GOV. GLENN ON WITNESS STAND

Trial of Lynchers Begins at Salisbury

CASE OF GEORGE HALL

Indictment for Murder Changed From Murder to Breaking into Jail and Conspiracy—Validity of Special Term of Court Questioned—Deputy Sheriff Julian's Startling Testimony—Large Number of Witnesses From Distance.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Salisbury, N. C., Aug. 10, 3 p. m.—George Hall was put on trial this morning, but the bill of indictment was changed. The state saw the futility of trying him for murder without witnesses to prove that he actually took part in the infliction of death, although Judge Long had charged the grand jury that any man encouraging the mob in any way, by word or presence, was guilty of murder in the first degree.

Congressman Klutz is assisted in the defense by Walter Murphy, Craig and Lion with the solicitor. The special venire was not touched and the jury was chosen in fifteen minutes. Governor Glenn was subpoenaed as a witness by the defense and testified that he was not in the state when the order for a special term of court was given.

The question arose here whether the sitting is lawful, but the governor declared that he had ordered the court to break into jail and conspiring against three lynched men. Julian said he did not see Hall attack the jail.

Judge Long ruled that the evidence was competent and relevant, and the defense took exception. This closed the morning session. It is supposed that later in the afternoon the trial will be resumed.

The trains from all points will bring witnesses here. A larger crowd is here today than at any time since the trouble began.

HELD FOR THEFT OF A DIAMOND

SIX INDICTMENTS FOR REBATING

(Special to The Evening Times.) Charlotte, N. C., August 10.—W. B. Robertson, a young traveling man, claiming to be an optician from Philadelphia, was bound over to the superior court this morning by the recorder on a charge of stealing a $150 diamond ring. Robertson was unable to give bond and is now in jail awaiting criminal court next Monday. Robertson went into the jewelry store of Garabaldi & Bruns yesterday afternoon claiming that he wanted a watch fob. While Mr. Garabaldi, who was waiting on him, turned his back the traveling man took the ring which was on a desk near by and left the store. His failure to return to the store aroused the suspicion of the jeweler who missed the ring soon after he left.

The matter was reported to the police and an investigation was begun. Robertson was found on a Southern train almost ready to leave Charlotte and was arrested. He confessed to the theft. After being locked up the ring was found in his grip. Robertson claims that his wife is at Ocean View spending the summer. A telegram has been sent her, but no reply has been received. The young man is well dressed and shows some signs of culture.

Attempts At Assassination Traced to This Organization of Social Revolutionists—Warning Sent Out of Scheme to Liberate Political Prisoners—Explaining Dissolution of Parliament to Peasants.

(By The Associated Press.) St. Petersburg, Aug. 10.—The attempts on the lives of Vice Admiral Douhassoff on May 6 and of General Neplieff, commander of the Schastopol fortress on May 27, have been traced to the "flying fighting organization" of the social revolutionists, of which Savinkoff, a member of the central committee of the social revolutionists was a leader. Savinkoff was arrested on suspicion of complicity in the attempt on General Neplieff's life but he escaped two days later.

Doubassoff's assailant, who was killed by the explosion of his own bomb, has been positively identified. A girl student, Mlle. Mischchenko, who was involved in the conspiracy, had three of her fingers blown off and was otherwise terribly mutilated, while loading a bomb. She is a daughter of General Mischchenko, of St. Petersburg a member of the military court.

About 400 of the Cronstadt mutineers will be tried by court martial. The central bureau has sent out a circular warning to the wardens of penitentiaries to be on their guard against a new revolutionary organization formed to release political prisoners with the aid of sympathetic keepers and guards. Many jail deliveries are already attributed to the work of this organization.

Governor Zinovieff, of St. Petersburg has instructed the subordinate officials in the country to explain to the peasants that the emperor dissolving parliament only because the members wasted time in making inordinate demands, like their insistence on the granting of general amnesty, which would turn loose robbers to resume their orgies, and the abolition of the death penalty even for a destroyer of the sacred person of the emperor. They had not even presented a solution of the agrarian question, the net result of their work being an appropriation of $7,500,000 for famine relief where the government asked for $25,000,000.

The Pillaging Still Goes On. Moscow, Aug. 10.—A band of brigands on bicycles is systematically robbing village churches in this vicinity, avowedly with the intention to secure funds for the revolutionists.

Verkhojansk, Siberia, Aug. 10.—A roving band of Circassians rode into the railroad station here yesterday and robbed the cashier of $47,500.

The Sheet Metal-Workers. Indianapolis, Ind., August 10.—The national convention of the sheet metal-workers' association today elected the following officers:

President, Edwin L. Seabrook, Camden, N. J.; first vice-president, Paul L. Biersack, Milwaukee, Wis.; second vice-president, J. A. Pierpont, Washington, D. C.; secretary, W. H. Barnard, Norfolk, Va.; treasurer, G. W. Battley, Norfolk, Va.

Trustees, E. W. Richards, Philadelphia; Thomas Black, Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. A. Gallaher, Wilmington, Del.; Robert Kain, Cleveland. The convention city was not selected. Invitations were extended by Peoria, Syracuse, Cleveland and Jamestown, Chicago and Niagara Falls.

