FANATICAL FOOLS IN ZION CITY TORTURE

Would Drive Out Devil But Kill Aged, Rheumatic Woman

CORONER'S JURY IS PROBING THE MATTER

Mrs. Letitia Greenhaugh, Aged 64 Years, the Victim—Parhamites Had Vision That They Could Cure Old Woman of Rheumatism, and Pulled at Arms and Neck Until Latter Broke—Old Woman, in Fearful Agony, Screamed, but There Was No Let-up of Torture. Witness Tells About Affair Today on Witness Stand.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Chicago, Sept. 20.—Disclosure of one of the most horrible murders in the history of northern Illinois came to light today at Zion City. An aged woman, a sufferer for years from rheumatism was killed by a religious sect which believed it would cure her of the disease by "casting out devils."

The victim is Mrs. Letitia Greenhaugh, 2900 Gabriel avenue, Zion City. The disclosure of the murder was made today after a midnight inquest held at the dead woman's home by the coroner of Lake county. The case is almost without parallel in the history of religious beliefs.

Five persons are under arrest on the charge of manslaughter, as follows: Harold Mitchell and his wife, as principals. Walter Greenhaugh, son of the aged woman, as accessory. Jennie Greenhaugh, daughter of the murdered woman, as accessory. Mrs. Emma Smith, a neighbor, as accessory. Coroner Taylor and Deputy Conrad learned of the death early last evening. At one o'clock this morning in a driving rain they rushed to Zion City in an automobile and went directly to the home of the murdered woman. They aroused the family and after a short talk with Mrs. Smith. A jury was quickly obtained and an inquest immediately opened.

Walter Greenhaugh was the first witness. He is a follower of Charles F. Parham, the originator of the remarkable sect known as Parhamites. The story of the murder as told by Walter follows:

"Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell came to our house. They told me that they had had a vision in which God had told them to come to my mother and help me cast out the demons. It is our belief that when one is sick it is because of the demons which beset you. He said we must start to work at once. We went into mother's room and told her that the ceremony was to begin. Mitchell took her by one hand and pulled it away from her body. She screamed terribly. Mitchell put his hand over my mother's mouth and choked off her cries. 'It is the devil leaving her,' he said.

"Then he stepped back and made some strange motions like a hypnotist. Mother moaned. Then Mitchell and his wife went to work again. They took her arms and pulled them out straight. There was a cracking sound. I found out afterward they broke the bones. They did the same with her legs. They pulled at her head. She groaned and cried out. 'That,' said Mitchell, 'was the demon leaving her body.' Then they began work on her hip. As they worked I saw blood there. I was frightened and demanded of Mitchell what it meant. 'Oh, that's just corruption coming out with the demons,' he explained. Finally mother fell back and there was no more struggling.

"She is sleeping now," they said; 'she will arise at supper time.' Then we went out of the room and waited. She did not come out and finally we all went into the room and discovered that mother was dead." At the conclusion of the son's testimony the inquest was continued until 4 o'clock this afternoon to give the authorities time to continue the inquiry and to permit of the burial of the body.

FOR DRASTIC LEGISLATION

Beginning of Agitation in Louisiana

COMMISSION AND POWER

Louisiana Railroad Commission in Appeal Urges That Constitution be Amended to Give it More Authority—Orders are Restrained by Roads at Present.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New Orleans, La., Sept. 20.—The beginning of agitation for drastic railroad legislation in Louisiana, following the lead of other southern states, is made public in an appeal by the railroad commission. It is urged that the constitution be amended to increase the power of the railroad commission.

Among the amendments is one asking that the orders of the commission become immediately effective. Under the present constitution the mere act of a railroad filing a suit against the commission's orders acts as an injunction delaying the execution of the order sometimes for two years. During these delays the commission declares "the rates may be sufficient to seriously cripple, if not altogether ruin, an industry or business."

Regarding the principle of immediate enforcement of rates ordered by the state, the commission argues that the order of injunction is sufficient protection to the railroads whenever the commission's orders are unjust.

CARONDELET PAPERS FOUND

Lost for Century Discovered in Library

ARE VERY IMPORTANT

These Papers Throw Much Light on the Southwest and May Make it Necessary to Rewrite History of Entire Section—Facts About the Documents.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 20.—The lost "Carondelet" papers, which for more than a century eluded the search of the historians of the world have been found in the Bancroft Library of the state university by Prof. Henry Morse Stephens and F. J. Teggart, custodian of the library. It will now be necessary to re-write the history of the southwest.

