Everything is Practically in Readi ess for the Unveiling of the ne of Worth Bagley-Statue Placed in Position.

The Worth Bagley statue was placed in position late yesterday afternoon and everything about the status is now completed. It was quite a task raising the large bronze statue to its position on the pedestal, but it was accomplished without a mishap, Mr. Ramsey, of Salisbury, having super-intended the work. Everything is now practically in readiness for the unveil-ing, and it is expected that some of the guests will arrive in the city to-morrow. The mother of Ensign Bagsy and his sister have already arrived in Raieigh.

The many flags loaned by the United | John Nichols of Raleigh. War Department for the sion are today being strung along Fayetteville street and causes the city o present quite a military appearance. More flags will be used without a doubt than ever before for a celebra-tion of any kind in this city and many of them are very large United States
