END OF BRADLEY BANK THIEVES TRIAL IN SIGHT STILL AT WORK

Outlook for Acquittal Not So Bright Valuable Papers Stolen From Failed Institution

NOT INSANITY, PASSION $13,000 NOTE IS MISSING

Alienists Who Testify For the Prosecution Say the Woman Was Induced by Jealous Rage to Kill Senator Brown, and That the Tragedy Was Not Due to Insanity at the Time. Argument Will Probably Begin Next Monday—Verdict Probably on Anniversary of the Deed.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Washington, Nov. 29.—The story of the trial of Mrs. Bradley so far as told from the witness stand, drew to its end today. When court opened, after the Thanksgiving recess, there remained to be called by the government in rebuttal only a few minor witnesses and the expert alienists.

The government reached the climax of its case with the testimony of its alienists, Dr. Edward Brush, of Baltimore, and Dr. Smith E. Jellyffe, of New York. These men who have been watching closely the development of the case, hold as their opinion that Mrs. Bradley's impulse to the shooting was not insanity, but a fit of jealous rage.

The final arguments to the jury will be begun the first of next week. These will take several days, as five of the six attorneys on both sides of the case will speak. District Attorney Baker will close for the government, and Judge Powers for the defense. If there is no delay in reaching a verdict Mrs. Bradley will probably hear her fate on December 4, exactly one year from the date on which she left Salt Lake City, coming to Washington on what proved to be a tragic errand.

Mrs. Bradley's Thanksgiving day was spent in the jail. She arose at the usual time and expressed her gratification that she would be able to have a day of rest, as the constant attendance upon the sessions of the court has been very wearing upon her. Early in the day she was given favorable news concerning the condition of one of her sons, who is suffering from an attack of croup in this city. The boy is stopping in a boarding house with his grandmother not far from the court house in which the mother is being tried.

Records and Negotiable Paper Purloined From the Effects of the Defunct Borough Bank of Brooklyn. The Work is Attributed to Some of the Former Officials of the Bank Who Had Motives for Getting Certain Evidence Destroyed.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, Nov. 29.—The startling fact has been disclosed by District Attorney Elder of Kings county, that a raid was made at night on the defunct Borough Bank of Brooklyn, and an important bundle of incriminating papers stolen.

A note for $13,000 borrowed by Senator Patrick H. McCarron cannot be found and it is supposed to be among the missing papers.

News of this sensational development in the Borough Bank scandal, accounts for the halt in the grand jury investigation last Monday. Captain Kuhne, head of the Brooklyn detective bureau, has had a force of men at work ever since trying to locate the missing papers and identify the men who engineered the raid.

The work is attributed to former officials of the bank. Not only was the McCarron note carried off, but checks involving a number of other well-known men in deals with the looted bank were made away with as well as the book known in banking circles as the "tickler."

"Flipping" a Coin for a Federal Job by Pres. Roosevelt

EVEN THE GRAVE IS NOT EXEMPT

Gorilla Negro Assaults Aged Lady 85 Years Old

ATTACKED IN HER ROOM

Julius Booker, of Richmond, Captured by Policemen and a Neighbor While He Was Beating His Victim to Death on the Floor of Her Room—They Have a Desperate Encounter in Effecting His Arrest—Particulars of the Inhuman Crime of a Monster.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Richmond, Va., Nov. 29.—Brutally assaulted in her room by a negro who was overcome by officers and neighbors only after a wild and desperate struggle, Mrs. Jane Perry, 85 years old and an invalid lies in a critical condition with face and head badly bruised in her home, No. 2903 East Broad street, where the attack took place.

Officer Goodman called out, "What are you doing there?" whereupon the negro reached up and with his fist smashed the lamp, putting the room in darkness. Another light was secured, the officer using his club to terrible advantage over the negro's head.

JURY AT LAST, TRIAL OF CALEB POWERS BEGINS

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 29.—A jury to try Caleb Powers the fourth time for the murder of William Goebel has been secured and the committal-warrant today began its side of the case.

The first witness was B. M. Woodson, civil engineer, of Frankfort, who brought a map showing a plan of the eminent square. He exhibited a block of wood containing a bullet taken from a tree near where Goebel fell. He said that by the use of a steel surveying cane he concluded that the bullet had been fired from the office of Powers, who was then secretary of state.

"I got a wire and stretched it from the bullet hole to the office of secretary of state and found that it passed immediately over the point where Goebel fell," he said.

NO RESUMPTION OF THE DOUBLE TRACK WORK

(Special to The Evening Times.) Thomasville, N. C., Nov. 29.—T. S. Bell, manager at Thomasville for the railroad contractors, Lane Brothers, says he does not think there is any truth in the report that the work of double-tracking would soon be resumed in these days of tight money to undertake such work.

His firm had charge of all the double track work through here and has been doing extensive work elsewhere, but all such work is being curtailed.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—"I'll give you a divorce now; for you'll never get one from a judge," shouted Alfred Britton to his wife today in front of the city hospital. As he spoke he fired twice at the woman and then sent three bullets into his own head and died almost instantly. His wife escaped with a flesh wound in the arm.