The papers are the official documents of the Spanish rule of Louisiana and contain all the historic events of the period. The documents were lost while in transit to Spain.

Baron de Carondelet was the last Spanish governor of Louisiana.

The papers contain reports to the governor throwing light on the history of western exploration. Besides the Carondelet papers there are among the manuscripts discovered special collection relating to the Dutch West Indies, the Danish West Indies, Cuba and Porto Rico.

Kelly, a resident of Philadelphia and one of the best known automobile racers and salesmen in America, died at Sacramento, Cal., yesterday from injuries received in an automobile accident which occurred in that city last Saturday. Details of the accident are not known here.

TAFT LEADS IN THE SOUTH

Chicago Tribune's Poll So Finds It

AND LEADS ELSEWHERE

Roosevelt Has Opposition in Southern States—Hughes and Fairbanks Also Favorites—Disgruntled Negroes and Politicians Express Sentiments—The Story.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Chicago, Ill., Sept. 20.—Under the caption "South for Taft despite revolt," in the Chicago Tribune, Raymond, the Tribune's Washington correspondent writes as follows:

"Although the politicians have been guessing a good deal about it, the actual fact as to the break-up along the southern republicans, as between the whites and the blacks, was not fully understood until the Tribune's poll was taken.

"The southern states of Arkansas, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia cast a total of 607 ballots in the Tribune test. It is significant that out of this total there are 58, or nearly 10 per cent of the whole, which were distinctly recorded in opposition to the progressive policy of President Roosevelt.

"According to the tabulated returns Taft leads as a presidential choice, as he does in every other section of the United States. The returns show that he is the first choice of 358 of the voters, Fairbanks following with 51, Foraker with 42, Hughes with 48, Cannon with 27.

"It is worth remembering at the same time, that while Taft was chosen by 70 as their second choice, Hughes rolled up 198, Fairbanks 86, Cannon 78, and Knox made a much better showing when the first, second and third choices are grouped together in the south than they do in any of the northern sections outside of the 'favorite son' states; for instance, Fairbanks is mentioned on only 104 in New England, which section he stumped industriously last fall.

"So, too, 'Uncle Joe' Cannon is mentioned for first, second, or third choice by 217 southern republicans, whereas he received only 127 votes for the six New England states, although, he, too, swung around the circles and made speeches in Vermont and Maine during the height of the campaign last year.

"Putting these two things together, it seems that the so-called conservative element in the south which is made up partially of disgruntled negroes, partially of disappointed white office-seekers, and partially of the property owning class which is looking for stability of investment, is feeling around for a candidate to head off the Roosevelt sentiment in that section."

WILL PUT COTTON PICKER ON MARKET

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Augusta, Ga., Sept. 20.—A petition for a charter has been filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of Richmond county by the Georgia Cotton Picker Company. The first cotton picking machine to be placed on the market here is one that was invented by Ben A. Chew.

The machine is declared by experts to be practicable. It is operated by a gasoline engine and is carried over the cotton fields in a wagon. Several tubes project from the machine and the cotton is picked from the boll by little saws. It is then carried through the tube into the wagon by means of suction.

It is said that a half dozen rows of cotton can be picked by this machine at the same time, and it is estimated that three men can do the work of seven or eight. The capital stock of the company will be $25,000 and the place of business in Augusta.

(Special to The Evening Times.) Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 20.—News has been received here of a criminal assault made upon Mrs. Harger, a respectable widow, residing near Campbell, Stokes county, Monday, by Sam Shelton, Jr. A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of Shelton on the charge of criminal assault. It is stated that Shelton fled immediately after the crime and is possibly in hiding in Virginia. He is a man about 40 years old and had previously borne a good reputation. He is a son of Mr. Samuel M. Shelton.

ALL-NIGHT HUNT RESULTS IN FIND

Friend of Mrs. Longworth Lost in the Forest

HUSBAND BEING SOUGHT

Mrs. Charles F. Joy, Lost in Dense Forest in Arizona, After Roaming for Days, is Discovered Weak and Exhausted—Searching Now for Husband.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Grand Canyon, Ariz., Sept. 20.—After having wandered through the dense forest extending back in all directions from the rim of the canyon since 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Mrs. Charles F. Joy, friend and traveling companion of Mrs. Alice Longworth, and wife of former United States Congressman Joy, of Missouri, was found lying exhausted under a clump of scrub oaks not sixty feet from the road for which she had been searching for twenty-one hours.

