

THIS KENTUCKIAN ANDES

MAKES WONDERFUL REPUTATION IN SHORT TIME.

A man must be given credit when he can earn a wonderful reputation in three years, such as The Great Andes enjoys. He hails from the Blue Grass of Kentucky, and is said to be a broad minded man, who believes in doing good for his fellowmen. The one important thing which has brought him before the public, and given him a national reputation is his famous Medicines: Andes Great Prescription and Oil. He is now making a tour of the leading southern cities and his lectures on good health are attended by thousands everywhere. The cures effected on Rheumatism, Catarrh of Stomach, Liver, Kidney, and Bladder Diseases is the talk of the whole south Here is a sample of one of these great cures.

Mr. J. N. Roberts, of 519 Oakdale avenue, Raleigh, N. C., says: I had a stiff knee for five years and had tried several different liniments, endeavoring to cure it, but they failed. One of my friends told me of the Great Andes Oil, and what he had seen it do for others with stiff joints. I bought one bottle, cost me 50c. and before I had finished the bottle noticed the stiffness began to leave. Now after using the whole bottle, I find I can bend and have as good use of my knee as I did five years ago."

Call at our store and we will tell you more about these Andes Great Medicines.

THE NEWS AND GOSSIP OF DIAMOND AND RING

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, March 27.—Boer Unholz is attracting about as much attention in the pugilistic world just now as Prince De Sagan is in the social world. Jim Jeffries tried to sign the Boer for a twenty-five round fight with Joe Gans, but he has refused, saying that it must be for forty-five rounds or more and at the lightweight limit with the title flopping to the winner. Jeff has not decided what his card will be now that the Boer has thrown him down, and we are awaiting his announcement hourly. He will try and get some one to hook up with Gans in a twenty-five round fight.

Last night Battling Nelson sent a wire from Frisco saying "that a fine offer had been made for a fight between the pair."

The Boer wants no one but Gans. He would pass up a fight with a platter of sauer kraut and pigs knuckle to get a soak on the jaw but as Coffroth is the only man who can handle a forty-five round go, the chances look very slim for the go. Gans wants a guarantee of $12,000 before he will put up his dukes in such a go, and Coffroth refuses to fork over said amount. He will give the men a percentage but no guarantee.

Bruisers With Aristocratic Cognomen

Battling De Sagan, the French lightweight, has offered to take on Spike Boni De Castellane and his two brothers if any club will offer a decent purse. De Sagan lost to Boni in a round last year in Paris, but claims that his foot slipped and that the wallop was a fluke. In speaking of the fight last night, he said:

"This fellow De Castellane is only a fourth rate man. On the level, he couldn't punch a hole in a circus hoop, let alone knock me out. Why we were only sparing for an opening the last time we met and in turning to Mitt a pal at the ringside, my ankle turned, and while it was turning Boni sneaked up, copped me on the ear and I keeled.

"Why, it's a joke to class him with me. I'll take him and his two brothers in a locked room, and if I don't trim the three of them in ten rounds, I'll give my purse to charity."

Jim Jeffries has been scouting around for a card for his new Los Angeles Club, and, if he is really anxious, here's the chance of his life time.

Some say that he quit in the go with Spike De Castellane, but those at the ringside say it was hard luck and that he really did turn his ankle.

De Sagan is doing light work now at his training quarters in the Cafe Martin and rounding into shape in grand fashion.

He will do a little light work tomorrow afternoon at the Cafe Dolan on Park Row.

Comiskey Says He Will Assume the Blame.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New Orleans, March 27.—Charles A. Comiskey stopped off here today en route to Los Angeles. He said he would assume all the blame for the Atz-Manuel-Rohe-Dundon deal and would show the national commission where it acted hastily in imposing fines on both Chicago and New Orleans marksmen.

"I paid cash for Atz and Manuel last fall," said Comiskey. "Frank wanted Rohe and Dundon as part payment, but I didn't think then that Detroit and Cleveland would waive on Rohe. This spring I found that they would and Frank wanted them I let them go to New Orleans and Frank refunded part of the purchase price. The deal was above board in every way."

THE READY TONGUE OF A COOL MAN

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 27.—A panic was prevented when a fire broke out on the stage of Hales' opera house at Towanda, by the ready tongue of a man in the gallery and the coolness of others. There was a shower of sparks on the stage, a burst of smoke, and a mass of burning scenery from the left, having been thrown on the stage by a stage hand to prevent it setting fire to other pieces.

Instantly the audience was on its feet, and the curtain was lowered. A panic was imminent, when a loud voice in the gallery was heard crying, "Keep up that curtain; we want to see the way you put out the fire."

Others took up the cry; there was laughter and applause, and the curtain was raised. Actors and stage hands were seen beating out the blaze, and the audience, with its confidence restored, sat down and watched them doing it. It was a work of some minutes. Then the stage was cleared and the play resumed.

EARTH OPENED AND SWALLOWED THE TOWN WHOLE

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Mexico City, March 27.—Chilapa, a town in the state of Guerrero, was completely destroyed by an earthquake last night. The ruins are now burning. Many hundreds are said to have been killed. The population is terror-stricken. Chilapa was a town of 15,000 inhabitants. The inhabitants were sleeping when the first shock, a most violent one, caused the buildings to tumble to ruins. Then followed a general quaking of the earth's surface and in a few minutes the town was in ruins. Fire broke out, completing the devastation. Hundreds of people trapped in the ruins, are reported to have been burned to death. The survivors have moved some distance from the town and terror-stricken, are camping in the open. They are suffering from the want of food. Chilapa is 111 miles south of Mexico City and relief has been already started for the scene of the holocaust.

Recorded at Washington.

Freight Rate Hearing Before Commissioner

with the earnings of the railway, its mileage, carrying ability, etc.

