GRAHAM-CLARK NUPTIALS AT PITTSBORO YESTERDAY.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Pittsboro, N. C., June 12.—A pretty morning wedding was solemnized in the Methodist Church at this place yesterday at 9:30 o'clock, when Mr. Benjamin B. Holt, of Graham, led to the marriage altar Miss Bessie May Clark, of Pittsboro. The bridal party, consisting of Miss Josie Cheek with Mr. Frank Brown of Burlington, Miss Margaret Cooper with Mr. John S. Williams of Graham, Miss Marie Coble with Mr. James Thompson of Graham, Miss Artella Winston, maid of honor, with Mr. W. P. Smith of Greensboro, the best man, entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully executed by Miss Margaret Horne. The bride entered with the maid of honor, and the groom with his best man. The bride's costume was green silk, with hat to match, and the bridesmaids wore white organdie dresses, with picture hats and black elbow silk gloves. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. P. Jerome, the pastor of the Methodist Church. The evening preceding the wedding a reception was given the bridal party and several friends of the bride and groom. The bride is a young woman of lovely character, and the groom is a prosperous business man of Graham.

STRICKLER-RAWLES WEDDING AT DURHAM YESTERDAY.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Durham, N. C., June 12.—In the First Presbyterian Church here yesterday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock was solemnized one of the prettiest weddings of the season. At this hour Mr. W. J. Strickler and Miss Elizabeth Rawles were united in marriage by

A PROMINENT PASTOR'S OPINION

Rev. Wm. S. Constable, pastor St. John's Methodist Church, Goldsboro, N. C., says:

To whom it may concern: After moving from Tyrrell county to Goldsboro, N. C., my family suffered much from malaria and chills and fever. We were led to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and found that it helped us. We continued to use same, and it resulted in a complete cure. I most heartily recommend it.

Yours respectfully,
WM. S. CONSTABLE.
May 11, 1907.

Rev. E. R. Leyburn. The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and potted plants and the bridal party presented a beautiful picture. The bride's attendant was Miss Edna McCubbins, of Salisbury, and the best man was Mr. Sidney C. Chambers.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. E. B. Rawls, a prominent merchant of this city, and is prominent in social circles. The groom holds an important position with the American Tobacco Company here and is known throughout the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Strickler left at 7:30 yesterday evening for an extended bridal tour. Upon their return they will make their home in Durham.

Nowlan-Underwood.
A pretty home wedding was solemnized at 12 o'clock today, when Mr. William E. Nowlan was united in marriage to Miss Mary Catherine Underwood, daughter of Mrs. Sallie G. Underwood, at 315 Oakwood Avenue. Dr. W. C. Tyree, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony.

There were present only a few intimate friends and relatives. The parson was simply but artistically decorated with ferns, palms and other plants, and the bride wore a blue going-away gown and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride is one of the most attractive and popular young women of Raleigh and has hosts of friends throughout the state. The groom is a traveling salesman for Higgins & Selter, New York, who formerly lived in Raleigh, being a member of the firm of the Williams-Nowlan Company, and has many friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Nowlan left on the afternoon train for Richmond and other points. After July 1 they will be at home at Lakewood, N. J.

WOMEN IN SUPREME COURT.

Twenty-eight have been admitted. Mrs. Belva Lockwood the Pioneer. Miss Ida M. Moyers of this city, who was admitted to practice before the supreme court yesterday, is the twenty-eighth member of the tender sex to attain that distinction.

The first woman to become a member of that bar was Belva A. Lockwood, who was first denied the privilege on the ground there was no authority for women to practice before the court. She then secured the passage of a special law admitting women to the bar on an equal footing with men, and as soon as the bill was signed she appeared and took the customary oath on March 3, 1879.

It was not until six years later that Mrs. Lockwood lost her monopoly of rights, and since then applicants have appeared every year or so. They are scattered all the way from Massachusetts to California, each of which is the residence of two women who are members of the high bar. This city has the greatest number—six, Illinois and Wisconsin have four each, Nebraska three, Pennsylvania two and Arizona, Connecticut, Missouri, New Jersey and Montana one each.

All four of the Wisconsin members belong to one family—Mrs. Kate Pier and her three daughters, who are active practitioners in Milwaukee. The eldest daughter, Miss Kate H. Pier, the first of the family to be admitted, had as her sponsor the then Senator William F. Vilas of Wisconsin. Later her next sister was admitted on her motion, and afterward she introduced her mother and youngest sister on the same day. Comparatively few of the women admitted avail themselves of their privileges, the conspicuous exceptions being Mrs. Lockwood, who has appeared frequently, and last term argued an Indian case, and Mrs. Sarah Herring Selm of Tucson City, Ariz., who was admitted about a year ago and is attorney of record in a case on call next week. Miss Moyers, the latest addition to the ranks, is a good looking young woman, apparently 23 or 24 years of age, and is the senior member of a law firm here which makes a specialty of practice before the court of claims.—Washington Herald.

MUCH IN LITTLE.

Queen Wilhelmina shipped some cows from Holland for her husband's estate in Mecklenburg-Schwerin. But they were stopped at the German frontier under the law forbidding the importation of foreign cattle.

Consul General J. P. Bray, of Melbourne, reports under date of October 14 that the present prospects in the wheat production of Australia point to a record harvest. Harvesting in South Australia was general in November in all the states excepting Tasmania.

Dr. W. E. Chancellor, the new superintendent of schools at Washington, D. C., decided to ask Congress for the retirement of aged teachers on half pay. This in conjunction with a voluntary retirement fund would provide the full salary for the retiring teachers.

Daniel Frederick Shriner, of Dayton, Ohio, has a record unequalled by any other man in the country. During his seventy-one years he has established thirty-six newspapers, thirty-two of which still survive. And Mr. Shriner is himself still in the business, at present in Dayton, where he runs a fair-sized printing establishment.

Prince Albert, the heir to the Belgian throne, and his wife, Elizabeth, have given Brussels a free hospital for consumptives, and the prince has written a play, "Romanda," which has been presented at Brussels very effectively, the funds raised in this manner going to a fresh-air fund for consumptives.

THE ALLEGED NATURE FAKERS

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Boston, Mass., June 12.—President George P. Angell, of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, issues a column open letter on the "Nature Writers" controversy. He feels better towards President Roosevelt because of the latter's attack on the alleged nature fakers, and especially because of the latter's criticism of Rev. W. J. Long.

Mr. Angell says: "If in his boyhood President Roosevelt had been humanely educated in a hand of mercy, probably he would have written very differently about the starving cattle on western ranches and the shooting of animals simply for the fun of wounding and killing them. He would not be so anxious to put rifles in the hands of American school boys that they might be better prepared to shoot human beings, and he would not be engaged in his present controversy with Rev. William J. Long, whose charming stories of animal life are giving pleasure to thousands of readers."

"But if he had been so educated, very likely he would never have been assistant secretary of the navy, nor would he have been plunged into the Cuban and Philippine wars, nor would our paper, Our Dumb Animals, have been shut out of the public schools, nor would the Jamestown Exposition have been planned."

According to an official investigation, embracing the decade of 1882-1901, the average annual wages for a male agricultural worker in Russia was less than $32, and for a female worker less than $18.

(Chicago may soon have a milliners' union. A movement has been begun in that direction, and is meeting with fair support among the trimmers. The plan contemplates the union label in women's hats.