Eighteen guides from El Tovar, the canyon hotel, Indians selected from among the Hopis and Navajos, quartered here, and a dozen guests of the hotel, men and women, rode through the woods all night in an organized attempt to find the missing woman. Walter Hubbel and Miller Heibler, the oldest guides in point of service in the canyon, discovered Mrs. Joy.

When Mrs. Joy was brought to El Tovar she was in such an exhausted condition as a result of her exposure to the bitter cold prevailing here at night that it was necessary to carry her to her room in a stretcher. Later in the day it was announced she was out of danger.

Meantime the searchers are hunting for Mr. Joy, who has not been seen since he started out to find his wife at 5 o'clock Wednesday night. It is estimated that Mrs. Joy must have walked 150 to 200 miles through the heavy timber between the time of her disappearance and her recovery.

ALABAMIANS AND GEN. WHEELER

War Department Refuses to Allow Rank

INDIGNATION IS KEEN

Because War Department Refuses to Permit Rank of Famous General to Appear on Monument in National Cemetery, Congress May be Petitioned.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—Word has been received in Washington that Alabamians are very much wrought up over the refusal of the war department to allow the confederate rank of the late General Joseph Wheeler to be engraved on the monument over his grave in Arlington cemetery, Washington. The war department recently refused the request of a monument committee that this engraving be made, and this answer has caused any amount of unfavorable comment in General Wheeler's native state. Reports indicate that the people will impress on their senators and congressmen the duty of asking congress to rescind the order of the war department and to allow the full rank of the general while he was in the confederate service to be designated, as well as that of his service to the union.

The monument was erected by the daughters of General Wheeler. On one side of the monument are two blank lines, where it was the wish of the general's daughters that his confederate rank should be carved. The war department objected, and the lines have been left blank. It is said that the department considered it unseemly that the honors of a confederate general should be displayed in the national cemetery.

The Misses Wheeler desired their father buried at his home in Alabama, but at the earnest request of the war department they consented to have the body buried in the national cemetery. Alabamians claim that out of deference to the wishes of the daughters the confederate rank should be engraved on the stone. It is said that unless this is brought about the daughters will endeavor to have the body moved to Alabama.

800 WORKERS AT LODZ ARRESTED.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Lodz, Sept. 20.—Police and troops today surrounded a cotton mill the proprietor of which, Marcus Silberstein, was recently murdered by his employees. The workmen of the mill to the number of 800 were arrested.

TILLMAN AGAIN IN THE ARENA

Sweeps His One Good Eye Over World's Horizon

HE TALKS, TALKS, TALKS

Discusses State's Rights, the Press, Japan, War, Trusts, Politics—Says Root Idea of Centralization Will be Vital Issue in Next Campaign—His Other Views.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, after visiting thirty states since the adjournment of congress and meeting thousands of people, gives the Hearst News Service his observations on the vital questions of the hour and the issues that will predominate in the coming presidential campaign. He does not discuss candidates or politicians because he says he does not know anything about what they are doing in the way of political combinations and tickets.

By Benjamin R. Tillman, United States Senator from South Carolina: Judicial usurpation and trust abuses are co-relative questions—the two are interlocked and one hinges on the other, as President Roosevelt recently recognized when he made the issue in 1904 and 1905, that the railroad rate fixed by the commission should go into effect immediately and stick there till reversed by the courts. Of course, we all know he surrendered on this important point and that Aldrich came off victor. This bit of legislative history turns the light on the striking fact that in North Carolina the attempt was made to do just what the president declared all railroads ought to be compelled to do. But the federal court butted in and said they could not do it, but they did.

The Root idea of centralization will be the vital issue in the next presidential campaign. The Root idea will be pressed by the republicans and Roosevelt; the democrats will, naturally and inevitably, take the other side. This nation must speak through congress and define the powers of federal courts that are clutching states and everything else by the throats. The real and proper method of government control, and regulation of trusts is the other important question which must be determined in the next campaign. MR. WOODARD TIRED OF ARDUOUS TASK

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Washington, Sept. 20.—The North Carolina-Southern Railway case proceeded peacefully again this morning before the master appointed by Judge Pritchard. Nothing arose to disturb the quiet labors of the North Carolina attorneys as they delved into the records of the railway company and made their notes therefrom.

