RAGE ROUSED IN LOVING'S TRIAL

Estes' Friends Wanted Miss Kidd to Testify

AND CLEAR THE DEAD?

They Assert That She Could Have Done This and Say That Miss Loving Was Expelled from School for Immorality; Counter Charges—Jury May Decide Tuesday.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Houston, Va., June 28.—The undercurrent of feeling between the two parties in the Loving trial, which has been very strong all along but kept suppressed, has increased largely since the decisions of Judge Barkdale ruling out the testimony of Miss Annie Kidd and others. The friends of the dead man are very much put out that they were not allowed to have a chance to clear his name of the crime with which Judge Loving's daughter accused him, and last night did not hesitate to say that had they been given that chance the whole aspect of the trial would have been changed. Witnesses for the prosecution stated last night that they could have established beyond doubt that Miss Loving had been for some time addicted to the use of liquor and that she was expelled from the Mary Baldwin Seminary, Staunton, Va., for immoral conduct. They further claimed that the affectionate relations said to have existed between Judge Loving and his daughter were all a farce, that he was brutal in his home and at one time had been seen to jerk his daughter out of a horse in the streets of Lovington and curse her. It is also claimed that Judge Loving had a personal spite against the young man he murdered because Thomas F. Ryan had stated his intention of discharging Judge Loving at the end of the present year and putting him in his place.

DUKE PLANS TO WED IN EUROPE

To Marry Mrs. Luman the Last of July

THE FACTS KEPT CLOSE

Automobile Tour to Follow the Wedding—Probably a Social Campaign on the Return to New York—Marriage of Mrs. Luman Named in Cross Suit of Mrs. Lillian.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New York, June 28.—James B. Duke, millionaire head of the tobacco trust, who divorced his wife last spring, has planned quietly, it was stated today, to marry Mrs. William Luman, the beautiful widow of Atlanta, Ga., formerly Miss Nanaline Holt.

Coincidentally it was also learned today that the mysterious Mrs. Mary Smith, whom Mrs. Lillian N. Duke, the millionaire's divorced wife named in her cross suit as having made life intolerable to the latter as his housekeeper at the Somerset, N. J., Duke estate, was married on Monday to a lawyer in the woolen mills at Raritan, N. J.

SPECIAL SESSION TO TRY KIDNAPPERS

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New Orleans, La., June 28.—A special session of the grand jury of St. Charles Parish will be called to consider the cases of the men and women arrested in connection with the kidnaping and murder of little Walter Lamans. And it is the present intention of the authorities to call the cases against whom true bills are found thereafter as soon as possible. Judge P. J. Patono, who has taken an active part in the search for and prosecution of the alleged kidnapers and murderers, says: "I believe we have evidence to convict seven of the men and women in custody, and, while I believe the people want a speedy trial, I am not sure but that it would be better to wait

GREED LEADS TO A CANAL CRISIS

Waterway's Completion May be Delayed Indefinitely

ROOSEVELT'S APPALLED

Subserviency of Administration Officials to the Howl for Federal Patronage Results in Disaster—Wholesale Resignation of Canal Officials.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New York, June 28.—A Washington dispatch to the New York World published this morning says: "The greed of politicians for federal patronage and the subserviency of administration officials in yielding to their importunities have brought construction work on the Panama Canal to a condition of approximate chaos. A situation has arisen which threatens to retard operations and delay the completion of the great waterway for years, if not indefinitely. The only remedy in sight appears to be the turning over of the gigantic enterprise to contractors. President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft are said to be appalled by the crisis now existing. They have had a conference on this subject at Oyster Bay and Mr. Taft will be here Friday in readiness for the application of heroic treatment. He will seek to institute such retrenchments and make such changes as will prove remedial. That they will constitute a breakwater for the rushing tide of disaster is claimed by many to be problematical."

WITH AN ADDER IN HER BOSOM

Mrs. Bloom Sought to Die as Cleopatra

AND DEATH SEEMS NEAR

She Concealed the Reptile in Her Corset and Her Body is Now Hideously Swollen by the Poison Injected into Her Blood from the Adder's Fangs.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
Obion, Tenn., June 28.—Mrs. Rose Bloom, said to be a member of a prominent Paducah, Ky., family, is at death's door with the upper part of her body swollen to frightful proportions, as the result of an attempt to emulate Cleopatra, the Egyptian queen, who in ancient history, is credited with clasping the deadly asp to her bosom as bait to wound and slay her lover after a love episode with Marc Antony.

THE COAST LINE'S CASE IS HEARD

Second Railroad Injunction Matter Taken Up

HAMILTON FOR ROAD

Victor E. Bryant Presents the Corporation's Case to the Court—He is Followed by W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, Who Argues the Case of the Railroad.

(Special to The Evening Times.)
Asheville, N. C., June 28.—The second of the railroad injunction cases now being argued before Judge Pritchard in the United States circuit court was begun this morning—that of the stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Line Company against the directors of that company and the North Carolina Corporation Commission.

Alexander Hamilton, general counsel of the Atlantic Coast Line, made the opening argument for that road. Mr. Hamilton declared that the attitude of the company was that while believing the rates unjust, it was unwilling to hazard the risk of the enormous penalties imposed, and therefore had acquiesced in them. He said that in accordance with demands of the stockholders, admirals had been furnished by the officials, and the company would make no argument unless there were unexpected developments.

ORCHARD GIVEN THE LIE AGAIN

W. B. Easterly Contradicts His Testimony

A MAN OF INTEGRITY

The State Expecting to Show Wholesale Perjury, Taken Aback by the Union Miners Readiness to Admit Acquaintance With Orchard—A Reversal of Sentiment.

(By J. S. DUNNIGAN.)
Boise, Idaho, June 28.—Another witness who contradicts Harry Orchard, the self-confessed assassin of Governor Steunenberg is on the stand this morning testifying that certain important statements by the state's chief witness are falsehoods. This man is W. R. Easterly, secretary of the All-man (Colorado) union during the strike of 1903-04. Easterly is a native of Illinois and is sharply witted and observant. He has been a miner for twenty years and is known as a man of integrity and experience.
