RALEIGH TROOPS WANT LICENSE

HIGHLY PRAISED PRACTICE LAW

Gained Commendation of Sixty-Seven Young Men Before Supreme Court Regular Officers

AND NOBODY WAS SICK TWO OF THEM NEGROES

Lively Scene at the Station Yesterday on Arrival of the Troop Train. Major Rombo, Commanding Brown's, Was Especially Complimentary, Says Major Bernard.

The two Raleigh military companies and the band arrived home yesterday about noon after their encampment in Chickamauga Park and maneuvers with the regulars there. The boys all looked well, hearty and sunburned, and their friends were at the station to see them come in, and there was a lively time for a few minutes. The bronzed warriors got pretty well kissed, at least some of the lucky ones did, and it was even said that some of the rascals stole some that didn't belong to them in the confusion, but not enough to hurt.

On the same section with the Raleigh companies traveled the company from Sanford and the Third Regiment band from here. The train was several hours late, having been delayed in leaving the station at Latta from 10.30 Saturday morning until after 4 in the afternoon, waiting for the Tennessee troops to be moved.

Major J. J. Bernard, who was in command of the battalion containing the Raleigh companies, says that there was no real case of sickness among the Raleigh boys and no casualty. Henry Allen of the Oak City Guards was not able to perform much active duty on the trip, but he had cut his foot before leaving Raleigh, and John Hodge of the Raleigh Light Infantry was slightly sick on the way home, but was all right by the time he reached here. Moreover the major says there was no serious breach of discipline by any of the Raleigh troops.

"The boys took a high stand," said Major Bernard proudly this morning to a reporter for The Evening Times, "and did creditable service. The principal features were the strength of the regiment and the ages of the men. It was said they had more age than any regiment that had been there, and consequently more stability. They received compliments galore from the United States army officers with whom they came in contact and who had charge of them. Those officers were Brigadier General Bubb, in charge of the camp, and Major Rombo, in charge of the artillery, commanding the Brown forces, of which the Third Regiment was a part, who spoke in especially complimentary terms of the boys in the action. Then there were the officers detailed to the Third as umpires, who also gave them some instructions. They were Captain H. B. Ferguson of the engineers, who by the way is a nephew of Judge Garland S. Ferguson of the superior court bench of North Carolina, and Lieut. Rosco Hearne of Texas and Lieut. J. B. Barnes of West Virginia."

All the exhibition maneuvers, the major said, were given with the 17th regular infantry. Drills began at 7 and lasted until 12, and then there was no further duty for the day, no dress parade in the evening. All the drills were in extended order formation. The instruction was fine, the best of any previous encampment. Of course the stay was so short the boys could only get a smattering of what they needed. It was no holiday, but strictly a business camp. The Raleigh troops were located about a half mile from the railroad station at Latta, and two and a half or three miles from Fort Dodge, which is also in the park.

Court Convened at 10 O'Clock—All Five Justices on the Bench—Examination Papers Have Sixty-Six Questions—Forty-Four Must Be Answered Correctly—First District Tomorrow.

When the supreme court convened this morning for the fall term sixty-seven applicants for license to practice law in North Carolina were presented and spent the day pouring over the examination papers under the supervision of the court. Two of the applicants are negroes. The largest class on record was eighty-three, two years ago.

The court will call appeals from the first district tomorrow and the term will continue for sixteen weeks, one week being devoted to each of the sixteen districts in the state. All members of the court were here for the opening this morning—Chief Justice Walter Clark and Associate Justices H. G. Connor, Platt D. Walker, W. A. Hoke and Geo. H. Brown, Jr.

In the examination of the applicants for license to practice law the court propounded sixty-six questions, forty-four of which must be answered correctly, or substantially so, to entitle the applicant to license. There were also the usual preliminary questions as to age, the requirement for two years reading of law and the reading of the prescribed course or its equivalent.

Of the sixty-six regular questions there were six each on constitutional law, criminal law, real estate law, equity, contracts, corporation law and evidence, four each on mercantile law, and torts, two each on homestead, domestic relations and legal ethics and ten on practice.

Following is the summary of questions:

Constitutional Law	6
Criminal Law	6
Real Estate Law	6
Equity	6
Mercantile Law	6
Torts	4
Corporation	6
Evidence	6
Homestead	6
Domestic Relations	2
Practice	10
Legal Ethics	2
Total	66

COUSINS OF JEFFERSON DAVIS

Engaged for "The Clansman," Will Play in the Southern Company. (Special to the Evening Times.)
New York, August 27.—Manager George H. Brennan today engaged two cousins of the late President Jefferson Davis of the Southern Confederacy for feminine roles in "The Clansman." They will appear with the Southern company during its forty weeks tour from the coast to the gulf. The cousins of President Davis are both clever actresses. One of them, Miss Maude Durand, is already known to "Clansman" players through her work as Eve last season. Her sister, Miss Edna Davis, is a new recruit. The mother of the Davis girls was Mrs. Elizabeth Hyatt Davis, the second cousin of the Confederate President. She belonged to the branch of the family which went north and settled in Indiana. The girls are fervent admirers of the fame and achievements of the great southern leader. It has been their custom to visit Mrs. Jefferson Davis' every year and they are welcome guests at her house. On the last tour of "The Clansman" Miss Durand was the recipient of many attentions from southerners of note who were aware of her connection with the Davis family.

THE TABERNACLE EXCURSION.

Carried Over 400 People and Returned at 2 A. M.
People who went to Wilmington Saturday with the Tabernacle Baptist Sunday School excursion pronounce the trip delightful in every way despite the unappreciably late start that was made. The train was to have left Raleigh at 7 a. m. but it was 9 o'clock before it pulled out. The delay was due to the failure of coaches which were to be furnished to the Raleigh & Southport by the Seaboard Air Line to arrive earlier. They would have been brought here in ample time by the Seaboard but for a washout between Norfolk and Norfolk which also delayed the regular Seaboard trans over three hours.

When the coaches did arrive the excursionists piled in and the train pulled out immediately. The sixty miles between Raleigh and Fayetteville were covered in two hours and fifty-five minutes and the eighty-four miles between Fayetteville and Wilmington in two hours and thirty-eight minutes, the train arriving at the station in Wilmington at 2 p. m. with over four hundred people.

The train started on the return trip at 7 p. m. and arrived in Raleigh at 2 a. m.

It is understood that it is already settled that the Tabernacle school will run their excursion to Wilmington again over the same route next year sometime during June.

JAPAN TO ENTER MATCH TRUST

(By the Associated Press.)
Chicago, Aug. 27.—A special to the Tribune from San Francisco says: Japan has entered into a compact with the Diamond Match Company to form an international trust in matches on two continents. An English matter, concern dominated by Bryant & May, will be taken into the combination. Negotiations for the formation of the trust, have been in progress since the Russo-Japanese war. They were started by Russell Hawkins of New York, who was sent to Japan a year ago.

Japan for several years has carefully nursed its match making industry. The empire is an important factor in the distribution of the product throughout the far east.

The factories of the empire at first were increased in capacity so as to meet the entire consumption of Japan. Later they were enlarged to compete with foreign manufacturers in China, Australia, part of East India, and the Philippines. Eventually it gained control of the match trade in those countries, finally adding Manchuria, and holding them all as its particular territory.

Hadn't Thought Of It.
Strange that no one has suggested christening the North Carolina with a bottle of turpentine, says the Newport News Times-Herald. Not at all, considering how thoroughly she will be tarred after going into commission.—Richmond News-Leader.
