THE SQUEAL OF A BULLY,

Knowing the character of the man, and realizing how desperate he is because he cannot whip the people Wake county into line to vote as he would dictate, we are not surprised at the attack which Josephus Daniels makes upon the ministers and citizens who were not ashamed to sign a card for one who had lived among them and who had earned their respect. The saintly hypocrite must have been ashamed of his own screed, for he would not dignify it by giving it a place on his editorial page, though it had the ear-marks of the cowardly boss who is losing his grip at his home and who will continue to lose it by reason of the unjust and outrageous charges made against such men as Dr. Marshall, Dr. Pittenger, Dr. Moment, Dr. Ivey, Mayor Johnson, Mr. Alf Thomp- out it, son, Mr. Joseph G. Brown, Dr. Everitt, Mr. James A. Briggs and others. The gentlemen who signed that card are not politicians; they are temperance men and their friends will resent most bitterly the accusation that they were not of sound mind and that they were playthings and tools in the hands of the element of Raleigh. He but he can never convince one man in civilized. county or state that those gentlemen had "lined up" with the saloons. It was a base slander and a slander the boss who is so bitterly despised, mer home the fact that the animosity of Josephus Daniels toward John C. Drewry is due to the latter's connection with a rival newspaper. He overlooks everything else but that. The Evening Times would have lived peacefully with injure it by slander. Today he seeks to slander the ministers and the temperance men by claiming that they are the puppets of the saloon.

But the thing will react. It has alhis grip is weak. The News and Observer has done much to merit the hatred of honest people, but in its whole career we doubt if it ever stooped so low before that it would fling mud at for the senate against Mr. Tillman in the Man of God.

Yellow Journals Hereabout.

Rollo Ogden, editor of the New York rocket and came down like the stick. Evening Post, writes on "Some Aspects of Journalism" in the Atlantic Monthly for July, and he completely answers statement of many newspapers that they are sensational and yellow and indecent because the public demands that sort of thing. He says it is an insult to the public that such charges should be made, for the reason of Judge Parker's Charlotte speech that that the public has power sufficient to a southern man be nominated by the cast out the offending member. The Evening Post is not a yellow journal. It is as different from that class as Mr. Aycock on the ticket. night is from day, and while it is often wrong it is clean. Mr. Ogden is a veteran in the service. Likewise he is a things he says:

"I would urge no exculpation for the editor who exploits crime, scatters fiith and infects the community with moral poleon. The original responsibility his, and it is a fearful one. Two other negroes, Adams and Sawyer, are under sentence to die August 17, and it is said that an effort will be made to have President Roosevelt pardon them. The president will simply have to put a value on the words of Scott. It is hard to believe that a man would face his Maker with a lie on his lips.

Our Washington correspondent says today that President Roosevelt is thinking seriously of advocating the revision of the tariff, and while it may not be possible to fathom the mind of the president, it is likely that he will shout that way when he sees the masses will stand with Bryan on that sort of a platform. But it will not be revised if the republicans are confident of victory two years hence with-
