

Advice to Women

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

All sick women are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law, Lydia E. Pinkham, in advising. Thus she is especially well qualified to give advice to sick women. Write today don't wait until too late.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she is constantly receiving testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer. Neither has she ever disposed of her confidential letters in any other way. Every one of the hundreds of thousands of letters written to her by confiding women has to-day under lock and key in the Company's laboratory at Lynn, Mass. Remember, the best medicine for women is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

EVERY WOMAN SHOULD CONSIDER THESE FACTS

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, became necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has overcome more cases of female ills than any other one medicine.

It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the illnesses of women.

RETURN THE BOY, NO QUESTIONS ASKED

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Dover, Del., March 27.—The Marvin kidnapping case took a new phase last night, when Dr. Marvin, father of the missing boy, announced that he will deposit $1,000 in the Farmers Bank here today in the care of Cashier Walter Morris. This will be paid to any one who will return the abducted child, with no questions asked.
Dr. Marvin also stated that he will pay an additional $1,000 for information leading to the restoration of his boy. This also will probably be deposited in the same bank.
Dr. Marvin gained this idea from recent letters received in his mail, now coming to him direct instead of first going to the Pinkertons. He expressed a belief that the little fellow would be returned to him within the next few days.
"I am of the opinion," he said, "that if the kidnapers can be assured of no prosecution they will return my child. Heretofore they have been afraid of the Pinkertons. My views in this direction have been largely corroborated by Detective Murphy, who returned here today from New York."
Murphy conferred with Dr. Marvin before departing for Philadelphia, and said that he knew that the boy is alive. He says he has a clue that may result in the recovery of the child.

A Republic Proclaimed Amid Murder and Pillage.

Concessions to the People.
By order of the king, the government has issued a proclamation in which it is agreed that the government will immediately take steps for the reduction of taxes and for a more equitable distribution of land. Hereafter a farmer will not be allowed to lease more than 8,000 acres. The government also agrees to either cultivate lands now vacant, or lease them to the peasants. There is no foundation for the reports that the agitation is anti-semitic, but is essentially agrarian in its origin.
The revolutionists were induced to retire from Braha, and the north province of Moldavia is now tranquil.

"Silent Smith," the wealthiest bachelor in the world, was the despair of mothers of marriageable daughters of the Four Hundred for sixteen years. He became a factor in their calculations in 1899, when his uncle, eccentric old George Smith, died and left him sole heir to an estate of $50,000,000.
Before then Mr. Smith was little known outside a small circle of friends.

THE SUB-TREASURY ROBBERY INVESTIGATION.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Chicago, March 27.—The absence of Louis Mueller, auditor in the sub-treasury, from his post yesterday revived rumors concerning the investigation of the loss of $173,000. It was Mueller who announced a week ago that he intended to retire from the service and go to Europe. Sub-Treasurer Boldenweck said that Mueller had said that his eyes were failing, also that Mueller had abandoned his proposed European trip. Mr. Boldenweck had a long conference with Captain Porter, of the excise service in the afternoon, but reported that nothing new concerning the money had been discovered. George W. Fitzgerald, the suspended assessor, also reported to Captain Porter.

MORGAN ENDORSES THE PLAN OF SCHIFF

(Special Cable to The Times.)
London, March 27.—It became known here today that J. Pierpont Morgan has sent a cable message to President Roosevelt, urging him to give Jacob H. Schiff's plan for a conference of representatives of the railroads and the interstate commerce commission careful consideration.
Every financier who discussed Mr. Schiff's proposal today said it was a move in the right direction. It was far better, they agreed, that the railroads should be responsible to one legislative body than harassed by the legislatures of the several states.

TESTIMONY IN THE STANDARD OIL CASE.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Chicago, March 27.—At the trial of the Standard Oil Company in the federal court yesterday, A. W. Hand for the last fifteen years station agent for the Chicago & Alton Railroad at Summit, Ill., the first station below Chappell, testified that a notice of the company that freight rates would be quoted to shippers by the agent had been posted on the ways of his office for many years.
"You were in the office of Mr. Eddy, counsel for the Standard Oil Company, during the month of February, were you not?" Attorney Moritz Rosenthal said. "Did you not sign a deposition that the notice was not posted?"
Hand tried to reply, but Mr. Rosenthal would not let him. On re-direct examination, Special District Attorney Wilkerson drew from the witness that what he meant in the affidavit was the posting of tariffs. He brought out also that Hand had been first summoned to the legal department of the Alton and from there sent to the Standard Oil Company.
George W. Kennedy, agent at Chappell, testified regarding the payment by the Alton of the switching charges for hauling the cars from Whiting, Ind., to Chappell. John C. Ryan, clerk in the Alton freight offices at St. Louis, was on the witness stand when court adjourned.

NARROW ESCAPE OF PRESIDENT GARRETT.

(Special to The Evening Times.)
Norfolk, Va., March 27.—As President W. A. Garrett, of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, was speeding over the rails between Suffolk and Portsmouth late yesterday afternoon, something gave way under his private car and the coach was derailed and went bumping along over the crossties, tearing and twisting the tracks for a hundred yards or more.
The only thing that saved the president's car from overturning was a high embankment through which his train was passing. The locomotive broke away from the car, but was brought to a standstill a short distance away.
The driving wheels had left the track, but the front-truck hung on tenaciously. Aside from the shock sustained no one was hurt.

DRIVEN MAD BY THE THAW TRIAL

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Norristown, Pa., March 27.—Constant reading of the details of the Thaw murder trial so preyed on the mind of Emma E. Rudolph, 16 years old, of North Wales, that she has become violently insane, and, on the recommendation of a commission in Lunacy, was removed today to the Norristown hospital for the insane.

PRESIDENT FINLEY'S PLEA FOR HARMONY

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Washington, March 27.—President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway, made a plea today for harmony between the railroads and the people. In an interview he said:
"Not only do I believe that it is to the interest of both the railroads and the people that a spirit of harmony and co-operation and of fair and just dealing should be fostered, but I believe that in the present state of affairs, it is the patriotic duty of every man to contribute his utmost towards bringing about these better relations. The future prosperity of the country depends in a large measure upon the correct solution of the transportation problem. The railroads should treat every purchaser of transportation with justice and fairness and the people should be equally just and fair to the roads. When differences arise they should be discussed freely and frankly and every endeavor should be made to settle them in accordance with fair business principles. Under such conditions there would be little need of statute laws for the regulation of the purchase and sale of transportation and few occasions would arise for appeals to state and federal commissions."

Thaw Faces a Board of Lunacy

vious occasion. This was especially true of Evelyn Thaw, who appeared to be on the verge of tears.
The commission left the court room shortly after Thaw left. Mr. Garvan said that they had previously been sworn in in the justice's private room. The three commissioners gazed inquisitively at Thaw while he was occupying his seat at the counsel table. Thaw appeared to be oblivious of the searching glances of his inquisitors.
His expression was, if anything, more cheerful than previously.
Lawyer Delmas was not in court. There was a new member in the seats occupied by the Thaw family. The son of Lawyer Henry Clay McPike sat on the right of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and talked with her. He is a young man about eighteen and his presence caused considerable comment until his identity was learned.
Justice Fitzgerald left to the discretion of the commission the date for their first session. The commission decided to notify Lawyer Hartridge, as attorney of record for Thaw, of the time for their first sitting. It has not yet been announced when they will hold their first session. It is presumed that they will settle this question at a meeting today, as well as the question whether the sessions will be public or private.
The lunacy commission were sworn in by Justice Fitzgerald at 3 o'clock this afternoon.
