

ART IN THE SCHOOLS

What the Children of Raleigh are Doing

Work of the Students Shows Care and is Often Highly Complimentary to Pupils and Teachers—Samples on Exhibition at Woman's Club House.

There was on exhibition yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Clubhouse on Salisbury street, a collection of drawings made during the past year by the pupils of the high and public schools of Raleigh. These should engage the attention and interest of every one who wishes well to the cause of education and to the children of this city.

It is becoming more and more the consensus of those well informed on such subjects that knowledge of and some skill in drawing is a most useful adjunct to every kind of education. Quite apart from any idea of artistic accomplishment or special training, such a possession gives a person a distinct and accurate appreciation of every object seen and of conveying a clear idea of it to others which can be gained in no other way.

The present exhibition is the result of two years of practical experiment, and no better proof of its success could be offered. Of course the skilled execution and perfection of detail attained in professional schools of art, where every hour of the working day is devoted to this one study, is not to be looked for here, but when one considers the two scanty half hours a week accorded the pupil, and the utter inaptness of childish eyes and hands so rarely exercised, the outcome is certainly surprising, and one cannot too highly praise the efforts of the teacher who has managed under such difficulties and with material so refractory to secure such a high general average.

No one could expect the picturesque and romantic in style and subject which might grace a salon or finished artist. The subjects here were simple enough, a few common cups, vases, and other vessels for domestic use, some sprays bearing leaves and flowers, a very few rough sketches of schoolmates in their everyday clothes; the style is artless, sometimes awkward, but is always an earnest attempt to reproduce these homely objects in as homely a way, but these attempts, under Miss Slocum's skillful guidance, are always more or less successful.

AMONG THE CLERGY

Coffee Being Replaced by Postum Food Coffee.

"I am the wife of a minister. About three years ago a warm friend, an exemplary mother and the conscientious wife of a minister, asked me if I had ever tried giving up coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. I had been telling her of my excessive nervousness and ill health. She said: 'We drink nothing else for breakfast but Postum, and it is a delight and comfort to have something that we do not have to refuse the children when they ask for it.'

"I was surprised that she would permit the children to drink even the food coffee, but she explained that it was a most healthful beverage and that the children thrived on it. A very little thought convinced me that for brain work, one should have food and the very best of food.

"My first trial of Postum was a failure. The maid of all work brought it to the table, lukewarm, weak, and altogether lacking in character. We were in despair, but decided on one more trial. At the second trial we faithfully followed the directions, used four teaspoonfuls to the pint of water, let it boil full fifteen minutes after the real boiling began, and served it with rich cream. It was delicious and we were all won.

"I have since sung the praise of Postum Food Coffee on many, many occasions and have induced numbers of friends to abandon coffee and use Postum, with remarkable results. The wife of a college professor said to me a short time ago that nothing had ever produced so marked a change in her husband's health as the leaving off of coffee and the use of Postum in its place. CHILD BURNED TO DEATH NEAR AUBURN

News reached the city last night of the tragic death of the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gowell, who live in this county, near Auburn. The funeral will take place this afternoon. The little boy and several playmates had been left in the house alone, and in some way, either by a match or getting too near a fire that was burning in one of the rooms, the boy's clothes caught on fire and before the flames could be extinguished he had received injuries from which he died several hours later. The child was burned about 9:30 in the morning and died at about 2 in the afternoon. The news was received here through a neighbor of Mr. Gowell who came to Raleigh after a casket.

The other children were not burned.

ENDORSED BY THE ASSEMBLY

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Columbus, O., May 23.—Leaders of the anti-saloon league yesterday afternoon after a bitter fight, forced the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church to recognize their organization. The committee on church polity yesterday decided to ignore the league, whose members today carried their battle to the floor of the convention and won, the general assembly endorsing the league as "a safe, sane and effective organization in the work of temperance."

A resolution urging that the moral influence of the church be brought to bear on publishers of church literature, to exclude patent medicine advertising suspected of being misleading or fraudulent, was passed by the assembly, as was also a resolution approving the universal peace movement, and the recommendation that pastors use patriotic occasions to preach the gospel of peace. It was unanimously voted not to change the church name from "The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America" to "The American Presbyterian Church."

STOLEN JEWELS HID IN HER BLONDE HAIR

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, May 23.—When Annie Cooperstein, a maid employed in the home of Theodore Simon, a manufacturer, at No. 201 West One Hundred and Seventeenth street, was arrested last night on suspicion of having stole $2,545 worth of jewelry, she looked the personification of innocence. The maids of the west 125th street police station noticed, however, that there was an unusual bulge to the girl's front hair, and decided to investigate. Cleverly concealed in the "rat" under Annie's blonde locks was found the missing property, worth $1,000, a diamond necklace, three diamond rings, a band ring and a lady's gold watch.

