

SHE SHOT AT HIM TWICE An Attempt to Seize Mrs. Watkins Foiled

The Man She Describes as Her Assailant is Now in Jail—He Declares That He Can Prove an Alibi.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Salisbury, N. C., July 1.—Sam Dunn lies in jail on a serious accusation. Saturday night he was caught from a description Mrs. T. W. Watkins gave of a man who attempted to lay hold upon her. The crime took place in the backyard of Mrs. G. H. Shaver, where Mrs. Watkins boards, and when the fellow missed her, Mrs. Watkins ran for her pistol and shot at him twice. She remembered in detail how he was dressed, and when captured by the police Dunn was brought before her and positively identified. But for the fact that he was in the hands of the officers, Dunn would have fared hard from the husband, a well known music dealer. He says he can prove an alibi and that he has never been in the yard where the crime is alleged to have been committed.

Rev. Dr. Byron C. Clarke of Baltimore yesterday wired his acceptance of the Presbyterian call to this field which was extended to him by unanimous congregational vote last Sunday. Dr. Clarke is an eminent young North Carolinian from Bladen county and also Sampson and graduated from Davidson. He takes the charge laid down in the beautiful life and majestic death of Rev. Dr. J. Rumpke and later supplied by Rev. John H. Gray. It is a fine congregation and a beautiful church. "The friends of Hon. John S. Henderson are going to push his name for the democratic nomination for governor is almost certain. Recently there have been many travelers from all parts of the state who express the opinion that he would make an ideal governor on account of his business, educational, agricultural, moral and religious qualities.

SUICIDE OF NEGRESS THROUGH JEALOUSY

(Special to The Evening Times.) Kinston, N. C., July 1.—A negro woman named Kate Murphy was killed in a logging camp four miles north of this place Saturday night. The coroner's verdict was suicide. She killed herself with a pistol. The apparent cause was jealousy of a negro man with whom she was staying. Another negro woman was supposed to be jealous of her in the case.

RHEUMATISM Cannot Be Cured with Medicine New Treatment Just Discovered

The main ingredient in rheumatism medicine is salicylic acid. It is not generally known, however, but it is a fact that this acid eats out the vitals and ruins the stomach. Thousands of chronic rheumatism medicine takers are suffering more from the effects of this drug than from the pains of rheumatism.
Up to within a recent period medical science has been baffled, and the real cause of rheumatism unknown until a celebrated Boston physician, Dr. S. N. Merrick, discovered the true cause of this terrible malady. Dr. Merrick, realizing the great benefit to humanity the discovery of how to cure rheumatism without medicine would be, has written a lengthy treatise in book form. The treatment is simple and does not interfere with your daily routine of living.
All rheumatism is caused by the deposit of hard or bone-making material in the joints or muscles or some other locality in the body. Dr. Merrick's book tells you, chronic sufferer, and all others, young and old, who are commencing to have pains in your joints and bones (which denotes the incipency or beginning of rheumatism) how to treat yourself in your own home without medicine. A prominent banker and broker of Columbus, who was cured of rheumatism and gout by this treatise, says: "This book should be in the hands of every rheumatic sufferer and all others, to read for their own protection." LEON LOUIS RICE IS A TENOR INDEED

Leon Louis Rice, Detroit's well known tenor singer, was yesterday heard at Raleigh for the first time. That his singing pleased is the universal opinion of two large audiences that gathered in Edenton Street Methodist Church at both morning and night services. The church was entirely filled last night, with no vacant seats left downstairs, and only a few scattered about in the galleries.
Mr. Rice has a voice of unusually high quality, pointing him out as an artist at first appearance, and was at his way straight to the hearts of his hearers. His voice is strong though sweet, rich and resonant to a marked degree. His clear enunciation and almost perfect modulation are seldom exceeded. As he sang Campbell's "Ninety and Nine" last night, he held his audience enraptured from the beginning to the finish on a high note sustained for several measures and he had clear and perfect above the full power of the organ. "Come Into Me," by "Women," was gracefully and beautifully sung, as the large audience listened with undivided attention. At the evening church service Mr. Rice sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," the favorite song of the late President McKinley, which by special request, was sung at his funeral service.
Mr. Rice is a treasure; to appreciate him, one has to only hear him sing, or he deserves to sing again in Raleigh his reputation will be most cordial.

