"TIME IS NOT YET RIPE" SAYS GOVERNOR GLENN

No Chance of Southern Man to Sit in the President's Chair

A NUMBER OF GOOD MEN IN THE SOUTH

Governor Glenn, While Appreciating Flattering Mentions of His Name for Nomination, Says He Does Not Believe the Time Has Come When a Southern Man Can Be Elected—In the South, He Says, Are Strong Men—Being Congratulated by Numerous Callers.

"The time is not yet ripe for a southern man to be nominated for the presidency," said Governor Glenn to a Times man today. "Even if it were, there are a number of men throughout the south who are better able to fill the president's chair than I."

"Ah, but governor, the great dailies and prominent men in every section of the United States are mentioning your name quite prominently these days and you seem to be a favorite everywhere. What have you got to say to that?"

"I appreciate the kind utterances of the press of the country," replied the governor, "but I have not thought of the matter seriously. Besides, the time has not yet come when a southern man can be nominated, and if it had, there are strong men in the south who would make a splendid showing."

Further than this Governor Glenn would not express himself as to the boom recently inaugurated for him. There were papers lying on his desk and in every one of them was something complimentary to him. Just at present the chief executive has other important matters at hand, and gave the reporter to understand that he would first do his work in North Carolina well before he contemplated other things.

As usual Governor Glenn was in a happy frame of mind and talked freely to the reporter on the subject. With other visitors, too, he discussed it in a light vein. Today the chief executive had a larger number of callers than usual, and each congratulated him on the celebrity and prominence that his stand on the rate question has won for him in the nation.

CHAOS IN THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Augusta, Ga., July 31.—Chaos reigns supreme in the liquor traffic of the state today, since it is a foregone conclusion that the bill providing absolute prohibition after January 1st will be signed by Governor Smith before the end of the week.

Dispatches from Savannah tell a story of financial loss that runs into millions. Augusta will lose two and a half million dollars in property values and license taxes. Columbus will also lose very heavily. Atlanta's loss will almost treble that of all other whiskey places in the state. Brunswick's loss will run above the million mark.

Macon will also suffer heavily in the loss of revenue from many saloon properties and one of the finest breweries in the south.

Florida and Alabama are the states to which the whiskey interests will move from Georgia. Alabama has got a black eye since the beginning of agitation similar to that which has resulted in prohibition in Georgia.

THINKS TEDDY SHOULD BE KING

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Ottumwa, Ia., July 31.—Peter McQueen, writer, war correspondent and close friend of President Roosevelt, yesterday afternoon made the statement that the president should be king of the United States. McQueen denounced self-government, such as exists in the United States today.

TAR HEEL WEEK AT EXPOSITION

Governor Glenn Issues on Announcement

INTERESTED IN FAIR

Some of the Things That Will Occur at Jamestown During Time Set Apart for North Carolinians—Governor Anxious for Tar Heels to Be There.

Governor Glenn today issued an announcement in regard to North Carolina Day and week at Jamestown Exposition, August 13 to 16. The governor is very desirous that North Carolinians attend the exposition during this week, for he is much interested in the big show, which belongs as much to North Carolina as to Virginia. Following is the governor's announcement:

To the Citizens of the State: At the request of the Jamestown officials I make this announcement to the people of the state:

At the Ter-Centennial Exposition at Jamestown, August 13th to 16th, inclusive, has been set apart for North Carolina week, and Thursday, August 15th, as a special North Carolina day.

The state has at the exposition a state building, and a state exhibit of which our people may well be proud; the exposition itself is new and completed and is a world's show of great magnitude, and should be seen by all who can visit it.

The state commissioners are anxious to make North Carolina week, and especially August 15th, a great feature of the exposition. There will be a grand military review of the United States and state troops, a reception given by the commissioners, and a great many things done specially for North Carolinians at that time, so I urge all to come and make this occasion a great reunion of our people both for pleasure and educational profit.

Respectfully, R. B. GLENN, Governor.

The official program for North Carolina Week at the Jamestown Exposition has been arranged and features have been provided for nearly every day in the week.

There will be daily military exercises by the North Carolina military band.

The detailed program for the week is as follows:

August 12—Governor Glenn, staff and official party will arrive via Seaboard Air Line Railway at Portsmouth, about 5:30 p. m. They will be met at the station by a committee from the North Carolina Society of Norfolk, who will escort them to their hotel in Norfolk, where they will be the guests of the North Carolina Society.

