SLAYER OF GIRL IS KNOWN TODAY

Arrest Momentarily Expected for Murder of Hazel Drew, Pretty 19-Year-Old Governess, Whose Body Was Found in Teal Pond Yesterday---District Attorney and County Detectives Have Eyes on Suspects and Say Occupants of Lightless Automobile in Which Victim Rode Will Shortly Be Under Lock and Key---Whole Countryside Aroused By Brutal Crime and Threats of Summary Vengeance Fill All the Air---Girl Not Assaulted, But Died Fighting to Protect Honor.

An arrest is momentarily expected for the murder of Hazel Drew, the beautiful young girl whose dead body was found in Teal pond, 10 miles from Troy.

Today's evidence shows that, while Miss Drew was not ravished, she died fighting to defend her honor in the mysterious automobile that carried no lights.

Friends of the girl, much incensed by the dastardly crime, the most brutal in the annals of Rensselaer county, are threatening violence, and the suspects, when taken into custody, will be closely guarded.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Troy, N. Y., July 14.—The murderer of Hazel I. Drew, the beautiful 19-year-old girl whose body was found in the shallow waters of Teal pond, 10 miles from this city, is known. One, probably two, arrests may be made today, according to the announcement of District Attorney Jarvis P. O'Brien.

Developments in this, the most tragic and most pitiful murder in the history of Rensselaer county, have come so swiftly as almost to surprise the men who, 24 hours ago, were without a clue to the slayer.

Clever selection of a lonely spot for the concealment of the body and efforts to convey the impression that the girl jumped into the lonely pond to end her life proved baffling only for a time.

But the murderer's subsequent demeanor—the guilty conscience offsetting the precautions against detection—have resulted in the weaving of a web so closely about the suspected man that but few strands are needed until the net is drawn.

Died While Struggling to Defend Her Honor.

Marks upon Hazel Drew's body indicate clearly that she died while making a brave struggle to defend her honor. A string tied about her neck indicates that the murderer and his accomplice, fearing the blow on the back of the head had not been sufficient to end her life and forever seal her lips, made sure, doubly sure, by strangling her.

Grief over the death of the beautiful young governess is widespread. Her winsomeness, good nature and mental alertness had endeared her to the family of Prof. E. R. Carey, head of the Rensselaer Institute in this city.

Suspects May Be Treated to Violence.

Violence is being talked of by indignant friends of the family, and so great is their anger and resentment at the revolting crime that every precaution will be taken by the authorities when an arrest is made.

GIBBONS AND FARLEY WILL SAIL FOR ROME

New York, July 14.—Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, will sail Saturday for Rome. After his visit to the pope he will attend the convention of the international Eucharistic league in London, at which Cardinal Vanutelli will be the special representative of the pope.

Archbishop Farley, of New York, accompanied by his secretaries, will also sail for Rome next Saturday, and will take with him Peter's Pence offering of the archdiocese of New York. The archbishop will inform Pius X of the deep impression made in this country by the recent centenary celebration, and will present the pontiff with a copy of a book written describing the celebration.

GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY

Won't Call Special Session to Pass County Unit Bill.

Frankfort, Ky., July 14.—In reply to the demand of the Southern Methodist conference of eastern Kentucky that he call an extra session of the legislature to pass a county unit bill and extend temperance legislation in the state, Gov. Willson says the failure of the legislature to pass a county unit bill was due to the democratic majority in the house and senate. He does not think, however, that he can afford to burden the people with extra payments for an extra session, especially where there is no certainty that such a bill would be passed.

ALIR, PRIEST'S SLAYER, TRIES TO ESCAPE DOOM

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Canon City, Col., July 14.—Seizing a moment when his guard's back was turned toward him and the door of his cell was unlocked, Giuseppe Alia, slayer of Father Leo, of Denver, felled the man he thought the only barrier between himself and liberty and made an attempt to fight his way out of the penitentiary.

The Italian was immediately overpowered by the men on the death watch seated in front of the cell door, and the almost unconscious deputy warden was taken from the cell. The door was locked on Alia and he resumed his usual phlegmatic demeanor.