CARRIE AS A MAGNET Draws Biggest Crowds Ever Seen in Salisbury

Says Things That in the Mouth of Sam Jones Would Have Added to Sam's Fame—She'll Make a Hot Fourth of July.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Salisbury, July 1.—The fourth of July unconsciously scores its signal triumph in Carrie Nation, who speaks here again that day. Wednesday she goes to Charlotte for a day, but not until she fills a date at the park, which is to be the event of the season. Her address Sunday afternoon was made to the Livingstone College residents, who liked her preaching, as did their white neighbors.
The Tuesday evening engagement has great interest. Mrs. Nation gives life to that ancient melody, "Ten Nights in a Barroom" and the management of the park pays her $25 for appearing in it. She does not play any part but illustrates the story of the play by lecturing.
Saturday night Mrs. Nation spoke to the largest audience that ever listened to any speaker except William Jennings Bryan. She discussed Law vs. Anarchy, but her theme was prohibition as in the afternoon. At the close she took in more money faster than she could handle them and called for a secretary. The evening address was much like the afternoon's, although there was more noise if it is possible. Smelling smoke in the crowd, she yelled at the offenders: "Stop that smoking; I want to stand it. You wouldn't feed a mole hog on such filthy stuff, and if he ate it, you would kill him. Have the decency of a hog." Then she drifted again into denunciation of whiskey and declared that church people—men and women who failed to do all they could against the traffic—lacked the basic instinct of saving their own souls. She said the mother animal cares for its young and fights anything that interferes with them. The mother dog will fly at a dog or any person that disturbs her young. What woman, she thought of a hen that entrusted the care of her chickens to the "oster"? This hit at the indifference of men to the fate of their boys was the laugh of the day.
Mrs. Nation has had her jets through. Saturday she went to the Hotel Vanderford, and speaking to the proprietor, said: "Do you sell whiskey here?" The answer was crushing to her: "No, madam, but we can get you some if you want it."
She despises Washington, but says she will live there because the root of the liquor evil is there. A friend of hers gives her house rent and she finds it the most strategic point. She declares the president to be a "beer drinking Dutchman" and of all his mistakes, she thinks the one on a bottle of whiskey most fitting. She had just been released from Washington prison when she came here.

SUNDAY MORNING WRECK
Results in a Great Slaughter of Chickens
A Trainman in a Critical Condition and About Two Thousand Chickens Killed or Injured—Several Cars Smashed Near Statesville.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Statesville, N. C., July 1.—As a result of a freight wreck about ten miles west of Statesville, about 2 o'clock Sunday morning on the Southern Railway, traffic was delayed and one of the trainmen, a Mr. Bibbes, is in the Long Sanitorium here in a critical condition. The wreck was caused by a number of cars loaded with live chickens jumping the track at a point about a mile and a half west of Bufala station while the train was running at high speed on route to the northern markets. Three or four cars were smashed into kindling wood, about two thousand chickens were killed or injured and Mr. Bibbes, who had charge of one of the chicken cars, was buried beneath the wreck. It was at first thought that he had been killed, but later groans were heard and his more fortunate companions succeeded in getting him out and bringing him to Statesville.

JAMES M. ADAMS AT BAPTIST TABERNALE

The pulpit at the Baptist Tabernacle Church was occupied yesterday at the morning service by Mr. James M. Adams. Mr. Adams is a son of Mr. D. T. Adams, of Raleigh, and is a young man of much promise, who enjoys a wide acquaintance among the people of this city.

Mr. Adams is a student of theology at Wake Forest College, and although having two years more of study before graduation, he has preached on many occasions at various places. Mr. Adams has a brilliant career before him in his chosen profession, and it is a genuine pleasure to those who know him and have heard him preach, that he as already attained success in a large measure.

In his able sermon yesterday, Mr. Adams delivered a strong, earnest appeal for service to God, and to man. His discourse was deeply interesting and showed evidence of thorough study and careful thought. Numerous illustrations were effectively made use of to show how God appreciates service to Him, and that His will is done through properly being of service to mankind.