August 14—At 10 a. m. the governor and party will be driven over the city of Norfolk in automobiles, bearing the colors of the State of North Carolina.

Auditorium 11:30 a. m. Opening prayer by the Rev. Chletsberg.

SPEAK HE CHOSE DEATH INSTEAD

Rumbaugh's Suicide Follows That of Miss Matthews

TO AVOID DISGRACE

The Nurse Declares That Was Why the Girl Took Her Own Life, and That Coey, the Millionaire Manufacturer, Knew That She Meant to Kill Herself.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Colorado Springs, Col., July 31.—Richard R. Rumbaugh, of Washington, D. C., who, with Dr. Harold Thomas, of Chicago, and Thomas Holland, of Denver, had been among Miss Laura Matthews' admirers, shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon while waiting to be called as a witness at the inquest over the Chicago girl who committed suicide Monday. He chose death rather than testify as to the probable cause of Miss Matthews' tragic death. Rumbaugh, who was a wealthy ex-army officer, was expected to throw light upon the mysterious death of Miss Matthews.

Tillie Green, Miss Matthews' nurse, and star witness in the inquest, declared she had been a companion of Miss Matthews in Chicago three years and that Charles A. Coey, the millionaire automobile manufacturer, and Miss Matthews had been intimate friends for two years. She said Miss Matthews expected Coey to marry her, and the date was set several times, but always postponed by Coey. Before leaving Chicago, she said, Coey and Miss Matthews quarreled, and after the quarrel the girl announced that she would go west and end her life. She swore positively that Coey knew the girl's intentions.

Miss Matthews, the nurse said, committed suicide to avoid disgrace. A note was found in her room addressed "To whom it may concern," reading: "I can stand it no longer. I don't want to live. I give all my things to my mother."

VICTIM OF MURDER

PLOT, SAYS MR. COEY.

Chicago, July 31.—C. A. Coey, the automobile expert, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the suicide of Laura Matthews at Colorado Springs, stoutly maintains that Miss Matthews probably fell the victim to a murder plot.

"I do not believe she ever killed herself. I can't believe it. She was murdered, I'm sure," declared Mr. Coey, in his apartments at the South Shore Country Club, where he is a resident member. Mr. Coey declared further that he does not know Rumbaugh, the actor who committed suicide after Miss Matthews' death; that he never heard of him, and that he could advance no reason why the young man should end his own life following the strange death of the young actress. The dispatches from Colorado Springs stated positively that Rumbaugh, before his suicide, had told the police that he knew Coey in Chicago, where he also had met Miss Matthews.

"I sent a telegram to Coey telling him of Miss Matthews' death, and that he was implicated because of letters she had left. I wired him for $300 for funeral expenses, and he sent it. I have a letter which Laura Matthews wrote before her death, and I won't publish it, because Coey is going to do the right thing," is the declaration Rumbaugh is said to have made.

When Coey was informed of this statement he said:

"The telegram I received in regard to Miss Matthews' death was sent to me by Tillie Green, the nurse who was with Miss Matthews. I sent the money to her."

Rumbaugh was mentioned in the dispatches as R. A. Richards. He had passed under this name while in Colorado Springs. A medal found shows Rumbaugh served with distinction with the Tenth Pennsylvania in the Philippines.

DUKE'S WEDDING TOUR HAS BEEN DELAYED.

Somerville, N. J., July 31.—Mr. and Mrs. James B. Duke, who have been spending their honeymoon on the Duke estate here, have started for a three weeks' automobile tour of New York state. They will join a party of friends in New York City, who will accompany them to the Adirondacks in automobiles. It is understood here that their proposed trip to Europe in August has been delayed by the recent action of the government against the American Tobacco Company of which Mr. Duke is president. Mr. Duke will be required to appear in the United States court when the case comes up in August.

GEORGIA FOR PROHIBITION

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Atlanta, Ga., July 31.—The Hardeman prohibition bill passed by the Georgia senate some days ago, was adopted by the house last night by a vote of 139 to 33.

OUT OF THE TRUNK MAY COME PROOF

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, July 31.—A trunk, believed to contain papers that will fully expose the plots of the Armenian blackmailers and murderers, including the assassination of H. S. Tavshanjian, the Union Square merchant, was forwarded to District Attorney Jerome today from Lowell, Mass., where it was seized by the police in the room occupied there by Tavshanjian's slayer.

Evidence that Father Levont Martocessian and Bedros Khachadorian, alias Hamartzonian, were intimate acquaintances, continues to pile up, notwithstanding the denial of the priest that he ever knew the murderer.

