PLAN TO REVISE TARIFF BY REPS

Inspired Announcement In the N. Y. Tribune Today

NO TARIFF COMMISSION

Outline of Methods to Be Employed By Republican Leaders, Congress and President Roosevelt, Through His Secretary of Treasury, to Examine Schedules and Prepare Terms of Revision of the Tariff On the Basis of Continued Protective Tariff—Experts to Gather Statistics.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, March 3.—The Tribune today publishes what is apparently an inspired dispatch from Washington in which is given the republican plan for tariff revision. It says:

Tariff revision conducted by the republican party—revision in consonance with the policy of protection and accomplished without any blasts of trumpets or beating of drums—will be insured by the course of the party in power this spring.

"Before adjournment Senator Aldrich will obtain from the senate authority for the finance committee to hold sessions in the recess and conduct such examination into the tariff schedules as may be deemed wise in view of the approaching revision. The ways and means committee of the house will also obtain similar authorization from that chamber and will arrange for preliminary work to be done in the early fall, immediately after the election.

The president will also contribute his share by detailing, through the secretary of the treasury a committee of appraisers, collectors and other treasury experts, who will gather statistics and prepare a report in which they will embody suggestions for the use of congress regarding such administrative changes as may be deemed desirable.

"There will be no tariff commission created to hold public hearings and inquire into private enterprises."

NEW KENTUCKY SENATOR-ELECT AGAINST TAFT

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—In an interview Senator-elect W. O. Bradley comes out unqualifiedly for Vice-President Fairbanks for president, and among his reasons is that Secretary Taft's supporters gave him no aid in his senatorial contest.

He says the republicans will have no walk-over in the presidential contest and that Taft's nomination would by no means make certain his election.

POWDER TRAIN EXPLODES WITH BAD RESULTS

Litchfield, Ill., March 3.—A powder train on the Big Four Railroad, going at full speed, exploded two miles from here today, fatally injuring two men and causing a disastrous wreck. The explosion shook houses and shattered windows for many miles. Several cars were burned.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FINISHES NEGRO

Trenton, N. J., March 3.—For a murder committed less than three months ago, George Wilson, a negro, paid the extreme penalty in the electric chair at the state prison today.

ANOTHER JUDGE IN THIS CIRCUIT TO BE CREATED

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Senator Simmons has, at the request of Judge Pritchard, introduced in the senate today a bill to create an additional judge for the fourth United States circuit. Mr. Pritchard wrote that the work has grown so that the judges of the court were overburdened. The fourth circuit, with one exception, is the only circuit that has but two judges.

Senator Simmons introduced an amendment to the bill by Senator Gallinger providing for a line of steamers between the South Atlantic and the gulf ports and South America. This amendment simply provides that "the expenditures for carrying mail for any one year shall not exceed the estimated revenue therefrom for that year." The receipts from foreign mail now exceed the disbursements on that account about $3,600,000. The purpose of the amendment is to make the foreign mail service self-sustaining, so that nothing will have to be paid from the treasury. Before introducing the amendment Senator Simmons submitted it to Mr. Gallinger and he advised him that he would probably accept it.

REWARD OUT FOR WIFE-MURDERER

Governor Glenn Today Offers $100 for Bill Lewis

ACT COMMITTED MONDAY

Aged White Man Charged With Murdering Wife—Said to Have Been Drinking—Reward Offered for Madison County Man—Conditional Pardon Granted Today.

Governor Glenn today offered a reward of $100 for the capture of Bill Lewis, a white man of Wilson county, who yesterday morning knocked his wife over the head with an axe, killing her. The request for the reward came to Governor Glenn by telegraph and the governor had the necessary document ready before 12 o'clock.

Lewis is a white man, is about 60 years old and is said to have been drinking when the crime was committed. He has fled the county and his whereabouts, so the telegram today stated, are unknown.

Governor Glenn offered another reward today, this time for the arrest of James Lunsford, a white man of Madison county, who is alleged to have murdered Eli Lunsford. For his capture $75 is offered.