HELEN KILLS HER VICIOUS FATHER

When He Threatens to Murder Bedridden Wife and Little Baby

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Millville, N. J., July 14.—There is no sympathy here for Edward Polhamus, of Delmont, who is dying from two bullet wounds, but his daughter Helen, who fired the shots, is cheered by every man and woman in town. She shot him when, enraged, he threatened to kill his family, including a bed-ridden wife and a three days-old baby.

Love drove the girl to the act. She fired, as he was bent on murder, and then saved her father from lynching, even in his wounded and helpless condition, at the hands of the men of the village. She met the would-be avengers face to face and pleaded with them.

"He cannot do any harm now," she said. "Please leave him for God to take care of." And Miss Helen went out.

Girl Gives Herself Up.

The villagers went away. And not a man suggests putting Helen in jail for her act. She gave herself up to Justice Beckley, but he sent her away on her own recognizance, though prominent citizens offered bail in any amount if needed.

Polhamus is said to have brooded over family troubles. He took to drink and while drunk is alleged to have made a public threat to kill his family and himself and so end all his troubles.

VICTIM OF WIFE'S MOTHER'S PISTOL

Still Lives in Hospital and Doctors Have Not Abandoned All Hope.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

New York, July 14.—Dr. James W. Simpson, who was shot down by his wife's mother, Mrs. Bartley T. Horner, at the door of her home at Vernon Valley, near Northport, L. I., is in a critical condition today in Roosevelt hospital, but the doctors attending him have not given up hope for his recovery.

The nerve displayed by the wounded dentist excited their wonder.

"If I die," he said smiling, "I will be conscious-clear of the murder of my father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner."

Talks of Horner Trial.

Then Simpson talked of his trial, following the killing of his father-in-law on December 27, 1905, when he was arrested and charged with deliberately murdering the old man.

"I had my training then, you see," he said. "I was in a worse box then than I am in now. I am only suffering physical pain now. Then I was suffering mental torture, and the last is the worst. It was much worse because I was sane then. I didn't deliberately kill Mr. Horner."

Has Nerve of Steel.

The physicians cannot help but admire such steel nerve. They reported today that he had passed a restful night, but they were not willing to predict the outcome of his injuries.

Mrs. Horner, the dignified, white-haired woman who shot Dr. Simpson down, is as calm as her victim. She is free on $5,000 bail, furnished by Mrs. Simpson, and is at her home with her daughter. "I don't seem to fear," she said.

Mrs. Horner and her daughter, Mrs. Simpson, have contended from the night Mr. Horner was shot that he was deliberately murdered, and recently the widow represented to neighbors and friends that she feared for her own life. She told how Dr. Simpson had been calling at her home in an effort to see his wife, and how she was in constant fear that she was to be killed, just as her husband was killed, because she had thwarted him in his attempts to see Mrs. Simpson.

"Acted in Self-Defense."

"Mrs. Horner acted simply in self-defense," said Roland Mills, her attorney. "I am confident she will receive the applause and congratulations of the community."

COMMITTEE NOW AT BRYAN'S HOME

State Leaders Dine at Fairview and Then Retire to Pick National Chairman

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Lincoln, Neb., July 14.—The democratic national committee arrived early this morning on a special train and boarded street cars for Fairview for a pow-wow with Bryan and Kern. The two democratic nominees met the committee at the Bryan street car station and headed the procession which trudged up the long hill to the commoner's country home.

After an exchange of congratulations, the candidates and committee members adjourned to Mr. Bryan's dining room, the most spacious apartment in the house, closed the door, and got down to business.

The selection of national chairman is scarcely likely today. Prominent members of the committee favor the choice of a campaign board of nine members, to which the selection of a chairman can be assigned.

Kern Goes Home Today.

Mr. Kern leaves this afternoon for his Indianapolis home. Several of the eastern members will accompany him, but the leaders say the campaign board will stay over to outline plans for the most vigorous battle ever waged by the national democracy in a quarter of a century.

The conferences will probably continue two or three days, so that full arrangements may be concluded for an early opening of national headquarters and the prosecution of the campaign. The date, also, will be fixed for the official notification of Mr. Bryan of his nomination. This, presumably, will be in Lincoln.