From Winston-Salem and Durham.

In the court room were a number of business men from Winston-Salem and Durham and quite a few spectators. The business men from Winston-Salem present are: N. L. Crawford, president of the State Retail Merchants' Association; C. M. Thomas, E. D. Vaughn, J. J. Norman, J. M. Rogers, P. H. Hanes, Jr., and A. L. Butner; from Durham: Gen. Julian S. Carr, W. E. Lindsey, C. C. Thomas, Julian S. Carr, Jr., E. E. Allen, Capt. L. James, A. E. Floyd, B. L. Faucette, A. L. Pheff, H. L. Rawls, and E. H. Lawrence.

Mr. Norman for Commission.

Mr. J. J. Norman, a wholesale merchant of Winston-Salem, followed Mr. Brown and stated that on a great many commodities the freight rate is much higher for Winston-Salem than it is for Virginia cities. The jobbing business, he said, was confined to a radius of less than seventy-five miles, in which territory the Virginia towns had as good a rate. In territory outside of this radius it was impossible to attempt to compete with the cities of Virginia by reason of the higher rates. Mr. Norman only desired an equitable rate and an equal chance with merchants of Virginia towns.

Mr. E. D. Vaughn, who came next, also testified that his firm was handicapped by reason of higher freight rates, giving instances. His testimony was on the line of that submitted by Mr. Norman.

The counsel for the Corporation Commission announced before adjournment at 1:15 for dinner, that all the evidence would probably be submitted before night.

The attorneys for the Norfolk & Western and for the Virginia cities, on cross examination brought out the point that the rates enjoyed by Virginia cities are due rather to water facilities than to other causes.

REUBEN TURNER AGAIN OUTDID HIMSELF, AND THIS TIME EFFORT WAS FATAL.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Sandusky, O., March 27.—Reuben Turner, millionaire elevator owner, who as a delegate to the democratic national convention held at Chicago in 1896 gained notoriety by offering a resolution to turn the picture of Grover Cleveland toward the wall, is dying at his home in Kimball. Over-exertion in behalf of recently enacted county option legislation in Ohio, is said by his physicians to have broken his health.

WAS STARVING AND WAS DENIED HELP BY ALL

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, March 27.—A gray-haired, sickly looking man walked into the banking office of C. B. Richard & Co., 33 Broadway, yesterday afternoon and asked for money to get food. He was ordered out, and, after walking to the street stood looking for a moment at the firm's window where a quantity of foreign money was exhibited.

Then his glance fell on a piece of concrete lying in the gutter, and, hastily picking it up, he threw it against the plate glass. The window broke in a dozen pieces, and the old man grabbed a 100 franc and a 50 franc note and ran.

Two of the firm's clerks caught him before he had gotten fifteen feet away.

In the station house the prisoner described himself as Thomas Kennedy, 70 years old, a sail-maker, with no home. He said he had eaten nothing for 48 hours and his appearance indicated it. The police sympathized with him, but charged him with burglary.

Nip It In the Bud.

From the Wilmington Messenger:

North Carolina is no healthy place for Black Hand threats, or anarchistic proceedings in the way of warning respectable people to leave their homes. There has recently been one case of each kind in this state. Both should be thoroughly investigated and the guilty parties severely punished. In the sending of an "infernal machine" to Mr. Caesar Cone, of Greensboro, through the mail he was put in danger of his life or, at least of great bodily harm. In that case there can be no plea that it was intended as a practical joke. Had he not received the letter of warning before the arrival of the package there is no telling what harm would have been done. The man who sent the deadly package, if his identity can be established, should be severely punished. Even if it was he who, after mailing the package, had repented of his action and sent the letter of warning; for even so, there was great danger of a fearful accident to some one. Any one of the postal clerks handling the package was liable to explode it, and there was possibility of the letter of warning not reaching Mr. Cone until it was too late to prevent the fearful results contemplated at the time of the mailing the deadly package. The sender committed a horrible crime and his punishment should be graded with the possibility of the fearful results that might have followed his conduct.

And there is that outrageous case in Mecklenburg county in which a coffin with a threat of direful calamity if a sum of money was not paid is left at the door of the residence of a respectable farmer. We are glad to know that the authorities are on the track of the perpetrators of this deed. Some think it was done as a joke. Men who play such jokes ought to be given time in the penitentiary to reflect on the serious consequences which might follow such jokes. The lady of the house where this joke (?) was played was so frightened that her condition became very serious and she almost went into convulsions. Joke or no joke, the men who did that deed should be severely punished.

Such tricks as these are new in our part of the country and they should be nipped in the bud and so severe punishment meted out to the perpetrators that they will not be repeated.

Exit Mr. Roosevelt, Radical.

From the Charlotte Observer:

We repeat it: The Big Stick is no more. A previous review of the president's special message as pretty accurately outlined in press forecasts renders unnecessary a detailed discussion of that message as printed this morning. The conclusion then reached stands unqualified. It remains evident that the politician in Mr. Roosevelt's make-up has become dominant, and on this account the message can be said to possess peculiar significance. Everything proposed to congress, however opinions may differ upon the merits of this or the other recommendation, shows an unmistakable swing away from radicalism; and it is therefore a very fair inference that the president deems political advantage to lie in the direction of conservatism. He may intend little more than to placate his enemies in the republican party, trusting that the radical element is his anyhow, but we see some clear evidence of a practical recognition on his part of the country's growing demand for less agitation. Thus the Mr. Roosevelt who recently breathed out fire and slaughter against "predatory wealth" now presents himself as a reformer of the species calm, conservative, constructive. Our admiration for him remains stationary or a little less, but we are firm in believing that the business public—and this means almost the entire public—is very greatly to be congratulated.