Dr. Dreher a Consul. Washington, August 10.—Dr. Julius D. Dreher, of Selwood, S. C., former U. S. Society Island, Mr. Dreher graduated from Roanoke College in 1871 and was president of that institution from 1878 to 1903.

Indicting Big Game. Jamestown, N. Y., Aug. 10.—The federal grand jury for the western district of New York today returned indictments against the Standard Oil Company of New York, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Vacuum Oil Company of Rochester, for violations of the interstate commerce law.

Some New Discoveries Among the Papers of the Wrecked Chicago Bank's President Place Stensland in Worse Light Than Ever—Cashier Hering Tells His Story to Bank and Police Officials—Some "Leavings."

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Aug. 10.—In addition to the discovery of a private ledger kept by President Paul O. Stensland of the wrecked Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, and in which was concealed a record of $181,000 of savings bank deposits, another sensational book came to light during the examination of cashier Hering by Assistant State Attorney Olo at the bank last night.

Hering was arrested last evening two hours later than the time specified by him to surrender—4 o'clock. This book showed Stensland in a new light—that of sport and race track gambler. The book contained memoranda which showed that the missing president, in company with a coterie of friends, was a heavy plunger on the races. One day Stensland and his companions bet $25,000 to win $80,000 on a horse named General Bragg. The animal won. There were lots of losses, however, to offset this winning.

"This shows," said Hering, "as he brought the book from his hiding place, that I'm not the only fellow around here who followed the ponies." Taking Hering's Story Curo Grano. The authorities are weary of exposing implicit confidence in Hering's statement that he did not forge the names of certain notes and by implication insinuating that Stensland did.

The reason is this: For the last two or three years Stensland has not been physically perfect. His nerves have given him a lot of trouble, and so poor has been his control of them that his hands have shaken as if he had the palsy.

No waverling person could do this high grade of forgery that has been going on.

Nothing Small About Thefts. In the case of the money borrowed by Stensland from the bank Hering said that Stensland had instructed him to make between $200,000 and $800,000 in forged notes, signed carefully with the names of prominent patrons of the bank. This, he said, he did under Stensland's specific direction.

At any rate, he could have put in his pocket just before he left about $250,000 in cash and nobody would have been the wiser until he was far away. But it seems that he had a theory that so long as he gave a note, even if it was a forged one, he was giving a sort of "value received," and he persuaded himself this was not stealing.

Bankruptcy Proceedings Begin. (By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Aug. 10.—The first step in the dissolution of the out-of-side companies with which Paul O. The detachment which consisted of ten men, was greatly outnumbered, but made a gallant fight.

The Pulajanes captured three pistols, four Krag-Jorgensen rifles and three hundred rounds of ammunition.

Washington, August 10.—Julita, where Lieutenant James and others were killed by Pulajanes is a barrio, or ward, of the city of Burauen, which has been the scene of three serious conflicts between the regulars, the constabulary and the Pulajanes within a few weeks.

Contract Surgeon Calvin D. Snyder was born in Baltimore, Md., on July 15, 1878, and entered the military service on August 5, 1898. He had been on duty in the Philippines since December 2, 1899. Surgeon Snyder graduated in 1888 from the University of Maryland Medical School. His father, L. W. Snyder, resides at 409 South street, Baltimore, Md.

First Lieutenant John F. James was born in Virginia on May 3, 1878, and entered the army from that state. He graduated from the infantry and cavalry school in 1894 and from the staff college in 1895.

Lieutenant James enlisted as a sergeant in the Virginia volunteers in May, 1898, and served in that capacity until July 20, 1898, when he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant. He was honorably discharged on February 22, 1899. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Eighth Infantry on April 10, 1899, and was made a first lieutenant on February 2, 1901.

The Operatives Are Demanding Shorter Hours

A NUMBER QUIT WORK

The Demand is For Ten Instead of Eleven Hours Work—The Day is Mostly by the Piece—Adjustment Expected Soon—Carpenters' Strike Situation.

A number of operatives of Melrose knitting mill have gone out on a strike demanding shorter hours. They walked out yesterday afternoon and no agreement has yet been reached. Their demand is for sixty hours work instead of sixty-six hours per week as heretofore.

It seems that the operatives are mostly paid by the piece, but they claim that they could really make more money even on piece work by working ten hours than eleven as at present.

President Van Moore of the Melrose mill said when asked as to the situation today, that there were not more than eight or ten operatives out, and that the management of the mill has as yet made no answer as to the demands the operatives are making.

He says the officials of the mill were not given more than fifteen minutes notice yesterday before the operatives walked out, and that their demands will be answered by the officers of the mill as soon as they have time to confer.

The Carpenters' Strike. The carpenters' strike is in statu quo. There have been no further developments since yesterday. It is understood that two or three more men have left the city, going to Durham to work.

All told now between sixty and seventy of the striking carpenters are at work under the unions' conditions, some in the city in the employment of persons other than the regular contractors, and those who have obtained work elsewhere. That leaves probably leaves something like 75 out of work at this time.