MRS. FRANK J. GOULD.

Mrs. Frank J. Gould, whose photo is shown here, has stopped her suit for divorce against her husband.

MRS. MORRIS GETS OUT OF INSANE ASYLUM

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Farmington, Mo., July 14.—Mrs. Minor Morris, of St. Louis, sister of Representative Hull, of Iowa, who became conspicuous about 18 months ago through her charge that she had been ejected from the white house at the president's order and handled roughly, has escaped from the Missouri hospital for the insane at Farmington.

Mrs. Morris is of a family socially prominent in St. Louis. She was committed to the asylum about six months ago. She was improving, it was thought, yet was carefully guarded.

JUDGE TO TALK FOR CANDIDATE

Parker Offers Services to Bryan and Will Stump Outside New York State if Nebraskan Wishes Him to Do So---Says He Sees Excellent Prospect for Democrats to Carry New York--Committeemen at Fairview.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Lincoln, Neb., July 14.—3 p. m.—It has just been decided by the national committee that the formal notification shall take place at Fairview on August 12.

Lincoln, Neb., July 14.—Word was received here today that Judge Alton B. Parker would take the stump for Mr. Bryan. According to the dispatch, Judge Parker made a statement to the effect that he intended to offer his services to the democratic national committee as a campaign speaker and would devote all the time he could to making speeches. He said he would speak outside New York, but at this time could not state what places he would speak in.

Judge Parker said he believed the democrats had a good chance to carry New York this year, and that he would give his hearty support to Bryan and Kern.

From Helena, where he now is, Judge Parker will go to Livingston to meet Delancey Nicoll, of New York, and the two will spend about three weeks touring the Yellowstone.

Many of the new democratic national committeemen arrived from Denver today. They will confer with Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern as to the selection of a chairman and on other campaign matters.

TENNESSEE TOWN SEES LYNCHING

Mob Gets Hugh Jones Tried to Assault Girl, and Strings Him Up

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Memphis, Tenn., July 14.—A mob of 1,500 or more fought for the possession of Hugh Jones, a negro, who attempted to assault Miss Ora Yopp, aged 17, of Middletown, Tenn., at daybreak today. After four hours' plying the negro was strung up to a sapling tree.

The negro was captured by officers and was being brought back to Middletown when mob appeared and forced the officers to give up their prisoner. After securing the negro, some of the mob felt a change of heart and wanted to take the prisoner to Middletown and turn him over to the officers, but they were outnumbered.

Bishop Potter May Get Well.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 14.—The condition of Bishop Henry C. Potter continues to improve. The family is greatly encouraged at his chances for recovery.

Carrie Nation and Hatchet Get Busy in West Once More

Kansas Smasher Suddenly Dawns on Crowd in Chicago Auditorium and Tries to Clean Out Tables---Escorted Out By One of the "Hardened Sinners."

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Chicago, July 14.—With her trusty little hatchet and a score or more of scathing words, Mrs. Carrie Nation dropped unexpectedly into the Pom-pom room at the Auditorium and made a valiant attempt to clean the place out promptly and permanently. She left the hotel main entrance and cautiously went down Michigan avenue to another entrance.

House Detective James Cella was stationed at the entrance of the Pom-pom room and knew nothing of her movements. She slipped by him and swept down through the tables to reach an advantageous spot to deliver her lecture, which she had planned as a preparatory step to her little axe operations.

"This Is a Hell Hole."

"You sinners, sitting here drinking this filthy stuff," began Mrs. Nation, frowning upon her auditors, who gasped and wondered and moved uneasily. "This is a hell hole. You are weak—the victims of a huge beer resort, which if you don't break away

Dragged, Speaking, From Place.

Undaunted, Mrs. Nation continued her speech as she was escorted from the room. When she reached the bar she handed the bartender some salutary remarks and then was put on the elevator and taken to her room.

Mrs. Nation left for Columbus, O., where she will attend the prohibition convention tomorrow. She asserted she would return to Chicago and look the Annex over again.
