SHOT PEPPERED FACE AND NECK

Deputy U. S. Marshal Jordan Fired on from Ambush

ACT OF MOONSHINERS

Jordan Went to Serve Old Warrant—Found His Man at a Blockade Still, From Which He Ran, But Returned With a Shotgun—Officers to Raid the Neighborhood.

Deputy United States Marshal J. B. Jordan was painfully but not dangerously shot late yesterday afternoon about five miles east of Youngsville while out looking for a man for whom he had a warrant charging him with operating a blockade distillery several months ago.

White looking for the man he wanted to arrest the officer came upon him at work in another illicit distillery the existence of which was not generally known. The man ran and Jordan and his companion, Will Moore, son of Sheriff Moore of the county, proceeded to seize the still. They had loaded it on the buggy and turned back into the main road when someone fired from ambush twice in quick succession. When the second shot was fired the man showed himself and the deputy marshal recognized him as the man for whom he had the warrant and who had just run away from the still.

One of the shots took effect in Jordan's face. The lead was No. 6 shot, about squirrel size, and nine of them were buried in the officer's face. One just back of the ear penetrated about an inch and a half and together with three others have not been removed. One which entered close by the nose came out later through the nostril. The man reloaded his shotgun and fired three more shots as he ran away. Fortunately none of the others took effect.

Jordan drove to his home at Cary last night and had his wounds dressed and came on to Raleigh this morning to report the affair at the office of the United States marshal and the United States commissioner. A posse of revenue officers and deputy marshals, including Deputy Jordan, will go this afternoon or tomorrow morning in search of a number of parties who are believed to be implicated in that blockading and other offences which have led to the shooting of Jordan.

WOMEN BOUND OVER TO COURT.

(By the Associated Press.) London, Oct. 24.—Woman suffragists who were arrested yesterday for rioting in the precincts of the house of commons were arraigned in a police court today and bound over to keep the peace for six months. Such a commonplace outcome of the affair did not meet the views of the suffragists, who apparently desired to assume the roles of martyrs by being committed to jail, and when the magistrate announced his decision a great uproar broke out in the court-room and ultimately the women had to be removed by force. Some of them were literally thrown out among the crowds waiting outside the building.

The shrieking women continued to make a demonstration outside the police court until Miss Parkhurst, who took a prominent part in the disturbances in the ladies gallery in the house of commons in April, was again arrested. Some of the women who had been temporarily locked in an ante room by the police had a momentary revenge. They managed to secure a key and re-locked themselves but were again locked in by their jailer who walked off with the key. When the disturbances had somewhat subsided the police reassembled the defendants who were then informed by the magistrate that they must immediately find sureties for their good behavior or be imprisoned for two months. The whole ten women refused to enter into recognizances and were removed in custody.

JEWS PLEASED WITH STRAUSS.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt's proposed appointment of Mr. Strauss to a place in his cabinet is most gratifying, said Jacob H. Schiff today. "It is a singular and very agreeable coincidence that the announcement comes almost simultaneously with that of the appointment of General Picquart, who championed Dreyfus, to the portfolio of war in the new French cabinet. "I take it that Mr. Strauss' appointment is not only a well deserved compliment to the man and his qualifications, but at the same time a desire on the part of the president to recognize the good citizenship of the Jews of the United States."

"GOOD FOR BEARER" TICKETS ARE WITHDRAWN.

(By the Associated Press.) Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 24.—The Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh today notified Commissioner Donald of the Central Passenger Association that as the Erie Railroad had withdrawn their "good for bearer" mileage ticket from the Central Passenger Association territory the Pennsylvania would not issue their "good for bearer" flat two cent book on November 1 as contemplated. Recently the Erie Railroad Company gave notice that their "good for bearer" ticket would be good both in trunk line and central passenger association territory and the Pennsylvania met this competition. The officials of the Pennsylvania lines in this city decline to talk.

Millard Mial Talks of the Canvass.

Crowds Better, He Thinks, in This Kind of Weather Than on Fair Days—Secretary Leach Speaks of Increased Interest in the Registration—Cotton Crops.

Mr. Millard Mial, democratic candidate for the house of representatives from this county, was at county headquarters this morning, and said that so far as he could see things were very satisfactory politically throughout the county; that all the meetings he had attended were perfectly harmonious. He added that he believed the crowds were better during this rainy weather than in fair weather, for the reason that on good days many of the farmers would stay at home to attend to their crops.