On the recommendations of Solicitor Hammer and the county physician of Randolph county, Governor Glenn today granted a conditional pardon to Olla Walla, of Davis county, who is serving a sentence on the public roads of Randolph county. Both the solicitor and the physician stated in their request that the man was very sick and that he would die unless relieved of confinement.

REPUBLICANS OF OHIO IN SESSION

Big Convention In Session at Columbus Today

TAFT'S THE WHOLE THING

The Foraker Contingent Cuts a Sorry Figure — Temporary Chairman Garfield Is This Afternoon Delivering An Address Filled With Praise of President Roosevelt and the National Administration—A Revision of Tariff Along the Lines of Continued Protection.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Columbus, O., March 3.—A defense of the policies of President Roosevelt, a pledge that these policies will be continued by the republican party and the assumption that the nomination of Secretary Taft for president was certain, were the features of the speech made here today by Secretary of the Interior Garfield in opening the Ohio state republican convention, of which he is temporary chairman.

Mr. Garfield pointed out that the opponents of Mr. Roosevelt are divided into the two great classes of those who say he has gone too far and those who claim that he has not gone far enough.

He predicted a revision of the tariff along protection lines by the republicans and declared that there should be certain changes in the currency system of the United States.

Garfield Praises Roosevelt.

In conclusion he said:

"Thus we welcome the coming campaign, the record is made. We are ready to choose our leader, and again a son of Ohio is the destined man. Our people have made their selection—William H. Taft. He stands pre-eminent among the purest, wisest and strongest men of the nation. His experience at the bar, on the bench, in high executive office; his unusual capacity for administrative and executive work, his brilliant success in it; his long experience and thorough knowledge of the nation's affairs; his fairness, whole-souled honesty and courage—these qualities have won for him the admiration, the trust and the loyal support of our people. He is in hearty sympathy with the great policies of this administration, not only because he believes in them, but also because he has been one of the chief advisers in formulating them and one of the strongest aides in carrying them out. His life has been spent with men who work, whether with muscle or brain. He appreciates and is in sympathy with the movements that make for the betterment of the moral, social and industrial conditions of our people. Under his leadership, the republican party, true to its traditions, inspired by the spirit of those who created it and gave their lives that the union should live, awake to the needs of the present, definite and fearless in its pledges for the future, will, with united ranks, add still another to its long list of victories."

Of President Roosevelt Mr. Garfield said:

It is indeed fortunate that we have had such a president during these critical years. His personal association with all sorts and conditions of men; his intimate knowledge of history and condition of all parts of our country; his political training, his grasp of the fundamental principles of government; his recognition of the obligations of citizens in private, commercial and public life, his fairness, vigor and courage, his optimistic belief in the destiny of our people, and his keen insight into the needs and possibilities of the future; all these combined have made him the great and successful leader of a great and successful party. These qualities of heart and mind made him appreciate that the commercial spirit of our country was in certain respects leading it far astray, that in the race for greater wealth and greater industrial power men are losing sight of the great underlying purpose of life; that unregulated, unrestricted corporate wealth and power threatened the destruction of a republican form of government; and that the only ultimate safety of those who owned and controlled great properties, as well as those (the larger number) who own and control but little, can only be assured if obedience to law, regulation and restriction of corporate power and the subordination of special privilege to the public good be recognized and enforced."

ANARCHIST OF THE WORST TYPE

Assassin Who Attacked Head of Chicago Police Dep't

HERE ONLY 3 MONTHS

Yet This Alien, Whose Feet Had Just Touched the Shores of Free America, Was Called Upon to Murder Chief of the Law Force As He Recognized It—Disciple of Emma Goldman—Identity of Man Who Attacked Chief Shippey in His Home.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Chicago, March 3.—The man who attempted yesterday morning to assassinate Chief of Police Shippey, and whom the chief killed, was identified as Lazarus (Harry) Averbuch, aged 20, a Russian Jew; birthplace, Kishineff.