SUES DOCTOR FOR EMBRACING HER

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Toledo, Ohio, July 31.—Social circles here were startled yesterday when Mrs. Ray May Merrick, 35 years of age, filed suit in the common pleas court against Dr. Parmelee, one of the oldest and most prominent physicians of Toledo, for $10,000 as damages for kisses she alleges he took without her consent. She says the physician embraced her when she visited him professionally last January.

CIRCUSES TO WPE TEXAS OFF THE MAP.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Austin, Tex., July 31.—The railroad commission has issued a ruling that under the anti-free-pass law full rates must be paid for the transportation of advance cars of circuses and their representatives. This proposed increase in their expenses has caused the circuses and traveling shows to wipe Texas off their routing map, according to the statements of their representatives.

THE HELL FIRE GOSPEL NEEDED

That's Your Only Salvation Says Dr. Len Broughton

PREACHES IN NEW YORK

There is No Modesty—There is Open Flaunting Depravity—New York Society is a Festering Sore—Preach the Gospel in Its Purity—Drive Foreigners Off the Police Force.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, July 31.—"You need regeneration in New York; you need some one who will tell you what you are; you need the old fashioned hell fire gospel—that's your only salvation."

The Rev. Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the Atlanta, (Ga.), Tabernacle, who has come here to help save this city because he loves it, as most southerners do, opened a talk with the above quotation. He will tell any one who inquires just what he thinks of New York and will keep on telling it. No one can get provoked at his denunciations, he said, because every word is true.

Dr. Broughton is preaching at Tent Evangel, Broadway and 25th street and he is filling it at every service. His wit and epigrams remind his hearers of Sam Jones, although he is superior in force, education and argument.

Dr. Broughton has wonderfully grasped conditions here in a few days and is frank to say just what he thinks is the matter with the wicked city. He says:

"I have visited Paris, Berlin and Vienna, and studied conditions there. Paris is the wickedest city in the world and New York is the next."

"There has been a growing Sabbath laxness. This year it is beyond bounds."

The Crime Waves. "There need be no wonder at the crime wave after seeing the theatres wide open on Sunday."

"To any man who values and believes in feminine modesty, the sights in the streets and the Broadway cafes and restaurants at night are terrible. There is a complete breaking down of the barriers between the sexes."

"There is no modesty. There is an open flaunting depravity. The conversation one overhears in theatres and restaurants indicates the most brazen shamelessness. The drinking habits of women astound visitors to this city."

"New York society is a festering sore. Its doings are exploited as though they were the real thing socially. The case with which a woman with wealth habituates herself after some wrongdoing woman who say to themselves: 'I've got money; I'll plunge too.' These so-called society folks are excrecences, warts, on the real social life of the city and country. They are rotten, low, depraved and live only to swim in voluptuousness and to tank up."

The Remedies Suggested. "What would I do to stop all this? I would suggest that the pulpits of New York preach the gospel in its purity, the literal word, the hell fire gospel, the gospel of punishment of sins."

"Another suggestion I would make would be to reform the police force. London is the best policed city in the world. Only Englishmen compose the force."

"There's our lesson. Drive all the foreigners off the police force. Put Americans in command. Put only Americans on guard—sure enough Americans. Then the laws would be enforced. New York needs to study how to police itself. Visitors are shocked at the police laxly, impoliteness and inefficiency. To talk to a New York policeman is like talking with a bull yearling on the prairie."

MISSISSIPPI'S CONTEST ENDS

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Jackson, Miss., July 31.—Mississippi's most exciting and interesting senatorial contest since the close of the civil war will see its finish today. Each side is claiming victory in advance, the Williams men exuberantly shouting that nothing under 30,000 majority in primaries is looked for by them. On the other hand, the Varlanman campaign managers say that their candidate will receive a safe majority of from 8,000 to 10,000 votes.

Even in the event of a moderately close vote, the final returns will not be obtainable before Friday morning.

Miss Laura D. Ronaldson.

Miss Laura D. Ronaldson, the New York bachelor girl here in the costume of an Indian chief, was found dead in her apartments in New York, and is supposed that she committed suicide. The people in the house heard her playing a symphony by the Russian composer Tschalkowsky, who committed suicide. Miss Ronaldson was a very rich woman.

THE SUICIDE OF MRS. SYKES

(Special to The Evening Times.) Greensboro, N. C., July 31.—Mrs. Mary Sykes, a well known and prominent lady of this town, committed suicide yesterday by firing two pistol bullets into her body.

