SHERLOCK HOLMES.

Delighted Last Night—Plays Again Tonight.

The first performance of Sherlock Holmes was presented at the Academy of Music last night to an appreciative audience, which was shown by the frequent applause given the actors and actresses during the play.

Sherlock Holmes is a strong detective play and the part taken by Mr. Ramsey Wallace was well played. Mr. Wallace was supported by an evenly balanced company.

The play will be given at the Academy tonight for the last time and no doubt it will be greeted by a large audience.

"PEGGY FROM PARIS."

Seats for "Peggy From Paris" are on sale at the Tucker Building Pharmacy for Wednesday and Thursday nights. Already many applications have been made for this musical comedy which will be the attraction here for the two nights. The fame of this musical play has long preceded it. Everybody knows it was written by George Ade, the famous humorist, and that the music was written by William Lorraine. So successful has been this musical play that it ran for four months in New York, five in Boston, and three in Chicago. The advance seat sale promises to be one of the biggest of the season, judging from the number of inquiries that have already been made about the engagement.

FLORENCE DAVIS.

"A Question of Husbands" is a story of a young wife who is immersed in the wine of life, and a middle-aged husband who finds most of his pleasure about his home. She wants to go out; he wants to stay in. A convenient cousin of the husband has come to act as escort to the wife and in time they believe they are in love.

When she learns that nothing separates her from her lover, Cyrellene's love for him begins immediately to cool. Her husband's attitude plagues her and she begs him to take her with him to supper. He finally consents and she breaks an engagement with the lover. The supper shows Cyrellene where her affections are really placed and when the lover traces her to the cafe she eludes him and elopes with her husband. Miss Davis with Elliott Dexter will appear at the Academy Friday night, October 18.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children, too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists.