At Wendell yesterday the crowd was pretty good, Mr. Mial said. Today the candidates are at Leesville and tonight at Cary. Tomorrow they will be at Auburn and tomorrow night at Garner. Secretary Leach said today that there had been more interest in the last few days in the registration, and he considered this very encouraging for the size of the vote.

Speaking of the cotton situation, Mr. Mial said he considered the situation very serious for the crop. What late crop the frost caught will be a total loss from rot, and what is in the field now is very inferior. Mr. Mial said he had never seen the conditions as they are now. When the cotton is picked in many instances the hull and all comes with it, the hull having rotted from the constant rains. Then, too, in many of the partially opened bolls the seed are sprouting. Things like this happen often at the far south, but are very rare in this part of the country.

GIRL LOST IN BIRMINGHAM

(By the Associated Press.) Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 24.—Mrs. J. H. Sidebottom reported to the police today the mysterious disappearance of her 18 year old daughter, Miss Fannie Fennell, from the family home on North Twenty First street. Mrs. Sidebottom believes her daughter was chloroformed and kidnapped between midnight and 5 o'clock this morning. An examination of Miss Fennell's room today showed that she had slept in her bed and left her clothes undisturbed on a chair. The mother says an odor of chloroform pervaded the room. Mrs. Sidebottom and daughter visited Denver, Col., last August and after their return, Miss Fennell, it is claimed, began receiving letters from an unknown man, who said he had seen her first out west and had followed her to Birmingham. The writer professed his love and said he would kill her if she did not get her. The letters have been turned over to the police who are working on the case. It is said that a mysterious man in black visited the house twice during last night.

Adjutant General T. R. Robertson of the North Carolina National Guard issued today commissions to J. Wash Bizzell as successor to J. A. Daugherty as captain of Company E, Second Regiment, Goldsboro, and to J. S. Lewis as first lieutenant and J. T. Dorch as second lieutenant of the company, succeeding respectively J. W. Blizzell and J. W. Saddler.

CAPTAIN WAS BRAVE TO LAST

Chose Death Rather Than Desert His Schooner

HIS FATE NOW IN DOUBT

When Help Was at Hand He Declined to Desert, and Crew Stuck by Him—Floating off the Florida Coast Trying to Reach Cuba—Following in the Deep Seas.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 24.—Somewhere far out in the Atlantic, off the Florida coast, half a dozen men perched on the roof of the after-house of the waterlogged British schooner Sirocco are struggling against wind and sea to reach a Cuban port with their almost helpless charge. The plight of the men is due in part to the heroic devotion of their captain, who, when help was at hand, chose to face death rather than abandon his ship and her cargo of lumber. He declined an offer of assistance from the steamer Parima, which ran down to him last Sunday when she was walking in the seas six hundred miles east of Florida. The captain asked only that he be given supplies to replace those which were ruined when his ship filled with water. When this request was granted, the captain and his crew settled down in their precarious quarters on the roof of the after-house and announced their determination to sail the Sirocco to Cuba. The Sirocco sailed from St. John, N. B., September 27, with a cargo of lumber for Cardenas. All went well until October 8, when off the coast of Maryland she ran into a fearful hurricane. Pounded and battered by wind and sea, the Sirocco was thrown about like a cork, some of her beams were ripped open, and she began to fill. Before the storm had abated, her hull was filled, her decks washed, and the deck houses were flooded. All the stores for the voyage which were in the houses were ruined by sea water and the men were in a sad plight when the Parima hove in sight. With the aid of the provisions supplied by the Parima, however, they expressed a hope to be able to reach Cuba in safety. The Sirocco is owned by Troop & Son of St. John, N. B.

GAS EXPLOSION AT BEAUFORT.

(Special to the Evening Times.) New Bern, N. C., Oct. 24.—The boarding house of Miss Sarah Davis at Beaufort was badly damaged last evening by acetylene gas. A colored man went to the tank to adjust it, taking a lamp with him, and the explosion occurred. The negro received serious injuries. There was no fire resulting from the explosion.

FOUGHT DUEL OVER CORPSE

(By the Associated Press.) Jackson, Ky., Oct. 24.—William McIntosh was brought here today from Athol, where he was desperately wounded in a fight with Moses Caudill yesterday. Caudill was instantly killed by Robert McIntosh. The McIntosh boys had gone to the home of Caudill, who married their sister, to take away the little daughter of their sister, who had died. Caudill resented this and the fight followed. Samuel McIntosh, a third brother, was arrested and is in jail charged with complicity in the killing.

