

A BRILLIANT DISPLAY

Latest Styles Are Shown By Boylan-Pearce Co.

Hundreds of the Fair Sex Visit the Brilliant Opening Today—Hats Described in Style and Beauty. Store Wears Gala Dress.

The season of hats is upon us again. They are here in all sizes, shapes and colors, big hats and small hats, Directoire hats and Sheath hats, everything the feminine heart could desire.

They are being shown at Boylan-Pearce & Co. today. The opening will continue through Wednesday, giving all the ladies of Raleigh a chance of visiting the millinery salon and viewing the new creations. Throngs have been attending the opening all day and many expressions of delight have been heard at the beauty of the new fall styles.

The large hats are still the favorites, though the very small hats are very stylish.

Some of the creations deserve especial mention as they are attracting a great deal of notice. The opera bonnet is something new in Raleigh. It will take the lead this season instead of the opera scarf. Of pink-tucked chiffon and satin, it presents a striking effect.

One of the most stylish shapes is the Madame Tyrone. This is a very large black hat with large white willow plumes and a trimming of fringe. The long scarf is brought around the neck, making one of the swellest hats of the season.

Another very stylish hat is the large Salome shape with a trimming of crinkled velvet soucha, brail, black plumes and large jet cabochones.

A hat of somewhat different style is of Canard blue shading to Sapphire with a draped crown of velvet with a huge buckle.

Among the small hats is a little Sheath hat on the order of a box-turban. A pretty little effect of points of bias satin is used around the crown, with a trimming of white plumes on the right side.

One of the most striking hats on display is of white real lace, edged with bias black bands, with black velvet crown. There is a white willow plume on the side with a bow effect of the same across the front. The back is filled in with boxplaited white maline with a mammoth rhinestone buckle. These buckles are proving very stylish and are seen on many of the hats.

An especially beautiful creation is a pink evening hat with breznaline silk top and black velvet facing. The trimming is of pink chiffon roses with pink and lavender velvet fastened on the side by a brilliant buckle.

One of the newest shades that is being used a great deal is taupe. There is a stylish hat in taupe satin with velvet bias bands on the brim and a Pocahontas band headed by grieves around the crown. There is a trimming of sapphire and taupe ribbon and a mammoth gun metal buckle.

There is a varied display of mourning hats. One is a large silk shape with a crepe bow on the side, and dull jet ornaments. The veil of Brussels' net edged with crepe is draped from the top of the crown.

A stylish walking hat is the Georgette sailor of white French felt with a facing of golden brown. It is trimmed with a white silk and satin scarf with white fringe.

Among the new shades are the sapphire, taupe, amethyst, coral, catwbe, and canard.

Misses Phillips and their able assistants have proved themselves artists in their line. Creations from their own work room are shown along with the New York and Parisian models. The whole store is in gala attire the millinery parlor is tastefully decorated in fall flowers and palms. No one should miss seeing the display.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT BLOOD HUMORS

The skin is not simply an outer covering of the body, but through its thousands of pores and glands it performs the great and necessary work of regulating our temperatures, and also assists in disposing of the refuse and waste matters of the system by the constant evaporation that goes on through these little tubes. To perform these duties the tissues and fibres which connect and surround the pores and glands must be continually nourished by pure blood. When from any cause the circulation becomes infected with impurities and humors, it loses its strengthening powers and begins to disease and irritate the delicate tissues, and produces Eczema, Acne, Tetter, or some other itching, disfiguring skin trouble. S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every kind by going down into the circulation and neutralizing and removing the impurities and humors. It changes the quality of the blood from an acid, fiery fluid to a cooling, health-producing stream, which, instead of irritating and inflaming the skin, cures and nourishes it by its soothing, healthful qualities. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may be used for any temporary comfort or cleanliness they afford, but skin diseases cannot be cured until S. S. S. has purified the blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice sent free.

WOOLLCOTT'S OPENING: STYLISH FALL HATS

The millinery parlor of the Woolcott Dry Goods Company is beautifully decorated today in honor of their Fall Millinery Opening.

Miss Clara Womble, the accomplished and experienced milliner, is showing a handsome and varied display of the season's latest styles in head-wear. Most of the hats are creations of the work-room, that have been copied from the latest Paris models, without the enormous cost of imported hats, yet still possessing the dash and style of the models.

Buckles and feathers are holding a large place in this season's styles. While the shades, "London smoke," taupe, and Copenhagen are proving most popular, black will be used a great deal.

Among the favorite shapes are the Charlotte Corday, muchroom, Gainsboro, Lady Gay, Princess, Marlow, and Tudor hats.

Miss Womble is showing a large line of children's hats, one, in the Charlotte Corday shape, with big bow at the back, is very pretty. Another striking effect is of "London smoke" with garnet wings, plaid ribbon and large buckle. There is a large stock of children's caps in velvet and bear skin and a pretty line of baby caps, as well as new fancy feathers and ribbons.

One hat that is attracting a great deal of attention is a black satin with white facing, with Pocahontas band and wings with jet ornaments.

Another striking hat is of lavender velvet with green trimmings and coque feathers.

A number of the handsomest and most stylish creations are shown in the new window, which is tastefully decorated for the occasion. The opening will continue through Wednesday and all the ladies of Raleigh are cordially invited to attend.

His Father Was Doing Well.

The Musical Home Journal of London tells a story of George Grossmith and the income tax authorities. Long after his father's death the commissioners, by mistake, sent the young Grossmith a notice assessing the income of the deceased at $10,000. Mr. Grossmith returned the document to the proper quarter, with the following note written across it: "I am glad to learn my father is doing so well in the next world: $10,000 is a great deal more than he ever made in this. Kindly forward this notice to his new address, and remember me affectionately to him."—New York Tribune.