Counsel Thom, of the Southern, is seen to it that these legal advisers of the Southern commonwealth keep their noses to the grindstone and expedite the hearing as much as possible. Just before adjournment for luncheon at one o'clock today Attorney Woodard, of North Carolina, having turned over to Comptroller Plant a long list of vouchers that he wished to have brought in for examination sought a few moments' respite from his confining labors by talking with some friends in the room. Mr. Thom was seen to whisper to the waster and then call to Mr. Woodard to get busy on another book while the vouchers were being looked up. Mr. Woodard reluctantly returned to work.

But After a Fitful Spell of the Restraining Influence of the Buxom Cook, Pa Repents, and Warrant Sworn Out by Son-in-Law is Disregarded, and Harmony Prevails.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 20.—While his bride of an hour was being taken away from him by her father, Richard Oldfield was so tightly held by the negro cook at his boarding house that effective resistance was impossible. Oldfield eloped with Miss Lois Rollins and a short time after the newly wedded couple had reached the boarding place of the groom the girl's father, W. H. Rollins, appeared and demanded that his daughter leave the place with him at once. Oldfield attempted to interfere, but he was seized by the boarding house cook, a 200 pound negress, whose restraining influence was so effective that Mr. Rollins had no trouble in getting away with his daughter.

J. H. Looney, who secured a marriage license for Oldfield, is under arrest on the charge of perjury in swearing to the age of the young woman.

What Standard's Profits Are. At the further effort of Attorney Frank Kellogg on behalf of the government to break the Standard Oil monopoly, it was brought out semi-officially that the profits of the great combine between the years of 1882 and 1887 were between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000. This enormous sum took in the profits of all the Standard's various companies. Treasurer Tilford, who again resumed the stand, declared that he could not produce the books of the company. "Were they destroyed?" asked Mr. Kellogg. "I can't answer," replied Mr. Tilford.

There Will be Sculptured for Generations Statue of Bob, Most Perfect Reproduction of Roman Gladiator—Hero of 400 Battles.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, Sept. 20.—Robert Fitzsimmons, as the most perfect modern reproduction of the Roman gladiator, is to be sculptured in marble and placed side by side with the statues of the ancient fighters for the instruction of future generations in the physical development of the twentieth century. The former champion prize fighter of the world has been picked by Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, as the best specimen of muscular development and the hero of 400 hard-fought battles will sit every day this fall while the artist makes a statue of him. Fitzsimmons is in the city now and Mr. Borglum says he has completed arrangements for the sittings with the old man of the ring. "Fitzsimmons has the most remarkable figure for fighting, above the belt, that I have ever seen," said the artist.

"He is one of the best specimens of manhood in the world and is by far the most perfect representative of the fighting man that his age has produced."

All Affairs of Huge Monopoly Mr. Kellogg Hopes to Lay Bare Before Country—When Present Owners of Stock Are Learned, Government Can Prove That Standard is Trust, Restraining Trade and Controlling Prices—This Evidence He Hopes Will Show That Trust Should be Dissolved—Tremendous Profits of the Standard.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, Sept. 20.—From William G. Rockefeller, assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey—the real oil trust—Federal Inquisitor Kellogg hopes to drag today in the hearing before Special Master Ferris in the postoffice building, evidence to show conclusively that the monopoly has not only for years persistently defied the courts and violated the law, but is still at it and ought to be dissolved and disbanded. Mr. Kellogg has cleverly laid a trap for the Standard officials. He has secured admission concerning the owners of the trust previous to 1882, when the supreme court of Ohio ordered the monopoly to wind up its affairs. He has proven that the trust did not obey the order. He has wrenched from Treasurer Tilford the admission that, "so far as he knows, the same men own the stock of the big competition crusher as owned it before 1882."

Now from Mr. Rockefeller, who, Treasurer Tilford said, knows the details, he expects to learn the present owners of the stock, how much each individual holds and how and when he came into possession of it. This information will clinch the claim of the government that the Standard is a trust, restraining trade and controlling prices. Treasurer Tilford will be called to the stand again later on to give information he has been told to get. Before the testimony has been all taken Mr. Ferris, the government counsel, confidently expects to lay bare the inside history of the combination from the "gentlemen's agreement" period of 1872 to 1882, through the Ohio trust period of 1882 to 1882, the "trustees in liquidation" period from 1882 to 1889 and down to the present period of $80,000,000 annual dividends, under the title of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.
