GOV. C. E. HUGHES IS RENOMINATED

Was Nominated on First Ballot of the Republican Convention

PLATFORM PROVISIONS

The Governor Was Almost Unanimously Renominated on First Ballot, James W. Wadsworth Being His Leading Opponent—Some Provisions of the Platform—Urges Support of Sound Money and Protective Tariff Doctrine—Vacancies to Occur in Supreme Court Should be Filled by Judge Taft.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Governor Charles E. Hughes was renominated on the first ballot in the republican state convention here late yesterday afternoon, receiving 827 votes. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., received 151, and Stewart 31.

William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, moved to make the nomination unanimous, which was done, and the convention adjourned at 5:30 p. m.

The provisions of the platform which refer to questions of general interest are as follows:

"At this critical time in the commercial and industrial development of the world, with a revision of our tariff and our banking and currency laws impending, we urge every believer in sound money and the American policy of protection to the wage-earner, the farmer, the manufacturer and the mechanic, to support the republican candidates who are pledged to sound money and a protective tariff.

"We believe the courts, federal and state, constitute the citadel of our liberties, for all alike, and that the vacancies in the supreme court of the United States to occur in the next few years should be filled by the trusted and experienced candidate for the presidency, rather than by an untried and unstable theorist.

"We ask all who believe in republican policies, regardless of party affiliations, to unite with us in the support of Taft and Sherman and a republican congress, to the end that the people's work, conducted so splendidly and successfully under President Roosevelt's administration may be continued and extended until all existing special privileges have been destroyed and adequate safeguards provided against future abuses.

"We endorse the administration of Governor Hughes, who has shown himself a courageous executive, resolved to accomplish what he believes to be for the public good. He has approved measures passed by a republican legislature, upholding the integrity of the constitution, maintaining the high character of the public service, providing for the proper regulation of corporations and for the protection of the people's interests.

"It is of the highest importance for the preservation of our representative form of government that primaries and conventions should truly express the will of the voters of every political party. That there may be the freest action in the selection of the delegates, we favor legislation which will fully protect every voter against fraud or coercion and secure to him the fullest opportunity to vote at his party primary."

Boy Dies From Snake Bite. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Uniontown, Pa., Sept. 16.—Harry Wallace, a sturdy nine year old Gypsy boy, gave battle to a six foot rattlesnake on the mountain near the grave of General Braddock. He killed the snake after a fearful fight and dragged its carcass in triumph to the Gypsy camp, one mile distant, but he had been bitten several times and the poison had gotten such a hold on him by the time he reached help that his life could not be saved and he died in great agony some hours later.

Vice President's Niece Marries. (By Leased Wire to The Times) Marysville, O., Sept. 16.—Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks arrived here yesterday from Indianapolis and last night attended the wedding of Miss Cornelia Cole Sellers, who is a niece of Mrs. Fairbanks, and Walter A. Sawyer, of this city. Mrs. Fairbanks was taken ill here and a physician was called to attend her, but her condition is not serious.

IRELAND WILL HAVE HOME RULE

Says John Redmond the Famous Leader of the Irish in Parliament

HER WELFARE ASSURED

Ireland is Making Great Development in Social and Educational Conditions—Irishmen in America May Well be Proud of Her—Emigration Falling Off Every Year, and Within a Few Years Will Have Stopped Entirely—Convention of United Irish League in Boston.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) New York, Sept. 16.—"Home rule for Ireland is as certain as that I now stand on the soil of freedom—as certain as the day follows the night."

This was the greeting of John Redmond, the famous leader of the Irish nationalists in the British parliament to the big crowd of Irishmen that met him on the White Star liner pier when the Oceanic reached here today.

There was a cheer, and someone shouted:

"How about a free Irish nation?" "That is not the question now," replied Mr. Redmond. "What we want now is autonomy, home rule, and that we will get. The sentiment in favor of it is growing hourly and its enemies can stop it for only a short time further."

"Ireland is making great development in social and educational conditions, and you, our transplanted brothers, may well be proud of her. Her future welfare is assured.

"The best sign of rapid improvement is the market falling off in emigration. Our countrymen are still coming here, but in smaller and smaller numbers every year, and within a few years the exodus will have stopped entirely and many will be coming back."

The wild Irish cheer rang out when Mr. Redmond ceased talking, and, with his party, he was bundled into a carriage and was escorted to the Hoffman House, where a big reception in his honor will be given tomorrow night.

Mr. Redmond, with Joseph Devlin, member of parliament, and John Fitzgibbon, president of the county council of Roscommon, is a delegate to the convention of the United Irish League, which assembles in Boston September 22 and 23. He will leave for Boston Friday and will address a big open meeting in that city on Sunday.

