

WANT THE AUDITORIUM

Chamber of Commerce in Favor of Bond Issue

Several Important Matters Discussed by the Chamber—Will Appoint a Committee to Urge Acceptance of Street Car Extension Proposition.

The chamber of commerce held a very important meeting last night, at which was discussed several matters of considerable importance to the city of Raleigh, the most important perhaps being that in regard to the bond issue for an auditorium.

In the days gone by Raleigh was the convention town of the state, but in recent years there has been no auditorium of sufficient size for a convention of any consequence, and until such an auditorium is built this city has no hopes of getting conventions. The chamber expressed its approval of the proposed issue of $100,000 in bonds for a municipal building and auditorium.

Resolved, That the chamber of commerce has learned with pleasure that the board of aldermen is considering the question of the submission to the voters of the city of a bond issue for the erection of an auditorium and municipal building. The directors of the chamber of commerce are empowered to represent the chamber at any time they can aid in the success of the measure.

The offer of the Raleigh Electric Company to extend its lines for a distance of about three and a half miles, provided the city would agree to grade certain streets, was discussed, members of the chamber being heartily in favor of accepting the proposition. A resolution was passed requesting that the president of the chamber of commerce, president of the merchants' association, and president of the industrial club appoint a committee of 100 citizens to go before the board of aldermen and urge the acceptance of the proposition.

It was decided to give a big barbecue on the first day of July by the present citizens of Raleigh to those who are now on the outside but who will become citizens on the first of next month.

Colonel Olds was instructed to prepare an article showing the points of interest in and around Raleigh, and to have the same published in pamphlet form for the benefit of excursionists. Raleigh, it was pointed out, should be a great excursion center, and an effort is going to be made this summer to get a larger number of excursionists here than ever before.

MURDERER JAILED AT SALISBURY

(Special to The Evening Times.) Salisbury, N. C., June 12.—Deputy A. M. Rice yesterday afternoon went out to Lane Brothers' camp, six miles from Salisbury, and brought back a negro who the night before killed another negro, neither of whose names was learned. The fellows disputed in the camp about some dope that the dead man was attempting to sell to the women who did not desire to buy. He wanted a dollar for the drink and worried the women so long that the prisoner told him to let them alone. The dead man then drew a pistol and began to snap it when the defendant

THE DOCTOR LAUGHED

But the Woman Was Frightened. A physician of Columbus, Ga., rather poked fun at a lady patient who insisted she had heart disease. The trouble really was caused by coffee drinking, and the nerves were so affected that it gave her every indication of heart disease. This is true of thousands of people who are badly hurt by the caffeine of coffee, and it is understood that if continued long enough, real organic heart disease will set in.

"The lady referred to above says: 'I had been running down in health for a number of years and suspected that coffee was hurting me but could not get up courage to quit it. My heart troubled me so that I was very short of breath, and could do little or nothing that required exertion. I had fearful nervous headaches nearly every day, and was exceedingly nervous, with indigestion and badly constipated.'

"The doctor laughed at my idea of heart trouble, but knew that I was in a serious condition generally. Finally I was induced to quit coffee and take up Postum Food Coffee. The change has been wonderful. I feel like another person.

"My heart does not trouble me at all, and the stomach and nerves are decidedly improved. My head does not give me the old trouble it did, while the bowels are regular without any purgatives or medicine of any kind.

Heard into his neck and killed him. The prisoner did not try to escape, and will plead self-defense. The Stately authorities have not yet been able to gain any clue as to the midnight robbers of the St. Clair Mercantile Company of that place Monday night. Persons in the store were aroused by a noise that appeared to have come from thunder and did not think seriously of it. Yesterday morning on going to the front door, it was found that it had been broken open with a crow bar and the safe door torn off by an explosion which seems to have been caused by nitro-glycerine. There was a considerable sum of money taken and some large checks carried off. There is not even a suspicion resting upon anyone.

NEWS NOTES FROM TOWN OF WILSON

(Special to The Evening Times.) Wilson, N. C., June 12.—Mr. J. F. Eason has purchased the building formerly used as a tobacco prizer, situated on the corner of Barnes and Mill streets, and will remove there his machine shops. Preparatory to the removal he will remodel the building, tearing away the wooden portion and build a brick addition.

This morning Messrs. J. D. Bardin and J. F. Farmer left for a trip out west. They will visit the Pacific coast states before returning home.

Mrs. James Savage died at her home here yesterday afternoon and was buried today. This morning her daughter, Mrs. Annie Elam, died. She had been ill only a short time.

One hundred more laborers arrived in Wilson this week to assist in the track-laying of the Norfolk & Southern Railroad between here and Raleigh and between here and Washington. The track-laying machine will lay about one and a half miles a day.