He had been in this country only three months. He resided at 218 Washburn avenue, with his sister Olga, 25 years old. He had worked a month for W. H. Eichenegren & Co., 183 South Water street, a commission merchant.

He was an anarchist of a morbid insane type—a disciple of Emma Goldman, "Queen of the Reds," and probably a member in the recent parade of the unemployed, which had "Dr." Ben L. Reitman at its head. He was inspired to his murderous attack upon the chief of police partly by the rebuff which the marchers received that day at the hands of the police and partly by the announcement of the police department that Miss Goldman would not be allowed to speak on anarchy at German Hod Carriers' Hall next Friday, as was scheduled.

It is believed the young anarchist had a partner in his work who thus far is only known as the "curly-haired boy." Two other men were arrested at midnight, but it thought their connection with the case is at most remote.

BABIES CAME TOO FAST AND THE OLD MAN RAN AWAY

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—When his wife became the mother of two or eight months ago, John Olson, 1903 N. Albany, ran away from his home. Yesterday Mrs. Olson notified a policeman. According to her story, when the twins were born, Olson grabbed his coat and ran out of the house. After waiting for him a week she appealed to the neighbors for aid. By hard work and the neighbor's aid she has managed to support herself and her children.

She has two other children besides the twins.

THE OLD MAN HAD A GREAT THIRST

New York, March 3.—In testifying in their suit to have the will of their father set aside, Elizabeth Bell Scott and Ethel L. Barker asserted that their father, George A. Barker, who died in West Chester county, was so addicted to intoxicating liquors that he drank a pint of gin every morning before breakfast and never ate a formal dinner, contenting himself with a bottle of brandy and some milk after retiring. Two months before his death Barker married a second time. He changed his will, excluding his daughters. The estate involved is worth about $200,000.

Simmons to Speak on Shipping Bill.

Washington, March 3.—The ocean mail shipping bill has been made the special order for consideration by the senate next Thursday, the 5th instant, Senator Gallinger agreeing that Senators Newlands, of Nevada, and Simmons, of North Carolina, would then be ready to speak on the bill.

INTEREST IN WEBB'S DAILY GIN REPORT

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Washington, March 3.—Considerable interest is being aroused by the bill introduced by Representative Webb, of North Carolina, providing for the daily publication of the amount of cotton ginned in lieu of the semi-monthly publication now made by the director of the census. The bill provides that this daily publication shall begin not later than the 25th of September and shall continue not later than the 15th of February. Mr. Webb in a statement to the Hearst News Service regarding his bill, says:

"The object of the bill is to destroy violent fluctuations in the cotton market which we have under the present system of reporting the number of bales ginned. For fifteen days the world gambles on whether or not the report will be bearish or bullish, and just as often millions are lost on the gamble.

"Not only this, but the manufacturers of cotton who buy according to the market prices established in New York never know when they are safe and constantly fear bankruptcy by sudden and violent fluctuation of the cotton market occasioned by the semi-monthly report.

"The bill which I propose would provide for the daily reporting of the amount of cotton ginned and would cause the price of this great staple to rise and fall as gently as the breathing of a child, absolutely preventing any violent or sudden rise or decline in price, and giving every man a chance to base his calculations for the future upon a safe and just estimate."

A BLOODY CRIME IN THE DEBRIS

Mystery of Why Untenanted House Was Burned

CHARRED BODIES FOUND

Murderers Neglected to Remove Telltale Necklace and Key-ring on Which Names of Victims Were Engraved—Believed to Have Been Killed and Building Set on Fire After Bodies Had Been Thrown Into It By Assassins—But Why?

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Bordertown, N. J., March 3.—When the ruins of an untenanted house, which was burned during the night, were investigated today, the charred bodies of a man and a girl were found beneath a pile of half burned timbers in the cellar. The theory is advanced that both were killed and placed in the house and the old structure set afire to conceal the evidence of the crime.