After the Boston convention is over Mr. Redmond will address a meeting in Philadelphia. He will then tour the west, speaking in Chicago, St. Louis and other of the larger cities.

Mrs. Redmond accompanied her husband, visiting this country for the first time in five years. Their daughter is not with them.

RAILROAD BUILDER DEAD.

Captain E. A. Maxwell, Former General Manager of S. A. L., Succumbs to Heart Disease.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) Gainesville, Ga., Sept. 16.—Captain E. A. Maxwell, former general manager of the Seaboard Air Line, of Jacksonville, Fla., died suddenly of heart disease at his summer home here this morning. Captain Maxwell was one of the most prominent railroad men in the south. He promoted and built the Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad, which later became an important part of the Seaboard system. He was 65 years old.

Umpire Attacked by Ruffians.

(By Leased Wire to The Times.) St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—As he was leaving the field after yesterday's game at Sportsmans park, Umpire Jack Sheridan was attacked by a crowd of enraged baseball fanatics. One of the ruffians struck Sheridan, who protected himself as best he could until the police dispersed the crowd.

Sheridan's decision at the plate declaring McIntyre safe with what proved to be the winning run between Detroit and the Browns, caused the trouble. Sheridan and Hurst, umpires, left the field together. They passed through the gate back of the first base and started through the crowd for their dressing room when attacked.

LATE RETURNS FROM ARKANSAS ELECTION

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 16.—Only incomplete returns from the election Monday have been received but from those received it is believed the democratic majority has been increased slightly. However, Chairman Tucker of the state republican central committee declares the republican party has made a gain of 10,000 votes in the state and claims victories in a number of localities. The latest returns from doubtful counties in the whiskey fight show about an even break for liquor and anti-liquor forces.

DR. R. C. FLOWER.

PATHETIC CASE; BOY LOSES ARM

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Chicago, Sept. 16.—"Is a boy with only one arm worth no more than a dead boy?"

It may seem remarkable that the question should be raised in this age but nevertheless it is one for judicial decision.

Joseph Bulanda, a Polish laborer, stands accused of expressing the preference for seeing his son laid away in his grave rather than come back home minus his right arm. Little "Joe," who is fourteen years old, lies near death at the county hospital and sadly remarks:

"I'd rather be dead than a bum or a beggar, and pap says I won't be able to work and support him in his old age if I lose my right arm."

The youthful patient, taken to the hospital August 17 suffering from a compound fracture of the arm, has become infected with blood poison and is said to have no chance for recovery without the amputation of his arm, but through the refusal of the father to consent the authorities have been obliged to stand idly by.

When the facts were laid before Judge Tutthill late yesterday afternoon, he remarked:

"The boy is a ward of the court. Let a couple of reputable physicians show me that the boy's life can be saved by amputating that arm and the arm will come off. I don't need the legislature to tell me whether to cross my T's and dot my I's."

COW COUGHED UP.

Swallowed Politician's Horse Net But Had to Disgorge. (By Leased Wire to The Times.) Princeton, Ind., Sept. 16.—The opening democratic rally in Princeton yesterday evening was delayed half an hour by a cow swallowing the fly net of the horse of County Chairman Ballard, who was to escort Thomas Marshall, candidate for governor, to the opera house.

Ballard laid the net on the ground as he hitched up, and when he turned to get it the cow was leisurely swallowing the last of it. The county chairman grabbed the end and after thirty minutes of kicking and pounding and jerking he pulled the entire net unharmed out of the cow and then proceeded to haul the speaker to the theatre.

Mrs. Hagaman And Confederates.

THEODORE HAGAMAN.

The trouble of Dr. R. C. Flower and the widow of the late Theodore Hagaman, who was mysteriously killed at the Waldorf-Astoria some years ago, are again occupying the columns of the newspapers of the country. They were in collision with the police at Richmond, Va. The former Mrs. Hagaman is now Mrs. H. F. Lindsey and confessed to the Virginia detectives the she unconsciously financed the operation of a band of baggage robbers, of which Flower is said to have been the head. At the left is a picture of Flower and below is a picture of Hagaman, whose widow Mrs. Lindsey claims to be.

THE DRY ELEMENT DEFEATED IN DEL.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Dover, Del., Sept. 16.—The democratic state convention yesterday nominated for governor, Dr. Rowland G. Paynter, of Sussex; for lieutenant-governor, Frank Hardesty, Kent.

The "dry" element fought hard to prevent the nomination of Dr. Paynter for governor, but was unsuccessful. The same element made a determined effort to secure the nomination of Alexander Daly, of Dover, for attorney-general, but again was defeated. Mr. Gray, who was named for attorney-general, is a son of Judge George Gray.

