon in announcing that the house was in committee of the whole today for the further consideration of the pure food bill, was so emphatic in his physical demonstration with the gavel that the head flew off and rolled among the desks at the speaker's table.

After the approval of the journal the house at once plunged into debate on the pure food bill. Mr. Adamson (Ga.) opening the discussion in opposition to certain features of the bill.

SALISBURY'S NEW STATION.

Salisbury, N. C., June 22.—Architect Milburn, who has drawn the plans for the new station at Salisbury, says this is to be the prettiest structure along the Southern's main line. Col. James I. Lee of Greensboro has been over here doing some work of excavation and when the ground is cut down the architect will have another word to say before building actually begins. The hand some structure is to cost $75,000, and will be a very large one. The Southern Express Company will have addition to it that will cost $10,000, and there is to be a park in front of it, making a beautiful approach to the station. Work in earnest does not begin before the middle of July, but it is hoped to have it ready for use by the first of the year.

Grosscups on Corporations.

"The message that I have come to deliver," said Judge Grosscup in closing, "is to urge the people of this state to take the lead in giving to the new industrial life of the union as embodiment that instead of losing sight of, will again lift up to his rightful place in his country's prosperity, the individual man."

Sentences in Rebate Cases.

The Armour Packing Company, Swift & Company, Cudahy & Company, and the Nelson Morris Packing Company were tried jointly and convicted on the charge of accepting concessions from the Burlington railroad in connection with connecting lines on packing house products for export via New York.

The Burlington Railroad Company was convicted on four counts of granting concessions to the packing companies of Armour, Swift and Cudahy and Nelson Morris. The penalty provided in the case of the packers and the Burlington involves a fine of from $1,000 to $20,000 on each count, but not imprisonment.

The cases of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Chicago & Alton Railroad companies, charged with offering concessions, and D. H. Kresky, a freight broker of Kansas City, charged with conspiring to secure concessions from the railroads, were dismissed upon the suggestion of District Attorney Van Valkenburgh, who stated that he believed the railroads had in this case been imposed upon. As the case against Kresky was predicated upon that against the railroads it was useless to try him.

In the case of the Chicago and Alton Railway Company and J. N. Falthorn, its former vice president, and F. A. Wann, its former assistant traffic manager, charged with having given concessions to the Schwarzschild and Sulzberger Packing Company, the defendants set up a plea of immunity upon the ground that some of their employees had testified before a federal grand jury at Chicago concerning the same transactions for which they later were indicted at Kansas City. Judge McPherson sustained the government's demurrer to this plea, but continued the cases over until next fall, when the similar cases at Chicago probably will have been disposed of. This Alton case is distinct from that in which Kresky was concerned.

NORWAY'S NEW KING AND QUEEN FORMALLY CROWNED THIS MORNING

When the newly crowned sovereigns returned to their thrones after the episcopal benediction all the royal guests and special ambassadors saluted them with deep reverence.

Dr. Moment is especially interested in Maccabean history, and all those who would hear a most splendid elaboration of a most attractive story would do well to come out to hear him.

Song services begin at 8 o'clock. Public cordially invited.

The completion of the crowning of King Haakon was communicated by two army signifiers, wigwagging across the city, from the cathedral to the hill batteries. The first gun, announcing the tidings, boomed forth instantly and then there was a roar of guns from the ships and land batteries and the bells of all the city churches began ringing. These sounds carried the tidings over the city and harbor and the echoes were carried up and down the fjord. The crowning of Queen Maud commenced immediately afterwards. Her majesty, who is of a naturally timid and retiring disposition, bravely faced the ceremony. She looked dainty and attractive.