SCHWAB WARMLY DEFENDS COREY

Schwab in the Bethlehem Steel Company. This is the latest report among local steel men. Mr. Schwab, when in the city last Monday, is said to have expressed himself emphatically to intimate friends on the recent attacks on President Corey. Schwab left no room for doubt as to the warm feeling he still has toward his former associate in the steel corporation.

WANT SEABOARD TO BUILD SUITABLE DEPOT AT WYATT'S.

There was a hearing before the corporation commission yesterday afternoon in regard to requiring the Seaboard Air Line to build a station at Wyatt's, a flag station between Neuse and Wake Forest. Several citizens from that section were present to urge that the railroad company be required to build the station. It was contended on the part of the railroad that it was not necessary to have a station at this point, the railroad's representatives asked for ten days' time in which to make further investigations, which request was granted. The Seaboard was represented by Judge Womack and Superintendent Witt.

UPHOLD THE RATE LAW BOND BY THE HOLLANDS

Attorneys are Employed on Part of the State

Incidents on Time When Contention is to Be Held Among Attorneys—Attorney General Gilmer Will Take Active Part in the Fight.

Announcement was made this morning by the corporation commission of the attorneys who are to represent the state in the suit brought to restrain the corporation commission from putting into effect the passenger and freight rates as fixed in a bill passed by the last legislature. It will be remembered that a temporary restraining order was issued by Judge Pritchard several days ago, and the hearing takes place in Asheville the latter part of June. The rates are supposed to become effective on the first of July.

Attorney General Gilmer is made a party to the suit, as well as the corporation commission, and he is going to take an active part in the fight to uphold the law as passed by the last legislature. It was feared that Attorney General Gilmer might not be able to actively participate in the suit, but he is much improved in health since his return, and the people of the state will be glad to know that this able attorney will be in the fight to have the law observed.

The attorneys who will represent the state are: Attorney General Gilmer, Judge James E. Shepherd, of Raleigh; ex-Congressman Fred A. Woodard of Wilson, Winston D. Bryant of Durham, and State Senator Walter E. Daniel of Weldon. A conference was held this morning between the members of the corporation commission, Attorney General Gilmer and Judge James E. Shepherd, in regard to the time that the attorneys should meet with the commission and talk over the case. It was decided to meet next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, at which time all of the attorneys who are to appear on behalf of the state are expected to be present.

INDICTED FOR KILLING DOG. A REQUISITION DENIED.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Guthrie, Okla., May 23.—Indicted for killing a dog valued at $5 belonging to a Vienna, Ill., man, Oscar Stout fled from the Illinois town and found refuge at Weatherford, Okla. Today a requisition from Governor Dineen was received by the governor of Oklahoma asking for Stout's arrest and return to Illinois. In the absence of the governor, Charles Eileen, acting for the governor, said: "The killing of a $5 dog and Oscar's get away hardly warrant my action and I shall decline to do anything."

The shooting was the result of a controversy over sheep-killing dogs. The requisition sets forth that the unfortunate canine's mortal wound was "of a depth of six inches and of the width of one-half inch."

The Case of R. L. Godwin, Trustee in Bankruptcy, Against the Erwin Cotton Mill Company is Being Tried in Harnett Court.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Lillington, N. C., May 23.—Superior court is in session here, Judge E. B. Jones presiding.

This is the first time in the history of the county that Harnett has been allowed to work its own convicts on the roads of the county. By special act of the legislature, Lillington township is allowed this privilege. Judge Jones has sentenced three negroes to the roads, and it is probable that three or four more may be sent before the docket is cleared.

"Jeems" Eddy McLean will have to serve 12 months for assault with deadly weapon. And Jessie McNeill four months for a similar offense. Tom Byrd was given 18 months for abetting a negro girl. Will Atkinson was fined $50 and costs for resisting an officer. Frank Dorman, white, was fined $75 and costs for breaking in a guard-house at Duke and releasing a prisoner. The court is now trying the case of R. L. Godwin, trustee in bankruptcy, vs. Erwin Cotton Mill Co., which promises to be a long drawn out case.

The Hollands of Dunn, who are charged with burning their store to get insurance, in the spring of 1904, will appear today and give bond, which has been fixed at $500 each. This case was tried last March before O. P. Shell, justice of the peace, of Dunn, and after a thorough investigation, was dismissed, as the state failed to make out probable cause. But the matter was presented before the grand jury, at this term of court, and they returned a true bill. The defense have retained as counsel Messrs. E. F. Young and J. C. Clifford of Dunn. Attorneys W. A. Stewart and C. M. Muse will assist in the prosecution.