Body of Girl Found Floating in Water

(By Leased Wire to The Times) New York, Sept. 16.—The body of a beautiful young girl about 19 years of age, handsomely gowned in goods of excellent texture, was found today floating in Bowery Bay, near Deutchman's bathing pavilion, North Beach.

CONFIDENCE IS VERY NECESSARY

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Confidence in the institutions of the country and co-operation between business interests and labor are necessary to restore prosperity and develop the country's natural resources to the limit according to B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island and "Frisco" system.

Mr. Yoakum was in Chicago attending the preliminary organization meetings of the American Railway Employees and Investors' Association, the primary purpose of which is to secure the co-operation which he deems essential. Before leaving the city he said:

"This country needs a return of confidence in its institutions and in its securities on the part of the investing public. By the investing public I do not mean only our own investors but those all over the world, who have looked to America for investment in securities. Soon or late this country must return to its great work of construction and upbuilding."

MORSE IS ON HIS FEET ONCE MORE

(By Leased Wire to The Times.)

New York, Sept. 16.—Charles W. Morse is on his feet again. Depositors in his two banks will be paid in full and there will be money left for the stockholders. The receivers, who have apparently bitterly antagonized the former ice and steamboat king, give to his all the credit, and he modestly passes it on to a few loyal friends.

They advanced money that enabled him to pay off the numerous depositors and protect his securities till the panic was over, so to the amazement of Morgan and Rockefeller and the other owners of the resources of the American republics, the little wizard from Maine is up again. He is just a bit groggy, but is on his feet. His fight is without parallel in financial history. His winning the first battle in arranging for the paying off of every depositor in the National Bank of North America and the New Amsterdam National Bank is only the opening of his great campaign to regain his former position as an industrial monarch.

CHANLER WILL BE THE NOMINEE

New York Democrats Unite on Lieutenant Governor to Head the Ticket

M'CARREN FOR HARMONY

Strength of Dutchess County Man Swept the Delegates Into His Fold and Nomination Was Made by Acclamation—Balance of the Ticket. Agreement Has Been Reached Between Connors and McCarren and They Will Work Together—Enthusiastic Assemblage.

(By Leased Wire to The Times)

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Lieutenant-Governor Chanler was nominated for governor this afternoon by acclamation, and John A. Dix for lieutenant-governor, also by acclamation.

No Contests.

At 11:23 Chairman Farley, of Broome, read the report of the committee on credentials. He stated that he doubted if ever a committee on contested seats ever had made such a harmonious and speedy meeting.

"There is not a single contest to be submitted," said Mr. Farley, while the delegates shrieked their appreciation.

On Mr. Farley's motion the report was adopted unanimously.

The committee on permanent organization reported the name of Judge Parker for permanent chairman, amid many cheers and more music.

This report was also unanimously adopted.

Judge O'Brien named Lewis F. Nixon, of New York and William H. Fitzpatrick, of Erie, as a committee to escort Judge Parker to the platform in introducing Judge Parker as permanent chairman he said:

"He was our standard-bearer four years ago and has endeavored himself to the hearts of the democratic people."

The audience arose and gave Judge Parker a hearty welcome.

The completed ticket probably will be as follows:

Governor—Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, of Dutchess.

Lieut.-Governor—John A. Dix, of Washington.

Attorney-General—Geo. M. Palmer, of Schoharie.

Secretary of State—John S. Whalen, of Monroe.

Comptroller—Martin H. Glynn, of Albany.

State Treasurer—Julius Hauser, of Suffolk.

State Engineer and Surveyor—G. A. Ricker or William R. Hull, of Onondaga; probably the latter.

Judge of Court of Appeals—Albert Haigt, of Erie (republican).

From early last evening until 2 o'clock this morning Leaders Murphy, Cohalan, Connors, and Mack were in conference regarding the gubernatorial situation.

Mr. Connors also had consultations with Senator McCarren, who did not attend the conference in Tammany's headquarters. It was apparent from the talk in the air that some agreement has been reached between Murphy and McCarren which would leave no difference between them, temporarily at least.

One of the conspicuous figures at the convention today will be Senator Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma.

Mr. Gore is here to talk with W. J. Bryan, who will reach Rochester late this afternoon. The arrangements for Mr. Bryan's reception have been worked out on a stupendous scale.

Welch Defeats Carsey.

(By Leased Wire to The Times) Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 16.—Freddie Welch, England's champion lightweight, knocked out Frank Carsey with a heavy right to the jaw in the fourth round of what was scheduled as a ten round bout at Naud Junction last night.

Welch disproved the oft-repeated assertion that he is lacking in the punch necessary to knock out the tough ones. Carsey was outclassed all the way and from the gong was so busy covering that he had no time to lead and thus he did not put a glove on the speedy lad from Wales.
