PIANO RECITAL AT THE BAPTIST UNIVERSITY.

A large audience was present at the piano recital given Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the Baptist University by Miss Eula Wright of Asheville, a member of the senior class in piano playing.

Miss Wright presented a well-selected program of piano compositions, representing the classic, romantic and modern schools, and performed them in a very creditable manner. Her technique was clear, her interpretation musically and poetic; in fact, her work was far above the usual run of graduate recitals.

Miss Wright was assisted by Miss Phyllis Woodall, violinist, a junior violin student in the class of Mr. Hagedorn. Her ensemble work in the Mozart Sonata was creditable, and in the 22nd Concerto for violin, by Vioetti, which was played as a solo, she made a most favorable impression. She is a talented young woman, and with close application will make an excellent violinist. The next recital will be Tuesday afternoon, April 30th, at 4:30, by Miss Sallie Parham, a pupil of Miss Cronkrite. The public is invited.

LOOKS INTO CHARGES MADE BY MR. SELF

Chairman Beckwith Returns From a Trip to Morganton—Will Make Report.

Mr. B. C. Beckwith, chairman of the state board of internal improvements, has returned from Morganton, where he went several days ago to look over the field for the purpose of seeing if there was any foundation for the charges made by Mr. W. A. Self, an attorney of Hickory, in connection with the death of Miss Jessie Ball, a teacher employed at the State Deaf and Dumb School at Morganton, who committed suicide. In the hearing on the exceptions to the report filed last December when Mr. Beckwith made an investigation in regard to certain charges that were made against Superintendent I. McK. Goodwin, Mr. Self said it was rumored around Morganton that Miss Ball was persecuted in a petty way and had it led her to commit suicide, the reason assigned for the persecution being, that she testified at the investigation and her evidence was not favorable to the superintendent.

This morning Mr. Beckwith went to the governor's office for the purpose of talking over the situation with him, but on account of pressing business that had to be looked after the governor decided to take the matter up Wednesday morning when Mr. Beckwith will lay the situation before him. If it is found necessary another investigation will be held.

COFFEE DELIRIUM

Child Lies Awake Nights and Talks to Himself.

To be active during the day and keep in good health requires found sleep at night.

This is especially true of children when mental and physical development is more rapid than later on.

An intelligent mother discovered that coffee was harmful, not only to herself and husband, but that it was doubly so to her boy. She writes:

"For more than twenty-five years I have been a great coffee drinker; have often tried to give it up because it made me nervous, constipated, and I could not go to sleep for several hours after retiring."

"About six months ago I finally quit coffee and began to use Postum. Now we use it three times a day; I am entirely cured of constipation, can sleep all night and do not get those nervous spells. While under the coffee habit I was pale and salivary; now even one tells me I have such a healthy complexion. Postum has certainly won the victory in our house."

"There are two persons especially who have been greatly benefited by drinking Postum instead of ordinary coffee. One, a gentleman who has been cured of dyspepsia; the other my own little boy, who was cured of a most annoying affliction, without our even consulting a physician."

"Whenever he took tea or coffee, he would lie awake at night probably three or four hours, with his eyes wide open, talking to himself and grasping at imaginary objects in the air."

"We commenced giving him Postum in place of tea or coffee. He is now a robust boy and is entirely free from those spells of wakefulness." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

ANNUAL SERMON BY REV. J. O. GUTHRIE

Rev. R. O. Guthrie preached the annual sermon for the Fuquay Springs Academy commencement last night. The services were held in the Missionary Baptist Church at Fuquay Springs, and were largely attended. "Learn of Me; Go Teach," was the subject of Mr. Guthrie's discourse, and a clearer, more logical, more practical exposition of one's duty both to God and his fellow man is not often heard.

The commencement began Saturday night with an entertainment by the Melver Literary Society; and it is stated that all who took part in the most interesting program presented acquitted themselves with such credit as to evoke from the overflowing audience prolonged applause. Indeed one young man went so far as to declare that the entertainment was far more to his taste than "The Cavanaugh," which he had witnessed a short time previously. Lord love ye! What d'ye think of that? The final exercises will take place tonight when the annual concert will be rendered and medals awarded. The teachers say this concert will be the best thing on the program.

FUQUAY WORKING FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The people of Fuquay Springs are again indicating the deep interest they feel in education by their works. A petition to the state school board is being widely circulated asking that the high school for lower Wake be established there. Among the advantages claimed for Fuquay Springs are: its accessibility owing to its location at the junction of the Raleigh & Southport and Durham & Southern railways and the number of roads free for the most part of mud or dust leading from the springs in every direction of the compass; the large and well equipped school building located at this point; the health record of the place; and last, but not least of all, the wonderful curative and tonic properties of the famous Fuquay Springs water. The people feel confident that the school will be located there, and the petition is being signed by practically all to whom it is presented.

SENATOR OVERMAN IN RALEIGH TODAY

Senator Lee S. Overman, who was called to Raleigh by the death of Mrs. A. S. Merrimon, arrived in the city yesterday from the Jamestown Exposition. He was one of the nine senators and fifteen representatives who were present and took part in the exercises attending the opening of the big fair.

Mr. Overman will return from here to his home at Salisbury, where he will remain two weeks before proceeding to Washington to take part in the congressional investigation of the Brownsville affair. The senator stands flat-footed with the president in this matter, and has had several fits with Senator Foraker, who is the chief agitator in the investigation. The date for reopening the question is May 14.

FURNISH ICE FOR ST. LUKE'S HOME

Rev. R. S. Stephenson, superintendent of the Board of Charities, has received a request from Col. F. A. Olds, secretary of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, asking the association to furnish ice to St. Luke's Home. The Associated Charities furnished ice to this institution last summer, and Col. Olds expresses the appreciation of those connected with the home for the association's kindness. Mr. Stephenson has complied with Col. Olds' request.

"Your request," he writes, "for ice for St. Luke's Home is granted. I am sure all the subscribers of the Associated Charities will heartily endorse my action in granting your request for such a noble cause."