FALLS 45 FEET THEN SPRINTS

Clothes Thief Jumps From Yarborough Window

PURSUED AND CAUGHT

Man, Who is Probably a Professional Rogue, Arrested Today for Larceny of Clothes—in Fall Receives Painful Injuries and is in Serious Condition—May Have Partner in City.

Giving his home as R. B. White and residing from Richmond, Va., a man entered the Yarborough House this morning at 9:30 o'clock with a package under his arm. A few minutes later, pursued by Policeman Jack Bradley and Mr. A. C. Bolin of the Southern Express Company, he jumped from a third-story window and ran several blocks before he was captured and lodged in the station house.

White had no sooner got in his room than Mr. A. C. Bolin appeared at the hotel and asked Clerk Wilson if he had seen the man, stating that the fellow had stolen a box of clothes from the Express Company at the depot early today. On being told that the man was there, Mr. Bolin went after an officer and returned with Policeman Beasley.

Together they proceeded to the stranger's room and demanded admittance. White replied that he was dressing, but would let them in presently. With that he flung open the window, caught hold of the gutter pipe and dropped forty-five feet to the sidewalk. Limping he ran off slowly. Pursued by the men he ran two blocks to the rear of the hotel, on Mount street, and crawled under the house of Lena Rivers, a negro woman, near the colored Baptist Church. Officer Beasley pulled him out and lodged him in the police station.

Offered Rigs for Lodging. Mr. Henry Latta, another clerk at the Yarborough, followed White to the station house and asked for pay for lodging. White said he was "broke," that he had only two dollars when he struck Raleigh, and that he had spent his all. He offered two cheap trunks as pay, however, but these were refused.

Guess Another Name. At the police station the man gave his name as Mack Solomon and his home as San Francisco. His possessions were found two pawn checks—one dated November 7, and the other November 12. They were made at Brooklyn, N. Y. The officers think the fellow, whose real name is probably something else, is a regular clothes thief and there is little doubt that he has been practicing his business in many other cities.

A. & M. CADETS WIN BANNER

Championship of South Comes to North Carolina

SCORE WASTEN TO FOUR

In Presence of 12,000 Spectators A. and M. College Football Team Defeats University of Virginia at Norfolk—Special Returns to Raleigh—Enthusiasm Both in This City and Norfolk at Result Was Great—College Boys Happy Last Evening.

The championship of the south was won by the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Norfolk yesterday afternoon when the University of Virginia was defeated by the score of 10 to 4. In the first half of the game the advantage was with Virginia, the cadets not seeming to put much life into the play. Several fumbles by A. and M. allowed Virginia to get the ball. After a few good gains Yancey for Virginia sent the ball between the goal posts, scoring four points. No other score was made during this half.

In the second half, however, the cadets awoke. Stevens circled around ends and Stroud, after the ball had been lost and regained, went over for a touchdown. Johnson kicked goal and the score was Virginia 4, A. and M. 6. Johnson made a pretty place kick at another time and made the score 10 to 4 in favor of the cadets.

The scene last night in Norfolk was unusual. Coach Whitehurst, who had trained the cadets for victory, was carried about the streets by the enthusiastic cadets. He and the victorious team were honored. Approximately 12,000 people saw the game on Lafayette field, and the colors were about equally divided. To say that the Tar Heels in Norfolk were wild is but expressing it mildly.

Special Returns to Raleigh. This morning at 8:10 the special Seaboard train, with its hundreds of happy cadets and their supporters returned from Norfolk. All report the greatest time ever and have only praises for the Seaboard and the manner in which it handled the crowds. The A. and M. boys made their headquarters while in Norfolk at the Monticello and from the end of the contest yesterday until the train left last night made things around it merry.

A part of the victorious team returned to Raleigh today, but some of the men will not return until tomorrow and Sunday as they have stayed over to take in the exposition.

FIVE KILLED MANY INJURED IN THE WRECK

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 29.—A trolley car, loaded with passengers on their way to work, was run down by a freight train at the railroad crossing here today.

Five persons were killed in the crash and eight terribly injured. The trolley car was demolished.

QUICK DIVORCE WHICH BEATS CHICAGO COURTS

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Milltown, Pa., Nov. 29.—Julius Dorf, for twenty years an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was shot and fatally wounded here by an unidentified Italian laborer, who was pursued by a party of hunters and shot dead.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—"I'll give you a divorce now; for you'll never get one from a judge," shouted Alfred Britton to his wife today in front of the city hospital. As he spoke he fired twice at the woman and then sent three bullets into his own head and died almost instantly. His wife escaped with a flesh wound in the arm.

BAPTISTS WILL NOT ENTERTAIN LADIES AT WILMINGTON

The Evening Times today received the following brief telegram, which is of special interest to our Baptist friends: "To the Baptists of the state: Only delegates can be entertained at convention in Wilmington. No ladies. Unforeseen condition. Reduce your representation. "FRED. D. HALE."

RESULT OF TWO PUGILISTIC MILLS.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—In Chelsea last night Jim Barry, of Chicago, knocked out Tony Ross, of New Castle, Pa., in the second round of a ten-round affair.

New York, Nov. 29.—Tommy Murphy, of Harlem, was outpointed by Young Loughy, of this city, at the matinee of the National Athletic Club yesterday afternoon.