HARTJE CASE COMES UP AGAIN

Society Woman Star Witness Against Coachman

PERJURY THE CHARGE

Evidence in the Divorce Suit Admitted as Evidence in Criminal Court at Pittsburg—Effort Being Made to Convict Negro Who Slandered Woman.

(By the Associated Press.) Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 24.—Only those directly connected with the trial of Clifford Howe the former negro coachman of Amherst, Pa., who is charged with perjury in connection with alleged depositions reflecting on Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje were permitted in criminal court today when the case was called. Mrs. Hartje, who will be a star witness in the case, was on hand, but she was not brought into the courtroom, remaining sequestered in the district attorney's office. It is said the commonwealth expects to move by her that she was not at home on the dates mentioned by Howe in his deposition, and therefore the story he told in that statement could not be true. When the trial was resumed, Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., offered in evidence the entire record in the divorce case of Augustus Hartje against Mary Scott Hartje. This was objected to by Attorney J. Scott Ferguson on behalf of Howe, who claimed that it was incompetent and irrelevant. Judge Fraser overruled the objection. While this offer included all the records in the case, the bulky testimony taken in this case was not brought into court, all other papers except the testimony being shown.

TIMES STORY CORRECT

Car Line Extension Depends Upon the People

Mr. Carr, General Manager, Admits Correctness of Article in Evening Times—Not Responsible, of Course, for Headlines.

Mr. Carr, general manager of the street car system, when asked by a representative of The Evening Times today in regard to the local article in the morning paper, admitted that he had stated in conversation what was published in The Evening Times on Monday. Mr. Carr, however, as most people know, was in no way responsible for the headlines. That article was as follows: When asked how soon the proposed belt line and extension of the street car and electric light systems would be completed, one of the officers of the company said today: "I cannot tell. In making our plans for the extension of the system, we did not calculate upon having to meet the municipal ownership question. Of course it would be folly for us to go on and spend a lot of money on the system if the city is to force us to sell out at a ruinous price, or force such a reduction of rates as to make its operation a losing business. Matters are in such shape at present that I cannot say what or when extension will be made, if at all. We are able to put these things through if the attitude of the people of Raleigh is such as to justify it, but what is finally done will depend entirely upon them."

BAD WRECK ON PENNSYLVANIA

(By the Associated Press.) Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 24.—Train No. 310 of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania lines west known as "the Pittsburgh special" jumped the tracks, shortly after noon today, a little distance below Bellevue station, six miles west of Allegheny. The engine and several cars left the tracks and the engine went over the bank and slipped down into the Ohio. The first reports to the office of Superintendent A. M. Schoyer, were that none of the passengers were hurt but that the fireman and the engineer were badly injured. The train left Cleveland at eight o'clock this morning and was due to arrive in Pittsburgh at 11:10, central time, or 12:10 city time. Physicians from the Allegheny General Hospital left for Bellevue at once on a special engine and the ambulance from the Bellevue suburban hospital was summoned to the scene. A man watching the wreck

NEGRO CHASED WHITE NURSE

Goes to Roads for About 14 Months

MRS. JONES' TESTIMONY

A Nurse at Soldiers' Home Badly Frightened by John Arrington, Who Jumped Out at Her From Behind Telephone Pole and Chased Her to Her Very Gate.