A year ago a son of the deceased died after a lingering illness. His death greatly grieved her. Despondency from constant brooding over his death is supposed to have caused mental aberration, and the sufferer sought death in a fit of depression. The deed was done while the mother lay stretched on the bed her son died on, an old gold cameo, with a picture of the departed in it, being carefully placed to her collar.

HUNTINGTON, SHOT BY BROTHER, VERY LOW.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Paris, July 30.—The condition of Alonzo Huntington, who was shot by his brother Henry at the bedside of his dying father, Douglas St. G. Huntington, is regarded as dangerous this morning. The father died last evening, not knowing anything of the family tragedy. Miss Edith is still in danger, while the others are progressing favorably.

ATROCIOUS ACT OF DRUNKEN MAN

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Oswego, N. Y., July 31.—A drunken stranger entered the home of Charles Leonard, took a seven months-old baby from a crib where it was sleeping, and placed it on a red-hot stove. The child's cries brought the mother, who had left the house. The police were called and the man was arrested. The baby was badly burned.

THE WAR FLEET TO THE PACIFIC

Admirals go to Prepare for its Reception

PLANS MAPPED OUT

They Include Not Only the Maintenance of the Big Fleet With Thousands of Men, But the Fortification and Mining of Every Important Harbor on the Pacific Coast.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, July 31.—The Press' Washington correspondent telegraphs: Tangible corroboration of the report that the battleship fleet would be transferred temporarily to the Pacific coast was disclosed when it was learned that three admirals and the chief artillery of the army are on their way or soon will depart for San Francisco and other Pacific coast points to arrange and prepare for the arrival and maintenance of the large fleet in Pacific waters.

The three admirals who have been ordered to make this trip are Admiral Capps, head of the bureau of construction and repairs; Admiral Cowley, President Roosevelt's brother-in-law, chief of the bureau of equipment, and Admiral Hobbday of the bureau of yards and docks.

Lieutenant Commander Spencer S. Wood, who is Admiral Dewey's aide, also will arrive on the coast soon, as also will General Arthur Murray, head of the war department's bureau of artillery.

Extensive plans have been mapped out for these officers to put into execution, and they include not only the equipment and maintenance of the big fleet with thousands of men, but the fortification and mining of every harbor of importance along the Pacific coast from Bremerton to Magdalena Bay.

DOUBTS ANNA GOULD'S MARRYING THE PRINCE.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, July 31.—Edmund Kelly, the American lawyer who represented Anna Gould in Count Boni De Castellane's recent suit for annulment of her divorce decree, arrived here today with his wife on the Atlantic transport liner Minneapolis from London.

"I doubt the rumor that my client will be married to the French prince whose name has been repeatedly linked with hers," said Attorney Kelly. "Why, he is a worse spendthrift than Boni. He's gone through two fortunes already, and when it comes to making the money fly he makes Castellane look like a miser."

"It is a fact that they are seen much in each other's company, and you can tell what a fascinating and vivacious young woman may do until it doubts. They may marry, but I doubt it. At all events her divorce forbids her marrying within six months after the decree is filed, which has just been done, I believe."

"The Countess De Castellane is a vastly different woman than the Anna Gould of twelve years ago. She is now a beautiful and accomplished woman of the world, at home in any circle of the highest European society. But she is very unhappy. Fortune hunters flock around whenever she leaves her apartments, and they are shockingly open with their offers of alliance. Countess Anna is the cynosure of all eyes whenever she goes out."

PEOPLE DEFRAUDED BY FALSE MEASURES.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Albany, N. Y., July 31.—Fritz Reichmann, state superintendent of weights and measures, who has been conducting an inspection of groceries in many cities in the state, has come to the conclusion that grocers purposely or unknowingly beat the people of the state out of $20,000,000 annually by the use of inaccurate weights and measures.

FOOTLIGHT STAR FIRES MARK, JR.'S, CALLOW HEART.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Waterbury, Conn., July 31.—Mark Hanna, son of Dan R. Hanna and grandson of the late Senator Mark A. Hanna, has been hustled out of town by his mother because of his infatuation for Miss Edna Bruns, leading woman of a theatrical stock company which has been playing here. Coincident with young Hanna's departure Miss Bruns resigned from the stock company.

Young Mark is the eldest son of Dan Hanna, who has been three times married and twice divorced. He is 20 years old.
