

IN CONFERENCE WITH GOVERNOR

Counsel for State Discuss Rate Matters

A CONFERENCE FRIDAY

Meeting in Governor's Office Entirely Informal, Nothing Being Decided Upon Owing to Absence of Other Attorneys—Mr. Justice Arrives This Afternoon.

An informal conference was held in the governor's office today, ex-Governor Aycock, Mr. Fred A. Woodard, and ex-Judge James E. Shepherd being present. Nothing of any great importance was done, it was given out, the conference adjourning until next Friday, when all of the state counsel will be present.

Mr. E. J. Justice, ex-speaker of the house, arrived in Raleigh this afternoon and went direct to the governor's office, where he and Governor Glenn are discussing various phases of the rate litigation question.

Mr. Justice was seen by a reporter when he reached Raleigh today and the ex-speaker, who has been very prominent in the whole matter, discussed freely the setback that Judge Pritchard's decision had given the state. It was hoped not only by the state's counsel, but by people everywhere that the federal judge would allow a full examination of the books of the Southern, and the disappointment, if felt keenly by these lawyers, is shared by thousands of North Carolinians.

It was reported that at the conference today it would be decided whether or not Col. A. B. Andrews would be placed on the stand, but owing to the absence of all the state's counsel the matter was not gone into. What will be done next Friday, however, can only be conjectured, for of course none of the counsel is giving out advance information.

Ex-Governor Aycock and Mr. Woodard returned home this afternoon.

ARMY LIEUTENANT ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)
New York, Oct. 12.—Allen Lefort, a first lieutenant of the coast artillery, United States Army, was arrested last night and taken to police headquarters, where he was locked up on a charge of forgery. According to the police, Lieutenant Lefort deceived Norton & Company, bank brokers of Wheeling, W. Va., out of $1,500 by forging the names of brother officers to applications for loans.

When taken into custody Lefort had just received a demerit letter addressed to Colonel H. F. Hodges of the coast artillery, who was recently appointed third assistant engineer of the Panama canal. Before the police could get possession of the letter Lefort tore it up and scattered the pieces over the floor.

Norton & Company have been making a business of lending army officers money on their salaries, and it is alleged that Lefort took advantage of this to get himself out of some financial scrape. In his applications for loans he is charged with forging the names of Lieutenant Colonel Hodges, Colonel William L. Marshall, of the coast engineers, Washington, D. C.; Major H. J. Jolley, of the coast artillery; Major Fred Mast, Colonel C. A. P. Hatfield, and Captain C. P. White, of the Sixth Cavalry. In each instance, the police say, he pledged the salaries of his superiors and collected the money from the loan brokers.

MR. BRYAN IN FAYETTEVILLE

(Special to The Evening Times.)
Fayetteville, Oct. 12.—Hon. W. J. Bryan will arrive here Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from Charlotte, with a committee from here, headed by Maj. E. I. Hale, whose guest he will be until Wednesday morning, at which time he will go to Greensboro on a special train.

He will speak at 2 o'clock at the fair grounds and later hold a reception at the armory. Extensive arrangements are being made for his entertainment, and it is estimated between 15,000 and 20,000 people will hear him.

If you wish to be comfortable and successful, use common sense about food.

$1,000,000 can't buy good health, but the proper kind and quantity of food insures a good stomach—clear brain and steady, dependable nerves.

Grape-Nuts helps successful people "get there." "There's a Reason." "The Road to Wellville," in pks. is worth reading.

SAYS IT CURES ALL LAME BACKS

Get from any prescription pharmacy the following: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful dose after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered by an eminent authority as the finest prescription ever written to relieve Backache, Kidney Trouble, Weak Bladder and all forms of Urinary difficulties. This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood, which causes Rheumatism.

Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial; it certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it.

The Holy Eucharist Celebrated Today

By Bishop C. G. of New York, which in substance asks all churches to support them in a fight against child labor in the United States.

The resolution as adopted is as follows: "Whereas, the evil of child labor is apparently on the increase in the United States, and it is known that the employment of children in factories, mines and shops reduces wages to the child's standard, disintegrates the family, deprives the child of normal rights to a period of training and development, and deprives the human stock; and whereas, we recognize the profound responsibility of the church for the child's school as well as our spiritual standards, therefore we call upon employers and parents to use their influence to better legislation and better enforcement of the laws, to the end that the exploitation of the labor of children shall become impossible in this Christian country."

The message was presented to the home of deputies today.

A CORRECTION FROM DR. YOUNG.

Editor Evening Times:
Will you kindly allow me the space in your paper to correct one error and give an explanation of another point in reference to my testimony in the Rowland trial. The error is in the statement by the reporter making me say that aconite (aconitine) "is a stimulant to the heart." I did not say that. What I did say was that the most important function of aconite or aconitine was its stimulating action on the cardiac inhibitory nerve—the vagus; that this effect of the drug showed the action of the heart, thereby allowing more blood to flow into it during diastole (relaxation) of the heart, and as a consequence of this, that the systole or contraction of the heart was performed with greater force, and to this extent, aconite was more of a stimulant than otherwise; and this was stated to be its normal physiological action medicinally administered; which is a very different thing indeed from what is understood in the term "stimulant to the heart," which would be considered along with strychnine, digitalis, etc.

The point calling for explanation is this: "Was just reverse from heart depression, had stimulating effect."

This was in answer to question on cross-examination as to its effects when medicinally administered, and was in keeping with the view expressed above as to the more forceful action in the contraction of the heart when so given. Now its toxic effects were quite different. I admitted, of course, that when given in doses in excess of this normal physiological effect, that the drug acted as a poison; and one of the most intense poisons in proportion as the dose was increased beyond this physiological action. I laid stress on the fact, that while a sufficient quantity of aconite could be thrown into the system to paralyze the heart and cause death in a few minutes, that ordinarily death from this poison was from respiratory rather than cardiac failure, the heart in the majority of cases continuing to beat after the respiratory function has been entirely suspended.

Now, this is what I said, and tried and thought, I said it plain enough for everybody to understand, and is in harmony so far as I know with all authorities on the subject.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT. Resolutions of respect adopted by Peace Institute on the death of Dr. Alfred H. Moment:

Whereas, it pleased our Father in Heaven to remove by death our beloved pastor, and Bible class teacher, he it resolved:

1st. That we bow in humble submission to the Divine Providence, whose ways are not as our ways, and who doeth all things well.

2nd. That in the death of Dr. Moment the church has lost a loving undershepherd, Peace Institute an able advisor, and the community a loyal citizen.

3rd. That we extend our sincerest sympathy to his relatives, especially to his bereaved daughter, and offer our earnest prayer that God's protection and comfort may sustain them.

4th. We invoke God's aid and blessing upon our church, and upon Peace Institute, one of her important factors, and may He enable those in authority to fill the vacant place, and thus forward the work of Christ's kingdom.

5th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his sorrowing daughter, to "The News and Observer," and "The Evening Times."

BRYAN ON CHILD LABOR

Richmond, Va., Oct. 12.—William Jennings Bryan, in an interview here, said:

"On the question of child labor and my approval of the Beveridge bill, I have this to say:

"I notice that the people who are interested in coining money out of children's work are very eager to plead states rights as against any federal control. No body believes more in the reserved rights of the states than I; nobody is more for local self-government. But I don't believe that a state which is willing to degrade and destroy the next generation of its people shall be allowed to force its products upon other states and thereby destroy their industrial system. The trusts maintain two sets of attorneys—one set at the state capitol to protest that all state legislation is encroachment on the federal power; the other stationed at the business capitol to protest that all federal regulation of trusts is a violation of the rights of the states."