The scene of the mystery was a tumble down frame structure, on the Plant farm, near Roebblings. The Roebblings' volunteer fire department turned out to fight the blaze but could accomplish but little, owing to a lack of water.

By the side of the man's body was found a key ring bearing the name "William Steek." This name appears on the pay roll of the Roebbling plant of an engineer employed on a shifting engine. Around the neck of the dead girl was a necklace marked "Lydia Carter." Both Steek and Miss Carter are missing from their homes in Roebbling.

The police are working on the theory that both were unconscious when carried into the building and the place was afterwards set on fire.

PAID MILLION DOLLARS BACK TAXES ON ESTATE

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—The executors of the Marshall Field estate delivered yesterday to John R. Thompson, treasurer of Cook county, a check for $1,000,000 in settlement for back taxes on securities inventoried with the probate court.

ANARCHISTS ON RUN IN CHICAGO

Exodus from Their Usual Haunts Has Begun

POLICE MAKING IT HOT

Since Murderous Attack On Head of Police Department the Officers Have Been Hot on the Trail of the Worst Ones—Companion of Assassin Whom Chief Shippey Killed Is Arrested—Dragnet Search for Assassin's Lover Being Made Today.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—Scores of Chicago anarchists are reported by detectives to have fled to hiding today as a result of the capture of Isidore Maron, champion of the assassin, Lazarus Averbuch, who was shot to death in his effort to annihilate the family of Chief of Police George M. Shippey yesterday.

Maron was arrested as he was entering the apartments where Averbuch lived with his sister and his sweetheart at 218 Washburn Avenue. He was hurried to the Maxwell street police station, then to the city hall, and plans made to take him later to the home of Chief Shippey.

The exodus of anarchists from their usual haunts began late tonight and was given impetus by the arrest of Maron. A dragnet search is being made for the assassin's sweetheart, who disappeared at about the time that Shippey was stabbed, his son shot and James Foley, his driver, wounded, in the Shippey home at 71 Lincoln Place.

Another arrest of importance today was that of Hank Zajlack of 584 Blue Island Avenue, who has confessed that he wrote a threatening letter to Father Precopius. He is believed to be a leader in the anti-clerical movement. Another arrest was made by passengers on a Van Buren street car, who overheard Joseph Freedman, a clerk in a downtown store, after he had asserted: "I wish that man had got Shippey. He ought to be killed and a lot more like him."

A concerted movement was started by the police today to suppress anarchists. Assistant Chief Schuetler summoned to his office high police officials for a secret conference. Mayor Busse at the same time started for the Shippey home to discuss the same problem with the police superintendent.

Henry Shippey, son of the chief, was reported much better today. He passed an easy night. Unless complications arise he will recover, the physicians believe.

Chief Shippey passed a restless night but gained a few hours sleep in the morning and declared himself refreshed.

While the search for the sweetheart of Averbuch is being made, Olga Averbuch, sister of the dead assassin, who is under arrest at the Harrison street police station, declares that she does not know the girl.

"My brother was a hard student and not an anarchist," persisted the sister. "He attended a night school at Twelfth and Jefferson streets, was well read and a good bookkeeper. He did not attend anarchist meeting."

A mail carrier declared today that he had delivered a number of letters to Averbuch from some town in Indiana. He did not remember the name of the place but efforts are being made to trace the epistles, in the belief that they may have come from some anarchist colony in that state. He was also taking a correspondence course in engineering.

ALL THE CITY OFFICERS ARM THEMSELVES

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Chicago, March 3.—Following the attack upon Chief of Police Shippey, the high authorities in the city and local branches of the state government yesterday made preparations to protect themselves from a repetition of the assassination attempt.

Mayor Busse, Judge George Kersten, of the criminal court, and Assistant State's Attorney B. J. Short, all purchased revolvers during the day and prepared to resist any personal violence on the part of some person whose enmity they might incur by the performance of their duties.
