

IT WAS A DUEL AND THE LADY SIMPLY LIED

But She Told the Truth When She Insisted the Dead Man Was Her Brother

PARISIAN THEATRICAL MGR. HAD A BIG YARN

Beautiful Glacia Calla, who yesterday threatened to follow her legal husband till she landed him in the electric chair for "murdering" her brother, today admits that the tragedy resulted from a "fight"—evidence to confirm Roy's statement that it was a duel—another statement from Roy.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Boston, Mass., Feb. 28.—George Carkins, brother of Glacia Calla, the opera singer, was not murdered by her husband, Paul Roy, as she formerly swore, but was killed in a duel. According to dispatches received from Portsmouth, N. H., the young woman today admitted this to be a fact, and added:

"My brother drew a pistol but it was in self-defense. My husband was the aggressor."

It is not believed here that the warrant she has sworn out for Roy will be served. She has told so many conflicting stories that even her friends are beginning to believe the version first given out by the husband was correct. Physician who examined Carkins' body found he had been shot in the back. This goes further in bearing out Roy's story. He said that his brother-in-law continued to fire at him after he (Carkins) turned to run and in this manner received the bullets in his back. Glacia Calla has signed affidavits at Portsmouth following up the sensational charges she made against her husband.

Duel Story Again Confirmed.
(By Cable to The Times.)

Paris, Feb. 28.—In an interview with Paul Roy, who is charged by his wife, known on the stage as Glacia Calla, with the murder of her brother "Sonny" Carkins, at Newington, N. H., on February 2, Roy said that he had been advised by his lawyer, Maitre Audin, not to discuss the case further. Roy added: "The story of the shooting of Carkins as given to the Hears' News Service on Wednesday evening is true in every detail. The allegation of my wife that I shot her brother in the back is absolutely false. I shot 'Sonny' in a fair stand up, man to man duel. It was his life or mine."

"The story that George Carkins is not my wife's brother is also false. The origin of the story is due to the peculiar actions of Gladys and George while occupying a flat in the Rue Hamelin. Visitors often doubted their relationship owing to Gladys' free and easy manner."

ALWAYS HUNGRY.

Ordinary Food Never Satisfied Her. A young lady in Minnesota writes of her experience: "After a disheartening struggle for five years against the ill attendant on malassimilation of food, I am at last on the high road to recovery and feel impelled to give credit where it is due. "Some years ago I had a long illness due to stomach trouble. Every meal I ate caused me either excruciating pain or a dull heavy misery that was even worse. I weighed but 90 pounds, was almost hopeless as I found that a poorly nourished body means lack of brain power and ambition. "I was always ravenously hungry and while I could not eat the appetizing dishes on the table, I longed for them. That longing is what prompted me to try Grape-Nuts. The food had a flavour that I liked—rich without being heavy. "I left off my daily laxative as I found I did not need it for Grape-Nuts was so easily digested, constipation soon disappeared. I found, too, that I did not grow tired of Grape-Nuts and continued to eat it. "It forms my breakfast exclusively and I also eat it with eggs and fruit for my other meals. I have gained 10 pounds in less than a year and that is nothing compared with my gain in strength and courage. "I can now eat a hearty meal which satisfies my appetite and it does not leave me, as formerly, feeling as though I had dined on tacks. "There's a reason."

WIPING OUT THE RACE OF TRIBESMEN

(By Cable to The Times.) London, Feb. 28.—Lord Kitchener's little frontier war in the Bazar valley against the Zakkakheis tribesmen is making rapid and successful progress. The purpose of the expedition is to punish the tribesmen for numerous raids into Indian territory, and in a remarkably short campaign they have been scattered and broken, their forts have been destroyed and many of them have been killed.

WRANGLE OVER MCKINLEY ESTATE

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Cleveland, O., Feb. 28.—Because the heirs of the estate of William and Abner McKinley are unable to agree, it is likely the homestead of the late president will be sold at public auction. "I see no other outcome of the present difficulty," said administrator R. F. Shields, when Judge Haller ordered him to partition the estates of the McKineys, which are entangled.

ALLEGED STREET CAR STEAL AROUSES CITIZENS TO ACTION

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Chicago, Feb. 28.—The populace of Whiting, Ind., the Standard Oil city just south of Chicago, has risen in mighty indignation against an effort of three of its councilmen to push through a motion picture for a band of Chicago promoters. Yesterday the council received an ominous prospect from a committee of fifteen leading citizens. The envelope which contained the document was sealed with wax which held in place a piece of hempen rope in the form of a noose. The fraudulent attempt is a revival of the effort which resulted in a violent riot in the council chamber of Whiting last November. At that time citizens poured in, broke the furniture, and drove the aldermen to flight just as the ordinance measure was coming up for passage.

Kellert, special agent of the Immigration Commission of Washington, D. C., and Messrs. G. H. Bell and R. H. Bacon, also of the commission, are in Raleigh on business connected with immigration. Their purpose is to gather the sentiment, both for and against immigration throughout the south and transmit it to the national commission, which will in turn report to congress. These gentlemen have visited no other southern state except North Carolina and have been to no other cities as yet. They will visit Winston-Salem, Wilmington, Charlotte and other points before going further south. Mr. Kellert says that he finds the sentiment, as far as he has investigated, in favor of a restricted immigration. He is calling on all officials, newspapers and other sources for information on the subject.

BLOCKADE PLANT IN JOHNSTON DESTROYED

Another of Johnston county's industries has been cut down in its flower, and more of the citizens of that county have cause to mourn. Deputy Collector J. P. H. Adams and Deputy Marshal A. P. Surles did it. It occurred last Tuesday, when these gentlemen returned and reported the destruction of an infant industry. The story, without any frills, is the tale of a forty-gallon blockade distillery that was, but is not, of 100 gallons of beer that went to waste. The plant was located near Benson, Johnston county. It was not in operation at the time, but had been the day before. There was nobody at the plant and no arrests were made.

BEAUTIFUL MRS. M'KEE'S DIVORCE

(By Cable to The Times.) Paris, Feb. 28.—When Mrs. Hart McKee's suit for divorce is called for trial next Wednesday it is expected the young American millionaire will make allegations that her household servants, the witnesses upon whom she relied most, had been bribed by her husband and had deserted her. Mrs. McKee, although pale from worry, was as beautiful as ever today when she boarded a train for Nice, to take a few days' rest. She had her two little children with her and said she hoped to get a little sunshine and rest before the case is called on Wednesday. Colonel Baxter, her father, saw her to the train and tried to have her relinquish the care of her children to the governess and maid who accompanied her, but she would not let them out of her sight, and from this it is inferred she feared a rumored plot that her children would be kidnapped.