Lexington Industries.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Lexington, N. C., June 12.—Two new industries here will have an important bearing upon the further development of Lexington, more especially because they both deal in building materials. Messrs. John Harke, John Pugh and Henry Hege have organized and are now operating a big brick industry, and have already placed hundreds of thousands of bricks on the market. In view of the usual summer scarcity of bricks, this new concern is a very welcome one.

The other firm mentioned has been formed to develop one of the biggest granite quarries in this section. It is composed of Messrs. W. Lee Harbin, D. K. Cecil, Charles Young, William Harkey and J. W. Noell. The quarry is almost within the town, and the prospects are for an unlimited amount of fine granite. It is quite probable that this company will furnish the crushed rock for the streets, which are to be macadamized at once. Machinery, including engines, boilers and rock-crushers, has been ordered and some placed.

A Woolly Story.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Lexington, N. C., June 12.—Mr. B. F. Everhart, of the Arnold neighborhood, this county, brings a curiosity to town in the shape of a calf whose hair is wool, paradoxical as that may seem—not all wool and not a yard wide, but wool, all right, and genuine sheep's wool at that. Many people saw the strange animal. The calf is of Jersey extraction and is twelve weeks old and a very likely-looking "critter" of the male persuasion. It is white and brown spotted, and where the brown is, there the wool is. The white is hair, but even there the hair is finer and silkier than usual Davidson county calves wear. The carnival people offered Mr. Everhart $15 for the calf, but he holds it for $100. He does not explain the wool, and nobody else does.

The Fight Ended It.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Lexington, N. C., June 12.—There have been no further developments in the Grubb-Connor fight episode, and nothing has been heard of any proceedings being instituted against Grubb for disturbing the meeting. The advocates of the school, in view of the fight and the natural intimidation of voters incident and, further, to keep down more trouble, decided not to hold the election, and it was allowed to go by default.

IN POLICE COURT TODAY

Young Warren and His Fines for Drunkenness

These Fines Are Many and Are Off Imposed—Other Matters of the Morning, Including the Appearance of Will Pool, Who Had Lost a Watch.

So far as actual business was concerned, police court this morning was rather dull, only one case being disposed of. But there were a number of incidents—they cannot be called interludes—connected with the court that were interesting. This one case, though, was against Young Warren, who is constantly on trial for drunkenness or scrapping, or other kindred offenses. This time Warren, besides being fined $7.35 for drunkenness, had to pay $12.35 for resisting an officer.

Warren hadn't paid up an old fine of $7.35 imposed sometime ago, and the county roads and red dirt loomed up gloomily before him. The total of his fines amounted to $27.85. With the prospect of thirty, sixty or ninety days on the roads before him, Warren's face was a study. He wanted no hot sun in his and no wheelbarrow either. He appealed to Justice Badger to allow him to go out and see a friend. An officer accompanying him and in ten minutes they returned with Mr. Jones, for whom Warren had been working, and he promised his check for $27.85. Then Warren smiled and went out happily.

"Four devil," said Justice Badger afterwards; "he will be back again in a few days."

While the officers were disposing of this case, a well-dressed, middle-aged gentleman entered with his small son and had a warrant issued for a party for assault on the boy.

This man had no sooner left than Will Pool, a young white fellow, came in and wanted another fellow arrested for the larceny of a watch. The chap told Will yesterday morning that he would sell it, and Will gave it to him, and it was an instance of "twenty-three." Will is at a loss, not only of his watch, but of what to do, for there is no evidence of larceny on the part of his pal. Will was told to wait until this afternoon, and if his property had not been returned then steps would be taken for its recovery. The more Will talked the more it looked to an outsider that he had better let the matter drop, but that's Will's business.

A Fraternity Hall.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Salisbury, N. C., June 12.—There is talk among the fraternalists of erecting for themselves a building which is to be used solely for the lodges of the city. A site is to be selected and on it a large building containing stores and rooms in which to hold the meetings of the different orders. It is believed that the rents from the institution would be considerable and the matter will very likely be taken up at the meetings of the lodges.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Salder are celebrating their silver wedding in a novel way, taking the same bridal trip that they took after they were married June 8, 1882. They are now at Niagara and will be gone two weeks.

Wayne MacVeigh, former American ambassador to Italy; Rear Admiral George E. Ide, U. S. N.; Isadore Straus and Dr. W. Seward Webb were passengers on the steamer Celtic, which arrived in New York from Southampton and Cherbourg.

Dan R. Hanna, son of the late Senator, is about to erect a costly monument of gray granite at his Cottage Hill farm, Ravenna, to the memory of Bapton Diamond, an imported bull that was the pride of his famous Short Horn stables and was a prize-winner at leading stock shows in the country.
