Close Freight Alliance With Raleigh & Southport

COMPETE FOR BUSINESS

Raleigh Merchants Asked to Receive Goods Over Atlantic Coast Line and Raleigh and Southport When Latter Completes Line Into Fayetteville—Probably Within a Week—Announcement By President J. A. Mills.

You can announce, said President and General Manager J. A. Mills of the Raleigh and Southport Railroad this morning, that the Atlantic Coast Line will come into Raleigh in competition for freight and passengers when the Raleigh and Southport gets into Fayetteville, and that will be in Fayetteville probably within a week, and certainly within two weeks.

President Mills was cutting on the merchants of the city which he made this statement introducing Mr. J. W. Forth, general freight agent and Mr. W. E. Kyle, division freight agent at Fayetteville. These gentlemen were discussing with the business men to whom they were introduced the advantages of receiving their freight over the Coast Line-Raleigh and Southport route, which includes a very low water rate to Wilmington and special joint rates for Raleigh on the part of the A. C. L. and R. & S. roads, between whom it is concluded that a very close alliance has been formed.

The representatives of the Atlantic Coast Line were very much encouraged by the cordial reception accorded them by the merchants and other shippers of the city. They received assurances of a liberal share of the business when the connection between the Coast Line and the Raleigh and Southport at Fayetteville is made next week.

Messrs. Forth and Kyle are railroad men of much experience and recognized ability. While here they received assurances on every side of the gratification of the business men at the alliance that they have perfected with President Mills for doing business in Raleigh.

President Mills says the arrangement he has made with the Atlantic Coast Line will mean a very great deal for the shippers of Raleigh, although the full force and scope of it can only be developed and made manifest to the people of the city after the Raleigh and Southport is in full operation between Raleigh and Fayetteville.

Two Large Stores In Roxboro Plastered With "The Hold."

Roxboro, N. C., Feb. 20, 1906. Guilford Plaster & Cement Co., Greensboro, N. C.

Gentlemen: I have just finished up two large stores in Roxboro for Mr. J. A. Long, and used your The-Hold for the plastering, both on laths and brick.

I must say that in all my experience as a practical builder for forty years I have never used anything that has given greater satisfaction. It makes good sound work and travels to a fine finish for calculating or decoration. Thus saving putty and plaster, which frequently shells or cracks.

Mr. Long, and all others who have seen it praise it highly. Expecting to use more of it shortly.

Yours truly, (Signed) HENRY FIELD.

CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM RAILROAD CAMP

Two negro convicts eluded the guards and made their escape from the convict camp on the Raleigh & Pamlico Sound Railroad today, Supt. Mann states:

"Charles McLaughlin, a dark ginger-colored negro, thirty-six years old, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches high, weighing 165 pounds and having brown eyes and black hair, scar on back of head, escaped this morning from railroad camp near Wakefield. He was sentenced from Wake county July 7, 1902, for a term of twenty years for house-breaking and larceny.

"George Thompson, a dark ginger-colored negro, twenty-two years of age, 5 feet 8 1/2 inches high, weight 70 pounds, with brown eyes, black hair and flat nose, also escaped with McLaughlin. This man was sentenced from Craven county April, 1905, for a term of five years for murder in the first degree.

"We will pay a reward of $25.00 and all necessary expenses for the capture of each of these men."

FOR PROPER YOUNG WIDOWS.

They Cannot Mourn Correctly in Elbow Sleeves or Two Inch Hems.

A young widow, who if not herself diting up and taking notice yet fears that she may be the exposure of critical eyes, sends the following appeal to Vogue:

Please give advice for mourning for a young widow. What is the correct hat and veil? Are elbow sleeves good taste? What collar and cuffs are worn? What materials and trimmings? Give model for a traveling coat.

It is pleasant to know that in the darkness of her affliction Young Widow is not to be left without a gleam of informing light. She pines to be correct. Vogue gives her information of so careful a character that if she is not a model of proper mourning the onus must be upon her own soul.

Here are the latest rules for the guidance of young widows desiring to mourn properly:

If you observe the strictest standards you should wear a crape bonnet and veil in town and a crape hat with crape or chiffon face veil in the country. There is only one correct way of draping a widow's veil. We do not care for any of the fancy drawings which are sometimes seen. These are not good taste.

Elbow sleeves are not good taste in deep mourning, as they make too much of an attempt at dressiness. Collars and cuffs of sheer white organdy are worn by widows. These have a deep hem and measure three inches or so in width. For materials use nun's veiling, Henrietta cloth, crepe de chine, chiffon, dull velvings or taffetas.

Lace and embroidery are not correct trimmings, but you can use dull finished ribbon, net, footings and hemstitched ruffles. All white can be worn for summer, as it is as deep mourning as all black for country wear. All your gowns should be simply made. For your coat use dull finished pongee, with trimming of stitched taffeta.