John Arrington, a negro, was convicted this morning in the police court of chasing and frightening Mrs. Mary Jones, a nurse, at the hospital at the Soldiers' Home, about two weeks ago. It came out on the trial that Arrington is the same negro who was charged two years ago with pursuing a nurse on the streets of Raleigh with his person exposed. He left the city at that time before he could be caught. Police Justice Badger sentenced him to twelve months on the roads, and he will have to stay there about fourteen or fifteen months in all on account of the costs. There was another case against him this morning for being drunk in the market yesterday. The police say Arrington is a mean negro, and that he is always trying to frighten white women on the streets. It appears that on October 8, according to Mrs. Jones' testimony, she was returning from the Soldiers' Home at about ten minutes after six o'clock as was her custom, to her own home on Fayetteville street near North, below the Centennial school. It was getting dark and the street lights were just up. Mrs. Jones was going home as she generally did, through Newberry avenue to Blount, down Blount to South and through South to Fayetteville. On South street between Blount and Wilmington, as she was passing a telephone pole, a negro jumped out and said: "Stop!" Mrs. Jones said: "I have no business to transact with you," and passed on. He cried out: "B-r-r-r, I'm going to get you or Sue Austin one." Mrs. Jones then started to run with the man in pursuit, every minute saying "B-r-r-r," as if to frighten her. At the street crossings he would let up a little and she would gain on him, and then he would gain on her, but never actually came up to her. At Fayetteville street Mrs. Jones came up with two other ladies, and the man passed them. Then when Mrs. Jones started home he pursued her again to the very gate of her house. A little later she came up the street with Walter Fowler, who lives nearby, and they saw Arrington sitting in front of a store in the neighborhood. Mrs. Jones at once identified him as the man who had chased her. Mr. Fowler testified that he started to go into the store to telephone for a policeman when Arrington got up and ran. Mr. Fowler and several others pursued him, but could not catch him then. On the stand Arrington declared he had done nothing whatever, had not gotten behind the pole and had not chased or tried to frighten Mrs. Jones and had not run when Mr. Fowler started to telephone for a policeman. He trembled visibly when City Attorney Snow asked him if he did not leave town two years ago because he was accused of chasing a lady on the street with his person exposed, and swore he was not guilty of that.

CAROLINA TEAM READY FOR GAME

Great Battle of Year to be Fought Saturday

TAR HEELS CONFIDENT

Struggle On Gridiron At Richmond Saturday Takes Place of Virginia-Carolina Game—Elevens Finely Matched and Chapel Hill Predicts a Triumph—How They Played Heretofore.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 24.—The University of North Carolina recognizes the match with V. P. I., in Richmond, Saturday, as taking the place, to an extent of the annual contest with Virginia, and in preparation for the death struggle that is inevitable, the squad is training this week as it has not trained before this season. The Tar Heels do not expect a walk-over, nor even a liberal score, but they are confident of bringing home the honors. Coach Kienholz has surmounted a number of discouraging obstacles in putting out this year's team. One of the principal of these—as is quite generally known—was the absence of old players. Of the eleven who suffered defeat at the hands of the plucky Virginians last year, only two will be in the game Saturday. Practically all of the players are new to the game—but they are a gritty, determined, hard-playing lot. This was made apparent in the game with the Pennsylvanians, whom they forced to fight for every inch of distance in the Philadelphia game. Since there will be no Virginia-Carolina game, quite a number of students will follow the team to Richmond Saturday to do their part on the side lines. The team will probably line-up as follows: Centre, Rogers, weight 150 pounds; right guard, Morrow, 220; left guard, E. A. Thompson, 170; right tackle, J. M. Thompson, 170; left tackle, Singletary, 160; right end, Pittman, 150; left end, Davis, 155; right half back, McNeill, 162; left half back, Dunlap, 163; full back, Story, 180; quarter back, Mann, 130. When the lightness of the men and the hard games recently are considered it is a cause of some wonder that the team is in splendid condition. Captain Story has made an excellent record this year by his goal kicking, fine defensive work and line-plugging. Mann has used good judgment for a new player in handling the team, and on the defense, has always protected his goal from all who leaked through the line or escaped the ends. McNeill's strength lies in his ability to make distance around the ends. He has made several brilliant runs this season. Dunlap, who is gritty enough and a hard-worker, has played in bad luck. Davis makes a specialty of wonderful tackles and uses his head to good advantage in anticipating the other's sides plays. Singletary is swift, quick and hard-worker. Morrow's weight is enough to make him an invincible guard. E. A. Thompson, though a new man, plays an ever-ready and determined game. J. M. Thompson, one of the old men, is an all-around player, who has been found formidable by many an opponent. Rogers and Pittman have been denied the chance to do any brilliant playing, are expected to take advantage of the first opportunity. The score of V. P. I. and Carolina since they first played against each other in 1895 are as follows: 1895—V. P. I., 5; Carolina, 22. 1896—V. P. I., 0; Carolina, 0. 1897—V. P. I., 4; Carolina, 0. 1898—V. P. I., 6; Carolina, 28. 1899—No game. 1900—V. P. I., 0; Carolina, 0. 1901—No game. 1902—V. P. I., 0; Carolina, 0. 1903—V. P. I., 25; Carolina, 0. 1904—V. P. I., 0; Carolina, 5. 1905—V. P. I., 35; Carolina, 6. Total—V. P. I., 75; Carolina, 71.
